From Ellis Island to the Bench Sebastian D. Natale, 1992-06-01 Personal narratives of Irish and Scottish migration, 1921-65 Angela McCarthy, 2017-10-03 Between 1921 and 1965 Irish and Scottish migrants continued to seek new homes abroad Using the personal accounts of these migrants from letters interviews questionnaires and shipboard journals together with more traditional documentary sources such as immigration files and maritime records this book examines the experience of migration and settlement in North America and Australasia Through a close reading of personal testimonies the author highlights the assorted similarities and differences between the Irish and Scots Subtle differences rather than yawning cultural gaps are apparent similarities in attitude and expectation are more common than divergent or unique experiences The key revelation of the work is that despite a number of peculiarities characterising their individual and collective experiences of migration both the Irish and Scots were relatively successful migrants in the period under consideration Using interviews both spoken and written and tackling issues of why and how versions of the past are represented and what they mean this fascinating study considers individual and collective memory and the use of personal testimonies as historical evidence their uniqueness and typicality Furthermore in using personal narratives the book portrays individual migration experiences which are often hidden in studies based on statistical analysis Half Broke: A Memoir Ginger Gaffney, 2020-02-04 Winner of a 2020 Border Regional Library Association Southwest Book Award Truly transcendent Jessica Lustig New York Times Book Review This riveting memoir follows professional horse trainer Ginger Gaffney's year long odyssey to train a herd of neglected horses at an alternative prison ranch in New Mexico Working with her is a small team of ranch residents men and women who are each uniquely broken by addiction and incarceration Gaffney forms a bond with them as profound as the kinship and trust the residents discover among the troubled horses Through these unforgettable characters both animal and human Half Broke tells a new kind of recovery story and speaks to the life affirming joy of finding a sense of belonging Bellevue Park the First 100 Years Michael Barton, Jeannine Turgeon, 2009-11-25 This book is a history of a community and moreover a history by that community In January 2007 Jeannine Turgeon began to recruit a committee of Bellevue Park neighbors volunteers who would be willing to produce a book about their neighborhood in honor of its 100th anniversary Initial members were Clark and Vickie Bucher Dan Deibler and Elizabeth Johnson Chris Dick Frank Haas Hannah Leavitt Carol Lopus Mo Lynn Bonnie Mark Debbie Nifong Peggy and Dan Purdy John Quimby Sue Ellen Ramer Olivia Susskind Doris Ulsh Phil and Mary Walsh Mary Warner and Gretchen Yarnall Prof Michael Barton of Penn State Harrisburg was invited to serve as a consultant and general editor for the project and we selected Xlibris as our publisher In these early months outlines were organized and re organized topics were proposed and discarded and suggestions of all sorts were submitted and accepted or reluctantly retracted to fit within the publisher's limits and the book's budget The Survey, 1915 Public Memory, Race, and Heritage Tourism of Early America Cathy

Transnational Memory Chiara De Cesari,Ann Rigney,2014-10-29 How do memories circulate transnationally and to what effect How to understand the enduring role of national memories and their simultaneous reconfiguration under globalization Challenging the methodological nationalism that has until recently dominated the study of memory and heritage this book charts the rich production of memory across and beyond national borders Arguing for the fruitfulness of a transnational as distinct from a global approach it places the issues of circulation articulation and the scales of remembrance at the centre of its inquiry In the process it sheds new light on the ways in which mediation post coloniality migration and regional integration affect both the way we remember and the role of memory in contemporary societies In this interdisciplinary collection humanities and social science scholars examine a rich sample of cases from the nineteenth century on stretching across the globe from Vietnam to Europe and the Middle East to the USA and the Pacific and involving a wide range of cultural practices from quilting to films from photography to heritage sites and monuments In the process the volume develops a new theoretical framework while proposing new methodological tools and resources for studying collective remembrance beyond the nation state affected communities As soon as US media and politicians became aware of AIDS in the early 1980s fingers were pointed not only at the gay community but also at other countries and migrant communities particularly Haitians as responsible for spreading the virus Evangelical leaders public health officials and the Reagan administration quickly capitalized on widespread fear of the new disease to call for quarantines immigration bans and deportations scapegoating and blaming HIV positive migrants even as the rest of the world regarded the US as the primary exporter of the virus In The Borders of AIDS Karma Ch vez demonstrates how such calls proliferated and how failure to impose a quarantine for HIV positive citizens morphed into the successful enactment of a complete ban on the regularization of HIV positive migrants which lasted more than twenty years News reports congressional records and AIDS activist archives reveal how queer groups and migrant communities built fragile coalitions to fight against the alienation of themselves and others asserting their capacity for resistance and resiliency Building on existing histories of HIV AIDS public health citizenship and immigration Ch vez establishes how politicians and public health officials treated different communities with HIV AIDS and highlights the work these communities did to resist alienation

Artie Donovan of the legendary Baltimore Colts The old East Baltimore ethnic enclaves nurture youngsters named Barbara Mikulski and Ted Venetoulis and out of West Baltimore comes the future Afro American newspaper publisher Jake Oliver Journeys to the Heart of Baltimore is a delightful reminder of the nation s ethnic and racial mosaic home to a future governor named Martin O Malley and a future U S Representative named Dutch Ruppersberger Boys from Baltimore s Little Italy like John Pica go off to fight a war in Italy when they know their allegiance is being tested And a city struggles through racial convulsions remembered by those such as John Steadman and Father Constantine Sitaris The Encyclopedia Americana ,1927 The Americana ,1923 Unbroken Mary Attenborough,Michael Gallagher,2025-06-27 Our outside door came crashing in Deafening thumps steel banging on steel and shrill piercing whistles filled the hallway Faraway voices called out in the dark Armed police Others coming nearer shouted orders Get down on the floor On 28 October 1996 Glaswegian Michael Gallagher is arrested in an armed dawn raid on the London flat he shares with long time partner Mary Attenborough Accused of playing a role in the IRA mortar attack on Heathrow Airport in March 1994 Michael proclaims his innocence Mary meanwhile throws herself into the battle to free him and highlight what she sees as just another example of British justice getting it wrong Told in the alternating voices of the two authors the dramatic story unfolds with Michael struggling against the harsh conditions of incarceration while Mary focuses on organising his legal defence battling to stay positive in the face of soul destroying setbacks and emotional hardships Yet behind it all lies a secret that could tear the couple apart How can their love survive A History of the Supreme Court the late Bernard Schwartz,1995-02-23 When the first Supreme Court convened in 1790 it was so ill esteemed that its justices frequently resigned in favor of other pursuits John Rutledge stepped down as Associate Justice to become a state judge in South Carolina John Jay resigned as Chief Justice to run for Governor of New York and Alexander Hamilton declined to replace Jay pursuing a private law practice instead As Bernard Schwartz shows in this landmark history the Supreme Court has indeed travelled a long and interesting journey to its current preeminent place in American life In A History of the Supreme Court Schwartz provides the finest most comprehensive one volume narrative ever published of our highest court With impeccable scholarship and a clear engaging style he tells the story of the justices and their jurisprudence and the influence the Court has had on American politics and society With a keen ability to explain complex legal issues for the nonspecialist he takes us through both the great and the undistinguished Courts of our nation s history He provides insight into our foremost justices such as John Marshall who established judicial review in Marbury v Madison an outstanding display of political calculation as well as fine jurisprudence Roger Taney whose legacy has been overshadowed by Dred Scott v Sanford Oliver Wendell Holmes Louis Brandeis Benjamin Cardozo and others He draws on evidence such as personal letters and interviews to show how the court has worked weaving narrative details into deft discussions of the developments in constitutional law Schwartz also examines the operations of the court until 1935 it met in a small room under the Senate so cramped that the judges had to put on their robes in full view of the spectators

But when the new building was finally opened one justice called it almost bombastically pretentious and another asked What are we supposed to do ride in on nine elephants He includes fascinating asides on the debate in the first Court for instance over the use of English style wigs and gowns the decision gowns no wigs and on the day Oliver Wendell Holmes announced his resignation the same day that Earl Warren as a California District Attorney argued his first case before the Court The author brings the story right up to the present day offering balanced analyses of the pivotal Warren Court and the Rehnquist Court through 1992 including of course the arrival of Clarence Thomas In addition he includes four special chapters on watershed cases Dred Scott v Sanford Lochner v New York Brown v Board of Education and Roe v Wade Schwartz not only analyzes the impact of each of these epoch making cases he takes us behind the scenes drawing on all available evidence to show how the justices debated the cases and how they settled on their opinions Bernard Schwartz is one of the most highly regarded scholars of the Supreme Court author of dozens of books on the law and winner of the American Bar Association's Silver Gavel Award In this remarkable account he provides the definitive one volume account of our nation's highest court
