God Self And Death:

God and the Self in Hegel Paolo Diego Bubbio, 2017-06-29 God and the Self in Hegel proposes a reconstruction of Hegel's conception of God and analyzes the significance of this reading for Hegel's idealistic metaphysics Paolo Diego Bubbio argues that in Hegel's view subjectivism the tenet that there is no underlying true reality that exists independently of the activity of the cognitive agent can be avoided and content can be restored to religion only to the extent that God is understood in God's relation to human beings and human beings are understood in their relation to God Focusing on traditional problems in theology and the philosophy of religion such as the ontological argument for the existence of God the Trinity and the death of God Bubbio shows the relevance of Hegel's view of religion and God for his broader philosophical strategy In this account as a response to the fundamental Kantian challenge of how to conceive the mind world relation without setting mind over and against the world Hegel has found a way of overcoming subjectivism in both philosophy and religion

God as Sacrificial Love Asle Eikrem, 2018-01-25 In dialogue with a range of post enlightenment critiques of Christian theologies regarding sacrificial love Asle Eikrem presents an unconventional systematic approach to this multi layered and complex theological topic From Hegel to prominent 20th century theologians from feminist theologies to postmodern philosophers this volume engages in a critical conversation with a host of different voices on all the classical topics in theology creation trinity incarnation atonement sin faith sacraments and eschatology also providing a moral and socio historical vision for Christian living The result is a unique appraisal of the significance that the life and death of Jesus holds for the world today

Tragedy, Recognition, and the Death of God Robert R. Williams, 2012-09-27 Robert R Williams offers a bold new account of divergences and convergences in the work of Hegel and Nietzsche He explores four themes the philosophy of tragedy recognition and community critique of Kant and the death of God and explicates both thinkers critiques of traditional theology and metaphysics

The Divine-Human Relationship in Romans 1-8 in the Light of Interdependence Theory Yoonjong Kim, 2020-11-12 Yoonjong Kim analyses the divine human relationship in Paul's theology focusing on Paul's portrayal of the relationship in Romans 1-8 Kim stresses that previous studies of this relationship have not paid sufficient attention to the fact that it is not static but rather exhibits progression and development towards a goal To address the significance of the human agent's role in the relationship Kim employs a social psychological theory interdependence theory offering a consistent analytic framework for diagnosing the interactions in a dyadic relationship in terms of the dependency created by each partner's expectations of outcomes Kim explores several key stages of the divine human relationship and the direction in which the relationship develops throughout Romans 1-8 in order to highlight the significance of the human partners in the course of the development He focuses in particular on betrayal 1:18-3:20 restoration 3:21-26 5:1-11 the oppressive relationship with Sin 5:12-8:11 and the investment for the future 8:12-39 and concludes that although the foundation of the relationship rests on God's initiative the divine outworking guides the relationship so that it facilitates mutual participation of the human partners in the restoration and development of the relationship toward the ultimate goal

G.W.F Hegel Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel, Peter Crafts Hodgson, 1997-01-01 Offering the only anthology of Hegel's religious thought Vanderbilt University's Professor Peter C Hodgson provides sympathetic and clear entree to the German philosopher's religious achievement through his major relevant texts starting with early theological writings and culminating with Hegel's 1824 lectures on the philosophy of religion Hegel on Religion and Politics Angelica Nuzzo, 2012-12-13 Although scholars have written extensively on Hegel's treatment of religion and politics separately much less has been written about the connections between the two in his thought Religion in Hegel's philosophy occupies a difficult position relative to politics existing both within the ethical and historical reality of the state and at the same time maintaining an absolute transcendent identity In addition Hegel's views on the relationship between the two were often revised and refined over time in both his written works and his lectures His thinking on the subject however provides a fascinating look at an element of his practical philosophy that was as controversial in his time as it is in ours This book highlights various approaches to this intersection in Hegel's thought and evaluates its relevance to contemporary problems considering issues such as religious pluralism and tolerance conflicts between Islam and Christianity and tensions between the secular and religious state

How God Acts Denis Edwards, 2010-01-27 From providence and miracles to resurrection and intercessory prayer Edwards shows how a basically noninterventionist model of divine action does justice to the universe as we know and also to central convictions of Christian faith about the goodness of God the promises of God and the fulfillment of creation Here is wonderfully lucid theology supporting an excitement of how God is at work in the universe

Divine Disorder and the Rescue of God Mark Corner, 2024-02-13 Divine Disorder and the Rescue of God is based on the idea that a kenotic approach is essential to a viable theology It is deeply influenced by the way such an approach influenced the writings of Donald MacKinnon Part I argues that God forces us to live in a state of uncertainty even about God's existence However compelling the sense of God's presence may be religious experience cannot take that uncertainty away We have to understand what sort of God would want to impose upon us the disorder of uncertainty Part II explores this further in terms of God's willingness to give a degree of independence to the created order while Part III compares the instability of the created order with that of the moral order By giving human beings freedom God opens up the possibility of failure including that of God The doctrine of the fall expresses the impossibility of giving human beings autonomy without risking disaster In Parts IV and V the book looks more closely at the nature of this God who embraces risk suffering and even failure Who is the deity behind this divine disorder The focus from a Christian perspective is upon the risk suffering and failure displayed in the life of Christ Jesus is drawn into something that it is beyond him to fathom hence the troubled uncertain character of his own life But from a kenotic perspective even a life marked by failure can be the focal point of God's self revelation

The God Relationship Paul K. Moser, 2017-04-07 In this book Paul K Moser proposes a new approach to inquiry about God including a new discipline of the ethics for inquiry about God It is an ethics for human attitudes and relationships as well as actions in inquiry and it includes human responsibility for seeking evidence that involves a moral priority for humans Such ethics includes an ongoing test a trial for human receptivity to goodness including morally good relationships as a priority in human inquiry and life Moser also defends an approach to the evidence for God that makes sense of the elusiveness and occasional absence of God in human experience His book will be of interest to those interested in inquiry about God with special relevance to scholars and advanced students in religious studies philosophy theology and biblical studies

God Lois Malcolm, 2012-01-01 An authoritative examination of important source materials on the development of the Christian doctrine of God

Theology as Autobiography Colby Dickinson, 2020-03-17

Autobiographical writings on faith frequently come from the lives of ordinary persons whose struggles with faith are often lived at the margins of the church academy and society Yet these voices have the potential to reshape the ways in which each of these fields function To find out what it means to stand before God with all of one's humanity on display is to engage in not only the act of confession but to demonstrate a bold theological reflection that needs to be more explicitly understood By turning to spiritual autobiographies as theological source texts we learn to place our emphasis where it matters most on the people whose lives of faith move us deeply and cause us to re-examine our own lives in light of their witness Moving through a range of ancient early modern and contemporary spiritual writers in order to demonstrate a profound connection that unites them all this book portrays how a critical self-examination of one's most personal internal fractures our poverty as it were is the only way to develop a life of faith the dual meaning of the word confession which expresses both a revealing of one's sins or brokenness and the articulation of what one believes

Pilgrimage of Love Joy Ann McDougall, 2005-10-13 In Pilgrimage of Love Joy Ann McDougall offers an original reading and critical analysis of German Protestant theologian Jürgen Moltmann's social trinitarian theology She identifies the driving theological impulses methodological convictions and practical concerns that shape the author's evolving trinitarian vision. She uncovers the narrative of divine love in Moltmann's early trilogy and shows how its conceptual trajectory shifts and deepens in his six-volume Systematic Contributions to Theology. Building on her analysis, McDougall advances a compelling case for the concept of trinitarian fellowship as the structuring theological principle in Moltmann's later work. She demonstrates how this concept of divine love unifies the author's theological anthropology, theology of grace, and the practices of the life of faith. Finally, she shows how this social trinitarian analogy of fellowship serves as an elastic rule of faith in the personal, political, and ecclesial realms of human existence. While McDougall highlights the prophetic potential of Moltmann's trinitarian theology for Christian praxis, she also challenges the author's underdeveloped doctrine of sin and theory of theological language. Pilgrimage of Love offers one of the first comprehensive interpretations of Moltmann's mature trinitarian theology. It introduces, systematizes, and clarifies the thought of one of the most significant Protestant theologians at the turn of the twenty-first century. This study will be an invaluable resource on Moltmann's thought for scholars of modern Protestant theology and for all those interested in the current renaissance of trinitarian theology.

The Immanence of Theology and the Absurdity of Faith Elijah Prewitt-Davis, 2024-10-14. The constant inundation of the affect and information experienced by contemporary individuals exposes the tragic nature of the world, making nihilism an epistemologically reasonable response. To counter the threat of nihilism, Elijah Prewitt-Davis argues that knowledge must be replaced by belief. Against the common Protestant concept of belief as strictly personal and interior, he proposes believing in the world as an absurd and immanent faith in the impossible, a belief that allows one to see and feel the potentialities simmering within the world as it is. Following Gilles Deleuze's call to transform belief, Prewitt-Davis explores how belief heightens an affective attachment to our embeddedness in the world, revealing the potentialities with which time is always pregnant. Believing in the world as it is paradoxically becomes the mode of transforming the world inasmuch as the potential for something impossibly new is always immanently present.

The Trinity and Theodicy Dr. Jacob H. Friesenhahn, 2013-06-28. Why does God permit the great suffering and evil that we see in our world? This basic question of human existence receives a fresh answer in this book as the mystery of evil is explored in the context of the mystery of the Trinity. God's permission of evil and the way in which suffering can lead human persons into the life of the Trinity are discussed in dialogue with the great Swiss theologian Hans Urs von Balthasar. In the light of Balthasar's model of the Trinity as divine self-giving love, we gain a profound grasp of the nature of suffering in human life by placing our suffering in the context of the divine life of the Triune God.

The Trinity and the Paschal Mystery Anne Hunt, 1997. As a text for college or graduate student courses, as a scholarship reference, and as a guide for interested, educated laity, The Trinity and the Paschal Mystery is an exhilarating and invigorating journey into the most central of the Christian mysteries: the Triune God. The book is a valuable and thought-provoking resource that complements and enriches current theologies of the Trinity.

Spiritual Warfare Alistair Cuthbert, 2025-07-29. Continuous global news coverage reveals the relentless and pervasive ongoing nature of evil human action and its impact on persons communities and countries around the world Whether it is world wide human trafficking global arms dealing dehumanizing sweat shops country wide genocides and so on there is no shortage of evidence to suggest that there is much evil conflict suffering pain and loss on this planet For the Christian there is the added challenge of trying to reconcile this marred world with a belief in an all powerful and benevolent deity Stories from the persecuted church reveal that the Christian church is not immune to these evil powers and principalities that are stoking up as much chaos here on earth as they possibly can Spiritual Warfare A Charismatic Baptist Theology of Participating in Divine Conflict attempts to try and help to make sense of the presence of the God in a world beset by evil and strife Using the extensive theological corpus of British Baptist scholar Paul S Fiddes Spiritual Warfare articulates a doctrine of God which can remain intact when situated in the world as we know it and help make sense of evil that has not yet been eradicated by God
