From Hamburg To Hollywood:

From Hamburg to Hollywood Jurgen Vollmer, 1997      Hollywood's War with Poland, 1939-1945 M.B.B.

Biskupski, 2010-01-08 This passionate carefully researched richly detailed well written study reveals the political motives behind WWII Hollywood's portrayal of Poles. Choice During World War II Hollywood studios supported the war effort by making patriotic movies designed to raise the nation's morale. Often the characterizations were as black and white as the movies themselves. Americans and their allies were heroes while everyone else was a villain. The peoples of Norway, France, Czechoslovakia and England were all good because they had been invaded or victimized by Nazi Germany. Yet Poland, the first country to be invaded by the Third Reich, was repeatedly represented in a negative light. In this prize-winning study, Polish historian M. B. B. Biskupski explores why Biskupski presents a close critical study of prewar and wartime films such as To Be or Not to Be. In Our Time and None Shall Escape. Through memoirs, letters, diaries and memoranda written by screenwriters, directors, studio heads and actors, Biskupski examines how the political climate and especially pro-Soviet sentiment influenced Hollywood films of the time. Winner of the Oscar Halecki Prize. A Choice Outstanding Academic Title. Paul

Bern E.J. Fleming, 2009-03-23 Paul Bern, known throughout the movie business as Hollywood's Father Confessor, earned a reputation for being a loyal and supportive friend and for becoming one of MGM's most respected and creative directors. After his death, though, he was said to have grown so depressed and despondent over his own apparent sexual inadequacies that he committed suicide and he would be denounced for attempting to rape his new bride, Jean Harlow. In this biography, the author uncovers startling new facts and argues that MGM knew the real story of Bern's death: that an estranged, mentally ill common-law wife murdered him. MGM understood that the earlier spouse rendered Bern's marriage to Harlow its fastest rising star ambiguous, if not bigamous, so the studio staged a suicide and embarked on a very public tarnishing of his memory. Included are 93 rare photos, many lost for decades, along with three appendices examining the handwriting on an alleged suicide note and Bern's will and estate.

Hollywood's Embassies Ross Melnick, 2022-04-26 Winner 2024 Culbert Family Book Prize International Association for Media and History Winner 2022 Richard Wall Memorial Award Theatre Library Association Beginning in the 1920s audiences around the globe were seduced not only by Hollywood films but also by lavish movie theaters that were owned and operated by the major American film companies. These theaters aimed to provide a quintessentially American experience. Outfitted with American technology and accoutrements they allowed local audiences to watch American films in an American owned cinema in a distinctly American way. In a history that stretches from Buenos Aires and Tokyo to Johannesburg and Cairo Ross Melnick considers these movie houses as cultural embassies. He examines how the exhibition of Hollywood films became a constant flow of political and consumerist messaging selling American ideas products and power especially during fractious eras. Melnick demonstrates that while Hollywood's marketing of luxury and consumption often struck a chord with local audiences it was also frequently tone deaf to new social cultural racial and political movements. He argues that the story of Hollywood's global cinemas is not a simple narrative of cultural and industrial indoctrination and colonization. Instead it is one of negotiation booms and busts successes and failures adoptions and rejections and a precursor to later conflicts over the spread of American consumer culture. A truly global account Hollywood's Embassies shows how the entanglement of worldwide movie theaters with American empire offers a new way of understanding film history and the history of U.S. soft power

Where Were You When? Ian Harrison, 2007-03 Examines 180 historically and culturally momentous events in politics war science sports and the arts spanning over sixty years from 1939 to 2005 including the assassination of John F. Hollywood's Road to Riches David Waterman, 2009-07-01 This book shows how beginning in the 1950s a largely predictable business has been transformed into a volatile and complex multimedia enterprise now commanding over 80 percent of the world's film business. Waterman asks how the economic forces leading to this success have combined to change the kinds of movies Hollywood produces
