Dean Allen analyzes both groups' constructions of masculinity and social ethics in relation to the family the church and a prominent social issue Evangelical Christian leaders designed both organizations in response to their alarm at men's absence from evangelical churches and they sought to increase men's participation in churches and to improve society as a whole by their efforts Each group faced important social changes during its era such as new economic realities women's activities and perceived moral crises Despite their similarities as groups for evangelical Christian men only MRFM and PK developed contrasting constructions of masculinity and divergent social ethical calls for action BOOK JACKET

Image and Hope Yaroslav Viazovski, 2015-07-17 Developments in biblical studies neurosciences and Christian philosophy of mind force theologians to reconsider the traditional concept of the immortal soul At the same time the concept itself tends to create axiological dualism between the body and the soul that in turn may lead to insufficient appreciation of the physical life in this world A more holistic approach to the ontology of human beings is required The aim of this study is to analyze the function of the concept of the soul in the dualistic anthropology of John Calvin and to compare it to the holistic anthropology of Karl Barth in order to answer the question of whether the transition from one to the other is possible without the loss of the functions fulfilled by the soul

The Word Became Flesh David Graham Griffin, 2016-05-16 Is following Jesus natural Many would say no but this book argues yes Saying no suggests that grace and human nature are alternate moral categories Saying yes implies that our humanity is gracious in origin capacity and intent Much of this discussion hangs on what is meant by nature and natural and this book explores these ideas creationly and christologically Part One considers natural law as commonly found in the classical Christian tradition Part Two explores the radical christological tradition of Anabaptism Part Three then proposes the two nature christology of the Chalcedonian definition as a theological resource enabling their reconciliation The Chalcedonianism of the modern Barth and the ancient Maximus the Confessor are appropriated along with scientific theology of T F Torrance and Nancey Murphy If Chalcedon correctly affirms Jesus's humanity as being homoousios one nature with our humanity created like Adam's through the eternal Spirit then Jesus's life was natural proper to its created intent And as his divine nature was homoousios with the Father's nature he is the human expression of the divine Word which gives creation its contingent moral rationality As such the life of Jesus Anabaptists concern is morally normative for all humanity natural law's concern
