

Try not to confuse attachment with love.

Attachment is about fear and dependency, and has more to do with love of self than love of another. Love without attachment is the purest love because it isn't about what others can give you because you're empty.

It is about what you can give others because you're already full.

Lest We Lose

Love Scherto Gill,2023-04-18 Few are aware that since antiquity there has always been the philosophy of love at the core of Western culture It articulates what makes life meaningful and worthwhile and how we can live a good life together through an ethic of love This book fills this significant gap not only reconnecting the reader with such important wisdom and more crucially also reorienting our socio economic institutions and collective actions towards more loving and caring and more concerned with the qualities of our lived experiences By re discovering the gifts of love we may challenge the existing systemic dehumanisation and draw from knowledge and understanding already present in our culture This is timely because the global crises we are facing are catastrophic especially when it comes to climate change Therefore we must respond from a place of love rather than fear Whether it is reducing the use of fossil fuels lowering greenhouse emission choosing the right food to eat or advocating for structural transformation our concerted endeavours start with an appropriate appreciation of the nature of our well being which includes the planet s well ness This book highlights a clear pathway forward to ensure collective healing and co flourishing with nature we must practise the art of loving Ethics without Self, Dharma without Atman Gordon F. Davis, 2018-07-18 This volume of essays offers direct comparisons of historic Western and Buddhist perspectives on ethics and metaphysics tracing parallels and contrasts all the way from Plato to the Stoics Spinoza to Hume and Schopenhauer through to contemporary ethicists such as Arne Naess Charles Taylor and Derek Parfit It compares and contrasts each Western philosopher with a particular strand in the Buddhist tradition in some chapters represented by individual writers such as Nagarjuna Vasubandhu Santideva or Tsong Khapa It does so in light of both analytic concerns and themes from the existentialist and phenomenological traditions and often in an ecumenical spirit that bridges both analytic and continentalist approaches Some of the deepest questions in ethics dealing with the scope of agency value laden notions of personhood and the nature of value in general are intertwined with questions in metaphysics One set of questions addresses how varying conceptions of selfhood relate to moral values e.g. the concern of self or selves for the well being of others another set of questions addresses how a conception of oneself or one's selves should or should not affect how one thinks of happiness or eudaimonia or in classical Indian terms artha sukha or nirvana Western philosophy has featured discussion of both but some would argue that certain traditions of Asian philosophy have offered a more sustained and even treatment of both sets of questions The Buddhist tradition in particular has not only featured much discussion on both fronts but has attracted many contemporary philosophers to its distinctive spectrum of approaches and to what is from many Western points of view a seemingly subversive analysis of ego selfhood and personhood whether in metaphysical phenomenological or other incarnations
