From Dublin To New Orleans Nora And Alices Journey To America 1889:

From Dublin to New Orleans Suellen M. Hoy, Margaret MacCurtain, 1994 In 1889 two young girls left the relative security of their convent boarding school in Dublin to embark on a journey into the unknown The diaries they kept of that journey and their new lives as Dominican nuns forms the basis of this book A riveting read Louisiana History Florence M. Jumonville, 2002-08-30 From the accounts of 18th century travelers to the interpretations of 21st century historians Jumonville lists more than 6 800 books chapters articles theses dissertations and government documents that describe the rich history of America s 18th state Here are references to sources on the Louisiana Purchase the Battle of New Orleans Carnival and Cajuns Less explored topics such as the rebellion of 1768 the changing roles of women and civic development are also covered It is a sweeping guide to the publications that best illuminate the land the people and the multifaceted history of the Pelican State Arranged according to discipline and time period chapters cover such topics as the environment the Civil War and Reconstruction social and cultural history the people of Louisiana local parish and sectional histories and New Orleans It also lists major historical sites and repositories of primary materials As the only comprehensive bibliography of the secondary sources about the state Louisiana History R is an invaluable resource for scholars and researchers

Making the Irish American J.J. Lee, Marion R. Casey, 2007-03 Explores the history of the Irish in America offering an overview of Irish history immigration to the United States and the transition of the Irish from the working class to all levels of society Social change and everyday life in Ireland, 1850-1922 Caitriona Clear, 2013-07-19 Men and women who were born grew up and died in Ireland between 1850 and 1922 made decisions to train to emigrate to stay at home to marry to stay single to stay at school based on the knowledge and resources they had at the time This the first comprehensive social history of Ireland for the years 1850 1922 to appear since 1981 tries to understand that knowledge and to discuss those resources for men and women at all social levels on the island as a whole Original research particularly on extreme poverty and public health is supplemented by neglected published sources local history journals popular autobiography newspapers Folklore and Irish language sources are used extensively All recent scholarly books in Irish social history are of course referred to throughout the book but it is a lively read reproducing the voices of the people and the stories of individuals whenever it can questioning much of the accepted wisdom of Irish historiography over the past five decades Statistics are used from time to time for illustrative purposes but tables and graphs are consigned to the appendix at the back There are some illustrations An idea summary for the student loaded with prompts for future research this book is written in a non cliched jargon free style aimed at the general reader The Field Day Anthology of Irish Writing Seamus Deane, Andrew Carpenter, Angela Bourke, Jonathan Williams, 1991 Two Irelands Rebecca Pelan, 2005-06-27 The very different histories of the North and South are reflected in their literature While women in the Republic of Ireland have tended to write about social issues sexism crime unemployment and domestic violence women in Northern Ireland focused on their society s historical tension and primarily nationalist and unionist politics However Pelan maintains that feminist ideology has provided contemporary Irish women with an alternate political stance that incorporates gender and nationality ethnicity and allows them to move beyond the usual binaries of politics history and language Irish and English In an analysis enriched by a sophisticated but accessible engagement with contemporary feminist and gender theory Pelan concludes that Irish women s writing whether at the community or mainstream level North or South consistently articulates political issues of direct relevance to the lives of Irish women today As a result such work retains close links with the initial impetus of the second wave of feminism as a political movement and questions the legitimacy of long standing social religious and political conventions From within the framework provided by this second wave argues Pelan Irish women can critique certain masculine ideologies nationalist unionist imperialist and capitalist without forfeiting their own sense of gender and national or ethnic identity The book s significance lies in its placement of women s writing in the center of contemporary political discourse in Ireland and in ensuring that the writing from this period much of it long out of print continues to exist as sociological as well as literary records It will be of interest to a general and scholarly audience especially those in the fields of contemporary Irish writing feminism and literary history Respectability and Reform Tara M. McCarthy, 2018-04-02

In the late nineteenth century an era in which women were expanding the influence outside the home Irish American women carved out unique opportunities to serve the needs of their communities For many women this began with a commitment to Irish nationalism In Respectability and Reform McCarthy explores the contributions of a small group of Irish American women in the Gilded Age and Progressive Era who emerged as leaders organizers and activists Profiles of these women suggest not only that Irish American women had a political tradition of their own but also that the diversity of the Irish American community fostered a range of priorities and approaches to activism McCarthy focuses on three movements the Irish nationalist movement the labor movement and the suffrage movement to trace the development of women s political roles Highlighting familiar activists such as Fanny and Anna Parnell as well as many lesser known suffragists McCarthy sheds light on the range of economic and social backgrounds found among the activists She also shows that Irish American women s commitment to social justice persisted from the Land War through the World War I era In unearthing the rich and varied stories of these Irish American women Respectability and Reform deepens our understanding of their intersection with and contribution to the larger context of American women s activism Catholicism: A Global History from the French Revolution to Pope Francis John T. McGreevy, 2022-09-06 A magisterial history of the centuries long conflict between progress and tradition in the world s largest international institution The story of Roman Catholicism has never followed a singular path In no time period has this been more true than over the last two centuries Beginning with the French Revolution extending to the Second Vatican Council in the 1960s and concluding with present day crises John T McGreevy chronicles the dramatic upheavals and internal divisions shaping the most multicultural multilingual and global institution in the world Through powerful individual stories and sweeping birds eye views Catholicism provides a mesmerizing assessment of the Church s complex role in modern history both shaper and follower of the politics of nation states both conservator of hierarchies and evangelizer of egalitarianism McGreevy documents the hopes and ambitions of European missionaries building churches and schools in all corners of the world African Catholics fighting for political and religious independence Latin American Catholics attracted to a theology of liberation and Polish and South Korean Catholics demanding democratic governments He includes a vast cast of riveting characters known and unknown including the Mexican revolutionary Fr Servando Teresa de Mier Daniel O Connell hero of Irish emancipation Sr Josephine Bakhita a formerly enslaved Sudanese nun Chinese statesman Ma Xiaobang French philosopher and reformer Jacques Maritain German Jewish philosopher and convert Edith Stein John Paul II Polish pope and opponent of communism Gustavo Guti rrez Peruvian founder of liberation theology and French American patron of modern art Dominique de Menil Throughout this essential volume McGreevy details currents of reform within the Church as well as movements protective of traditional customs and beliefs Conflicts with political leaders and a devotional revival in the nineteenth century the experiences of decolonization after World War II and the Second Vatican Council in the twentieth century and the trauma of clerical sexual abuse in the twenty first all demonstrate how religion shapes our modern world Finally McGreevy addresses the challenges faced by Pope Francis as he struggles to unite the over one billion members of the world s largest religious community
