For A Very Special Person:

A Sensory Curriculum for Very Special People Flo Longhorn, 2011-09-12 This uniquely valuable book arose from the author's work with profoundly disabled children in a special needs school. The sensory impairment of the children meant that they were unable to learn from traditional teaching methods as they were unaware of the world around them. Our very first awareness of our surroundings and ourselves come through our senses of smell, touch, taste, sight, hearing, and movement, and without them we are isolated. To benefit from the normal school curriculum, children with sensory impairment must learn to develop each of their senses individually and in combination, a process the non-handicapped child goes through spontaneously and unconsciously. This book outlines a curriculum for each of the senses in turn, using stimuli that can be varied to suit the age of the child or young person. Demonstrating how these can be combined to create a multisensory experience and how this newly developed awareness can be integrated into the rest of the school curriculum. This book was developed from the author's work with profoundly disabled children; their sensory impairment meant that traditional teaching was unsuccessful as they were unaware of the world around them. Flo Longhorn sets out a curriculum for developing each sense both individually and in combination, using stimuli that can be varied according to the age of the child. This book shows how these techniques can be amalgamated to create multisensory experiences and how this new awareness can be integrated into the rest of the school curriculum. Designed for teachers and parents of children with profound multiple disabilities combined with sensory and physical impairment, this has become a classic work.

God's Very Special People Julia Mack, 2007 Someone that is very special to your children has just died. What can you put in their hands to help them understand? Julia Mack created God's Very Special People as a hands-on activity to walk children through the concepts of death and going to heaven. It gives answers to questions like why people have to die, why they died now, and what is going on in heaven. Reaching out to grieving children is the mission of God's Very Special People. In the midst of questions and sadness over the death of a loved one, this activity book brings joy, peace, and understanding to children about God's love for all and heaven as God's special place for Christians to be together again. Rev. Ron Miller, Redeemer Lutheran Church, Peoria, IL.

right She never showed any signs that she could be intimidated and only in one instance showed that she had any weakness at all when she cried out No my lord Man of god do not lie to your maidservant NKJV revealing a deep hurt that she alone carried She was simply a very special person in her own right who along with the actions of a prophet of god was brought into the pages of history The more I read her story the more I was able to see between the lines and see the panorama of her life and trials She was special and had an indomitable personality she was strong and wise at the same time She was bold and accounting for the times and the culture audacious Her story was well worth telling and I am honored to do so
