Global Activism in Food Politics A. Mann, 2014-05-01 Who should provide food and through what relationships Whose livelihoods should be protected For over 20 years the peasant farmers of La Via Campesina have been engaged in the fight against injustice hunger and poverty under the banner of food sovereignty the right of peoples to healthy and culturally appropriate food produced through ecologically sound and sustainable methods and their right to define their own food and agriculture systems They campaign for healthy sustainable alternatives to an industrial food system controlled by agribusiness companies and the architects of unfair trade agreements This book draws on grounded case studies of agrarian movements in the Americas and Europe as exemplars of a power shift as local opposition scales up to global action in an effort to wrest control of our food away from transnational corporations and back to communities

The SAGE Handbook of Social Geographies Susan Smith, 2010 With clarity and confidence this vibrant volume summons up the social in geography in ways that will excite students and scholars alike Here the social is populated not only by society but by culture nature economy and politics Kay Anderson University of Western Sydney This is a remarkable collection full of intellectual gems It not only summarises the field of social geography and restates its importance but also produces a manifesto for how the field should look in the future Nigel Thrift Vice Chancellor University of Warwick The book aims to be accessible to students and specialists alike Its success lies in emphasizing the crossovers between geography and social studies The good editorial work is evident and the participating contributors are well established scholars in their respective fields Miron M Denan Geography Research Forum An excellent handbook that will attract a diversity of readers It will inspire undergraduate postgraduate students and stimulate lecturers researchers interested in the complexity and diversity of the social realm As the first of its kind in the sub discipline it is a book that is enjoyable to read and will definitely add value to a personal or library collection Michele Lobo New Zealand Geographer The social relations of difference from race and class to gender and inequality are at the heart of the concept of social geography This handbook reconsiders and redirects research in the discipline while examining the changing ideas of individuals and their relationship with structures of power Organised into five sections the SAGE Handbook of Social Geographies maps out the connections anchored in social geography Difference and Diversity builds on enduring ideas of the structuring of social relations and examines the ruptures and rifts and continuities and connections around social divisions Geographies and Social Economies rethinks the sociality subjectivity and placement of money markets price and value Geographies of Wellbeing builds from a foundation of work on the spaces of fear anxiety and disease towards newer concerns with geographies of health resilience and contentment Geographies of Social Justice connects ideas through an examination of the possibilities and practicalities of normative theory and frames the central notion of Social geography that things always could and should be different Doing Social Geography is not exploring the how to of research but rather the entanglement of it with practicalities moralities and politics This will be an essential resource for academics researchers practitioners and postgraduates across human geography

Voice and Participation in Global Food Politics Alana Mann, 2019-04-05 As awareness of the commodification of food for profit at the expense of our health and the planet grows this book foregrounds the communicative dimensions of resistance by food movements Voice and participation are argued by the author to be the means through which rural and urban communities can and in many cases do resist the capture of value by corporate actors and work to democratise their foodscapes Her critical analysis of meaning making under neo liberalism suggests that agroecology as a socially activating form of agriculture within a food sovereignty framework provides an example of social learning relevant across rural urban and North South divides Embracing indigenous knowledge gender equity and postcolonial theory this approach mobilises growers and eaters to contest the power structures that shape their food environments and also to focus on social and economic justice within their communities particularly in the context of climate change Participatory ecologies that incorporate these forms of social learning encourage the co creation of inclusive foodscapes and politicise food justice Such a positive framing of resistance through horizontal pedagogy participation communication and social learning processes contrasts with the vertical dissemination structure of the corporatised food regime and takes vital steps towards a more democratic food system Voice and Participation in Global Food Politics will be of interest to scholars of agri food transdisciplinary food studies and political economy of food systems It will also be of relevance to NGOs and policymakers Family Farms: Survival and Prospect Harold Brookfield,Helen Parsons,2007-11-08
