Educating Feminists Life Histories And Pedagogy:

Educating Feminists Sue Middleton, 1993 Educating feminists is a sensitive exploration of the philosophical differences between feminist teacher educators of the post World War II generation and their students who have experienced the restructured schools and recessionary environment of the New Right. The author, writing from New Zealand, reaches across boundaries and cultures with her life history approach to women's studies, giving dimension to abstract sociological, educational, and feminist theory. Weaving autobiography throughout her discussions of policy and pedagogy, Dr Middleton adroitly takes up the postmodern challenge to reveal the personal history of her work. My everyday life in sexist society, my life as a woman, an academic, a mother, and a citizen is studied as sociologically relevant in that it is generative of my pedagogy. Of particular interest to educators employing life history methods, this book will also appeal to researchers in teachers' education and to professors and students in sociology, women's studies, the philosophy of education, and professional development and leadership. The Routledge International Handbook on Narrative and Life History Ivor Goodson, Ari Antikainen, Pat Sikes, Molly Andrews, 2016-10-04 In recent decades there has been a substantial turn towards narrative and life history study. The embrace of narrative and life history work has accompanied the move to postmodernism and post-structuralism across a wide range of disciplines: sociological studies, gender studies, cultural studies, social history, literary theory, and most recently psychology. Written by leading international scholars from the main contributing perspectives and disciplines, The Routledge International Handbook on Narrative and Life History seeks to capture the range and scope as well as the considerable complexity of the field of narrative study and life history work by situating these fields of study within the historical and contemporary context. Topics covered include: The historical emergences of life history and narrative study; Techniques for conducting life history and narrative study; Identity and politics; Generational history; Social and psycho-social approaches to narrative history. With chapters from expert contributors, this volume will prove a comprehensive and authoritative resource to students, researchers, and educators interested in narrative theory, analysis, and interpretation.

Education Feminism Barbara J. Thayer-Bacon, Lynda Stone, Katharine M. Sprecher, 2013-12-15 Collection of important essays by feminist scholars from cultural studies, philosophy of education, curriculum theory, and women's studies. Education Feminism is a revised and updated version of Lynda Stone's out-of-print anthology The Education Feminism Reader. The text is intended as a course text and provides students a foundational base in feminist theories in education. The classics section is comprised of the readings that students have most responded to in classes. The contemporary readings section demonstrates how the third wave feminist criticism of the 1990s has an impact on today's feminist work. Both of these sections address critical multicultural educational issues and have an inclusive, diverse selection of feminist scholars who bring race class sexual orientation religious practices and colonial postcolonial perspectives to bear on their work The individual essays are concise and well written and arranged in such a way that it is easy for instructors to assign them around themes of their own choosing The incredible value of this fine collection is that it demonstrates what it means to critically consider interrogate and challenge historic and contemporary ideas regarding educational equity while using these very ideas to imagine new possibilities It will serve as an indispensable resource in graduate classrooms where students can use the text to ground and forward explorations of the necessarily complex considerations of equity in education today Adela C Licona coeditor of Feminist Pedagogy Looking Back to Move Forward

Challenging Democracy Madeleine Arnot, Jo-Anne Dillabough, 2014-02-04 This collection establishes a highly topical new international field of study that of gender education and citizenship It brings together for the first time important cutting edge research on the contribution of the educational system to the formation of male and female citizens It shows how gender relations operate behind apparently neutral concepts of liberal democratic citizenship and citizenship education The editors asked leading international educationalists to describe the theoretical frameworks and methodologies they used to research gender and citizenship Challenging Democracy suggests ways in which the educational system could help develop genuinely inclusive democratic societies in which men and women play an equal role in shaping the meaning of citizenship
