From Dublin Castle To Stormont The Memoirs Of Andrew Philip Magill 1913-1925 Irish Narrative Series:

Irish Political Prisoners 1920-1962 Sean McConville, 2020-04-23 Irish Political Prisoners presents a detailed and gripping overview of political imprisonment from 1920-1962. Sean McConville examines the years from the formation of the Northern Ireland state to the release of the last border campaign prisoners in 1962. Drawing extensively and in many cases uniquely on archives and special collections in the three jurisdictions and interviews with survivors from the period, McConville demonstrates how punishment came to embody and shape the nationalist consciousness. Irish Political Prisoners 1920-1962 commences with the legacy of the Anglo-Irish and Irish Civil Wars, militancy, division and bitterness. The book travels from the embedding of Northern Ireland's security agenda in the 1920s and the IRA's search for a role in the 1930s including the 1939 bombing campaign against Britain to the decisive use of internment during the war and the border campaign years. This volume will be an essential resource for students of Irish history and is a major contribution to the study of imprisonment.

Historical Dictionary of Ireland Frank A. Bilezikian, 2013-11-14 All places undergo change but in few has this change been quite as sweeping as Ireland. Both the independent Republic of Ireland and dependent Northern Ireland so it is good to see where it is heading at present. Obviously that has to be judged on the background of where it is coming from not only over the past decade or so but over centuries and indeed millennia. This new edition of Historical Dictionary of Ireland is an excellent resource for discovering the history of Ireland. This is done through a chronology, an introductory essay and an extensive bibliography. The cross-referenced dictionary section has over 600 entries on significant persons, places and events, political parties and institutions including the Catholic Church. With period forays into literature, music and the arts. This book is an excellent resource for students, researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Ireland.

From Dublin Castle to Stormont Andrew Philip Magill, 2003 This previously unpublished memoir of a senior civil servant based in Dublin, London and Belfast gives invaluable and unique insight into the conflicts associated with Home Rule, revolution and partition. A.P. Magill 1871-1941 was born in Dublin of mixed Ulster and Swiss descent. After a varied career in the Irish civil service he moved to the Ministry of Home Affairs in Northern Ireland before resigning prematurely in 1925. As private secretary to Augustine Birrell, the Chief Secretary whose resignation was prompted by the 1916 Rising, Magill was well placed to observe the often bizarre workings of the pre-revolutionary Irish administration. His subsequent postings in Dublin and Belfast likewise made him an invaluable witness of conflicts associated with revolution and partition. Magill's unpublished memoirs provide unique insights into the problems and personalities he encountered as a senior civil official. They are also entertaining, anecdotal and bristling with unexpected information about prominent politicians and administrators. These selections for the troubled period between 1913 and 1925, edited by Magill's great nephew, recreate the atmosphere and color of the revolutionary period from a revealing but unfamiliar perspective.
