Sustainable Food Networks: Chains of Values and Food Transitions Carolina Yacamán-Ochoa,José Luis Sánchez-Hernández ,Javier Sanz-Cañada,2025-06-12 Sustainable Food Networks SFNs are emerging as pivotal value chains for agroecological and food transitions in both urban and rural territories These networks aim to create a healthy fair localized and inclusive food supply model standing in contrast to the dominant corporate food system characterized by long haul complex and fragile supply chains Despite their potential SFNs such as community supported agriculture farmers markets and urban agriculture have not been thoroughly examined through the lens of economic geography and related interdisciplinary perspectives The current globalized food system is fraught with economic social and environmental issues including the marginalization of family farming environmental degradation and the loss of local knowledge and biodiversity SFNs offer a critical alternative by emphasizing small batch production environmental sustainability and social equity yet there remains a significant gap in understanding their full impact and potential This research topic aims to collate comprehensive research on Sustainable Food Networks SFNs with specific objectives identifying various SFN initiatives across different territories evaluating their spatial dimensions in global contexts and assessing policies that can enhance the social economic and environmental sustainability of food value chains Key questions include how alternative values are propagated within SFNs the critical spatial nodes for these values the role of urban and peri urban agriculture and the interplay between territorial conditions and SFN performance Additionally the research seeks to understand how SFNs compete with hegemonic value chains and the potential role of public policy in strengthening these networks To gather further insights into the complexities and potentials of SFNs we welcome articles addressing but not limited to the following themes The propagation and transfer of alternative values within SFNs Identification of critical spatial nodes for the reproduction of these values Roles of urban and peri urban agriculture in SFNs Relationships between territorial conditions governance and SFN performance Strategies employed by SFNs to tackle competition from corporate value chains The impact of SFNs on the surge of local organic and healthy food outlets The role of public policy in supporting and strengthening SFNs

The Grow Your Own Food Handbook Monte Burch, 2014-04-01 Growing your own food is a hot topic today because of the high cost of transporting food long distances the heightened problem of diseases caused by commercially grown foods concerns of the overuse of chemicals in mass food production and the uncertain health effects of GMOs Many people from White House executives to inner city kids have recently discovered the benefits of homegrown vegetables and fruits Community gardens and even community canning centers are increasingly popular and have turned roof top gardening into a great and healthy food source And on a smaller scale some plants can even be grown in containers for the smallest backyard or patio The possibilities for growing your own food are endless The Grow Your Own Food Handbook informs you how to grow all types of vegetables fruits and even grains on your own land or in any small space available to you and your family Also included is information on specific health benefits vitamins and minerals for each food as well as detailed instructions for fall and winter food growing Learn how to grow for your family harvest and store all types of home grown produce and find joy in eating foods planted with your own hands

Medicine Wheel for the Planet Jennifer Grenz, 2024-05-28 A personal journey of bringing together Western science and Indigenous ecology to transform our understanding of the human role in healing our planet I used to be an ecologist Now I am a community gatherer working to help bring healing beyond just the land I am a story listener I am a storyteller I am a shaper of ecosystems I work on bringing communities together in circle to listen to each other A farm kid at heart and a Nlaka pamux woman of mixed ancestry Dr Jennifer Grenz always felt a deep connection to the land However after nearly two decades of working as a restoration ecologist in the Pacific Northwest she became frustrated that despite the best efforts of her colleagues and numerous volunteers they weren't making the meaningful change needed for plant animal and human communities to adapt to a warming climate Restoration ecology is grounded in an idea that we must return the natural world to an untouched pristine state placing humans in a godlike role a notion at odds with Indigenous histories of purposeful reciprocal interaction with the environment This disconnect sent Dr Grenz on a personal journey of joining her head Western science and her heart Indigenous worldview to find a truer path toward ecological healing In Medicine Wheel for the Planet building on sacred stories field observations and her own journey Dr Grenz invites readers to share in the teachings of the four directions of the medicine wheel the North which draws upon the knowledge and wisdom of elders the East where we let go of colonial narratives and see with fresh eyes the South where we apply new old worldviews to envision a way forward and the West where a relational approach to land reconciliation is realized Eloquent inspiring and disruptive Medicine Wheel for the Planet circles around an argument that we need more than a singular worldview to protect the planet and make the significant changes we are running out of time for *U.S. Trotskyism 1928-1965.
