This account of the development of modern South African society seeks to establish the geographical and historical context in which change has taken place The author describes important historical continuities in South Africa which have shaped present society including social groupings and their stratification political institutions the patterns of human geography economic structure and external links and influences South Africa, Past, Present and Future Tony Binns, Alan

Lester, Etienne Nel, 2014-09-25 This is the first book to combine a discussion of post apartheid development initiatives with an extended historical analysis of South Africa's dynamic race class gender and ethnic identities Bringing together the research of an historical geographer and two development geographers the book enables us to locate the post apartheid transition in a broad historical and spatial perspective Within this perspective the limitations as well as the achievements of South Africa's current transformation are highlighted

Afrikaners in the New South Africa Rebecca Davies, 2009-02-28 How has the position of Afrikaners changed since the end of the Apartheid regime in South Africa While the links between Afrikaner nationalist identity and the apartheid regime have been irrevocably altered it is evident that this newly disempowered minority still commands a vast material and cultural capital Certain Afrikaans speakers have become important players in the new South Africa and on the world stage Davies argues that the global political economy and the closely associated ideology of globalization are major catalysts for change in Afrikaner identifications and positions She identifies multiple Afrikaner constituencies and identities and shows how they play out in the complex social economic and political landscape of South Africa Accessible informative and well written Afrikaners in the New South Africa is a vital contribution to our understanding of post apartheid South Africa It will be indispensable for those interested in South Africa identity politics globalization international political economy and geography

Democratizing the Hegemonic State Ilan Peleg, 2007-07-23 This book provides a new comprehensive analytical framework for the examination of majority minority relations in deeply divided societies Hegemonic states in which one ethnic group completely dominates all others will continue to face enormous pressures to transform because they are out of step with the new emerging global governing code that emphasizes democracy and equal rights Refusal to change would lead such states to lose international legitimacy and face increasing civil strife instability and violence Through systematic theoretical analysis and careful empirical study of 14 key cases Peleg examines the options open to polities with diverse populations Challenging the conventional wisdom of many liberal democrats Peleg maintains that the preferred solution for a traditional hegemonic polity is not merely to grant equal rights to individuals but also to incorporate significant group rights via mega constitutional transformation

Promoting Healthy Human Relationships in Post-Apartheid South Africa Ndangwa Noyoo, 2020-10-11 This is the first book that examines healthy human relationships in post apartheid South Africa In contemporary South Africa human relationships are under considerable threat Despite the 1994 commitment to an inclusive and human rights based democracy human relationships remain strained Bearing in mind South Africa's tortuous and divisive past this book brings to light many issues prospects and challenges with regard to the promotion of healthy human relationships after apartheid ended Social work and social development perspectives are central to the issues that are raised in this volume The profession of social work has always championed the centrality of human relationships being less interested in the internal functioning of people and more interested in their interpersonal functioning within broader structures and forces including social justice building people's strengths and capabilities anti discrimination diversity and empowerment This edited book is based on select papers presented at a social work conference in 2019 that was co hosted by the Department of Social Development at the University of Cape Town and the Association of South African Social Work Education Institutions In the chapters the contributors offer some solutions to the ubiquitous societal ills that emanate from either corrosive or broken human relationships Resurgent racism in post apartheid South Africa and the need to promote healthy human relationships Promoting healthy human relationships with sub Saharan African immigrants and South Africans Promoting family and human relationships in a traumatised society Social policy social welfare social security and legislation in promoting healthy human relationships in post apartheid South Africa Social protection as a tool to promote healthy human relationships in South Africa Promoting Healthy Human Relationships in Post Apartheid South Africa is an essential resource for an international audience of scholars policy makers and social work and social development practitioners legislators and students

Urban Segregation Sako Musterd, 2020-03-28 The Handbook of Urban Segregation scrutinises key debates on spatial inequality in cities across the globe It engages with multiple domains including residential places public spaces and the field of education In addition it tackles crucial group dimensions across race class and culture as well as age groups the urban rich middle class and gentrified households This timely Handbook provides a key contribution to understanding what urban segregation is about why it has developed what its consequences are and how it is measured conceptualised and framed

The Challenge of Change in Africa's Higher Education in the 21st Century Kenneth Kaoma Mwenda, Gerry Nkombo Muuka, 2009 The Challenge of Change in Africa's Higher Education in the 21st Century brings the reader face to face with the mega challenges and key opportunities in Africa's higher education sector in the twenty first century Mwenda and Muuka are two of Africa's emergent scholars with 20 published books and over 100 articles published in peer reviewed journals between them as of 2008 Authors who are diverse in their knowledge and experience of the complexities of education in Africa join Mwenda and Muuka in this treatise which traverses the higher education milieu on the continent from Cape Town in South Africa to Lagos in Nigeria Stated simply those who have long called for a new generation of scholars on education in Africa will find a healthy and refreshing answer in The Challenge of Change in Africa's Higher Education in the 21st Century The motivation for this book was the editors recognition of gaps in the current understanding of higher education in Africa The book has clear advantages and defining features over other books on higher education on the continent in the following respects The Challenge of Change in Africa's Higher Education in the 21st Century is a book written from and with twenty first century realities making it a significant addition to the continuing and urgent search for solutions to the continent's development dilemma It is therefore critical reading and research material for many stakeholders including students professors universities and research libraries on the one hand and higher education ministries in Africa on the other The role of international development agencies and non governmental organizations towards enhancement of higher education in Africa cannot be overemphasized

Israel and South Africa Ilan Pappé, 2015-10-15 Within the already heavily polarised debate on the Israeli Palestinian conflict parallels between Israel and apartheid South Africa remain highly contentious A number of prominent academic and political commentators including former US president Jimmy Carter and UN Special Rapporteur John Dugard have argued that Israel's treatment of its Arab Israeli citizens and the people of the occupied territories amounts to a system of oppression no less brutal or inhumane than that of South Africa's white supremacists Similarly boycott and disinvestment campaigns comparable to those employed by anti apartheid activists have attracted growing support Yet while the apartheid question has become increasingly visible in this debate there has been little in the way of genuine scholarly analysis of the similarities or otherwise between the Zionist and apartheid regimes In Israel and South Africa Ilan Pappé one of Israel's preeminent academics and a noted critic of the current government brings together lawyers journalists policy makers and historians of both countries to assess the implications of the apartheid analogy for international law activism and policy making With contributors including the distinguished anti apartheid activist Ronnie Kasrils Israel and South Africa offers a bold and incisive perspective on one of the defining moral questions of our age

Sustaining Life Theodore Powers,2020-03-20 An ethnographic account of the South African AIDS movement and activists From the historical roots of AIDS activism in the struggle for African liberation to the everyday work of community education in Khayelitsha Sustaining Life tells the story of how the rights based South African AIDS movement successfully transformed public health institutions enabled access to HIV AIDS treatment and sustained the lives of people living with the disease Typical accounts of the South African epidemic have focused on the political conflict surrounding it Theodore Powers observes but have yet to examine the process by which the national HIV AIDS treatment program achieved near universal access In Sustaining Life Powers demonstrates the ways in which non state actors from caregivers to activists worked within the state to transform policy and state based institutions in order to improve health based outcomes He shows how advocates in the South African AIDS movement channeled the everyday experiences of poor and working class people living with HIV AIDS into tangible policy changes at varying institutional levels revealing the primacy of local action for expanding treatment access In his analysis of the transformation of the state health system Powers addresses three key questions How were the activists of the movement able to overcome an AIDS dissident faction that was backed by government power How were state health institutions and HIV AIDS policy transformed to increase public sector access to treatment Finally how should the South African campaign for treatment access inform academic debates on social movements transnationalism and the state Based on extended participant observation and in depth interviews with members of the South African AIDS movement Sustaining Life traces how the political principles of the anti apartheid movement were leveraged to build a broad coalition that changed national HIV AIDS policy norms and highlights how changes in state society relations can be produced by local activism

Social Work's Histories of Complicity and Resistance Vasilios Ioakimidis,Aaron Wyllie,2023-06-14 Social work is often presented as a benevolent and politically neutral profession avoiding discussion about its sometimes troubling political histories This book rethinks social work s legacy and history of both political resistance and complicity with oppressive and punitive practices Using a comparative approach with international case studies the book uncovers the role of social workers in politically tense episodes of recent history including the anti racist struggle in the US and the impact of colonialism in Australia New Zealand and Canada As the de colonisation of curricula and the Black Lives Matter movement gain momentum this fascinating book skilfully navigates social work s collective political past while considering its future

The Politics of Water in Africa Christopher Rowan,2009-02-28 The dilemmas of African development continue to haunt both African and western institutions and governments Here Christopher Rowan offers an original interpretation of the evolving concept of partnership as it operates within the current relationship between the European Union and the Africa Caribbean and Pacific group Framing his discussion in terms of the human right to water Rowan presents detailed case studies of water aid from the EU to Lesotho and Mozambique and explores the persisting inequities in the discourse and processes of development. With a close analysis of the interaction between non governmental organisations, local elites, states and international actors, this book is a timely and insightful addition to perspectives on relations between the global North and South.

Antipode, 2000. Washed with Sun Jeremy Foster, 2014-08-15. South Africa is recognized as a site of both political turmoil and natural beauty and yet little work has been done in connecting these defining national characteristics. Washed with Sun achieves this conjunction in its multidisciplinary study of South Africa as a space at once natural and constructed. Weaving together practical, aesthetic and ideological analyses, Jeremy Foster examines the role of landscape in forming the cultural iconographies and spatialities that shaped the imaginary geography of emerging nationhood. Looking in particular at the years following the British victory in the second Boer War from 1902 to 1930, Foster discusses the influence of painting, writing, architecture and photography on the construction of a shared, romanticized landscape, subjectivity that was perceived as inseparable from being South African and thus helped forge the imagined community of white South Africa. In its innovative approach to South Africa's history, Washed with Sun breaks important new ground, combining the persuasive theory of cultural geography with the material specificity of landscape history.

Imperial Networks Alan Lester, 2005-08-19. Imperial Networks investigates the discourses and practices of British colonialism. It reveals how British colonialism in the Eastern Cape region was informed by and itself informed imperial ideas and activities elsewhere, both in Britain and in other colonies. It examines the origins and development of the three interacting discourses of colonialism official humanitarian and settler the contests compromises and interplay between these discourses and their proponents the analysis of these discourses in the light of a global humanitarian movement in the aftermath of the antislavery campaign the eventual colonisation of the Eastern cape and the construction of colonial settler identities For any student or resarcher of this major aspect of history this will be a staple part of their reading diet The Politics of War Memory and Commemoration T.G. Ashplant,Graham Dawson,Michael Roper,2013-01-11 International in scope presents a range of case studies from a diverse range of national contexts War memory and commemoration has had an increasingly high profile in public and academic debates in recent years
