Trust Us, We're Experts PA Sheldon Rampton,John Stauber,2002-01-14 The authors of Toxic Sludge Is Good for You unmask the sneaky and widespread methods industry uses to influence opinion through bogus experts doctored data and manufactured facts We count on the experts We count on them to tell us who to vote for what to eat how to raise our children We watch them on TV listen to them on the radio read their opinions in magazine and newspaper articles and letters to the editor We trust them to tell us what to think because there s too much information out there and not enough hours in a day to sort it all out We should stop trusting them right this second In their new book Trust Us We re Experts How Industry Manipulates Science and Gambles with Your Future Sheldon Rampton and John Stauber authors of Toxic Sludge Is Good For You offer a chilling expos on the manufacturing of independent experts Public relations firms and corporations know well how to exploit your trust to get you to buy what they have to sell Let you hear it from a neutral third party like a professor or a pediatrician or a soccer mom or a watchdog group The problem is these third parties are usually anything but neutral They have been handpicked cultivated and meticulously packaged in order to make you believe what they have to say preferably in an objective format like a news show or a letter to the editor And in some cases they have been paid handsomely for their opinions For example You think that nonprofit organizations just give away their stamps of approval on products Bristol Myers Squibb paid 600 000 to the American Heart Association for the right to display AHA s name and logo in ads for its cholesterol lowering drug Pravachol SmithKline Beecham paid the American Cancer Society 1 million for the right to use its logo in ads for Beecham s Nicoderm CQ and Nicorette anti smoking ads You think that a study out of a prestigious university is completely unbiased In 1997 Georgetown University s Credit Research Center issued a study which concluded that many debtors are using bankruptcy as an excuse to wriggle out of their obligations to creditors Former U S Treasury Secretary

Lloyd Bentsen cited the study in a Washington Times column and advocated for changes in federal law to make it harder for consumers to file for bankruptcy relief What Bentsen failed to mention was that the Credit Research Center is funded in its entirety by credit card companies banks retailers and others in the credit industry that the study itself was produced with a 100 000 grant from VISA USA Inc and MasterCard International and that Bentsen himself had been hired to work as a credit industry lobbyist You think that all grassroots organizations are truly grassroots In 1993 a group called Mothers Opposing Pollution MOP appeared calling itself the largest women s environmental group in Australia with thousands of supporters across the country Their cause A campaign against plastic milk bottles It turned out that the group s spokesperson Alana Maloney was in truth a woman named Janet Rundle the business partner of a man who did P R for the Association of Liquidpaperboard Carton Manufacturers the makers of paper milk cartons You think that if a scientist says so it must be true In the early 1990s tobacco companies secretly paid thirteen scientists a total of 156 000 to write a few letters to influential medical journals One biostatistician received 10 000 for writing a single eight paragraph letter that was published in the Journal of the American Medical Association A cancer researcher received 20 137 for writing four letters and an opinion piece to the Lancet the Journal of the National Cancer Institute and The Wall Street Journal Rampton and Sta

State Violence and the Right to Peace Kathleen Malley-Morrison, 2009-10-22 A thought provoking revelation of the ways ordinary people conquerors and conquered imperialists and the colonized Christians Jews and Muslims think about war and peace Filled with personal reflections from every corner of the globe State Violence and the Right to Peace An International Survey of the Views of Ordinary People is a masterful portrayal of how people from diverse cultures religions and experiences think about war and peace Spanning four volumes State Violence and the Right to Peace brings together the views of shopkeepers day laborers clerical workers students teachers social workers veterans and others talking about governmental aggression torture and protesting acts of war These views from Europe North America South America the Middle East Africa and Asia are seen in the context of major historical battles including the empire building of Western European countries the emergence and contraction of the Soviet Union and the wars in the Middle East As this remarkable resource shows there are some surprising similarities in thinking about war and peace across nations and cultures and some equally surprising cases where opinions diverge

Understanding Environmental Pollution Marquita K. Hill, 2004-08-26 Understanding Environmental Pollution systematically introduces pollution issues to students and others with little scientific background The first edition received excellent reviews and the new edition has been completely refined and updated The book moves from the definition of pollution and how pollutants behave to air and water pollution basics pollution and global change solid waste and pollution in the home It also discusses persistent and bioaccumulative chemicals and pesticides and it places greater stress on global pollutants The relationship between energy generation and use and pollution is stressed as well as the importance of going beyond pollution control to pollution prevention Impacts on human and environmental health are emphasized throughout Students are often invited to come to their own conclusions after having been presented with a variety of opinions This textbook provides the basic concepts of pollution toxicology and risk assessment for non science majors as well as environmental science students

Governing the Transatlantic Conflict over Agricultural Biotechnology Joseph Murphy, Les Levidow, 2007-01-24 Delays in approving genetically modified crops and foods in the European Union have led to a high profile trade conflict with the United States This book analyses the EU US conflict and uses it as a case study to explore the governance of new technologies The transatlantic conflict over GM crops and food has been widely attributed to regulatory differences that divide the EU and the US Going beyond common stereotypes of these differences and their origins this book analyses the conflict through contending coalitions of policy actors operating across the Atlantic Governing the Transatlantic Conflict over Agricultural Biotechnology focuses on interactions between the EU and the US rather than on EU US comparisons Drawing on original research and interviews with key policy actors the book shows how EU US efforts to harmonise regulations for agricultural biotechnology created the context in which activists could generate a backlash against the technology In this new context regulations were shaped along different lines Joseph Murphy and Les Levidow provide new insights by elaborating critical perspectives on global governance issue framing standard setting and regulatory science This accessible book will appeal to undergraduate and post graduate students academics and policy makers working on a wide range of issues covered by political science policy studies international relations economics geography business management environmental and development studies science and technology studies
