The Ethics of Food Gregory E. Pence,2002 Food makes philosophers of us all Death does the same but death comes only once and choices about food come many times each day In The Ethics of Food Gregory E Pence brings together a collection of voices who share the view that the ethics of genetically modified food is among the most pressing societal questions of our time This comprehensive collection addresses a broad range of subjects including the meaning of food moral analyses of vegetarianism and starvation the safety and environmental risks of genetically modified food issues of global food politics and the food industry and the relationships among food evolution and human history Will genetically modified food feed the poor or destroy the environment Is it a threat to our health Is the assumed healthfulness of organic food a myth or a reality The answers to these and other questions are engagingly pursued in this substantive collection the first of its kind to address the broad range of philosophical sociological political scientific and technological issues surrounding the ethics of food Food and Wine Magazine Offwine Guide 1999
