Citizenship Education in China Kerry J. Kennedy, Gregory Fairbrother, Zhenzhou Zhao, 2013-10-15 There is a flourishing literature on citizenship education in China that is mostly unknown in the West Liberal political theorists often assume that only in democracy should citizens be prepared for their future responsibilities yet citizenship education in China has undergone a number of transformations as the political system has sought to cope with market reforms globalization and pressures both externally and within the country for broader political reforms Over the past decade Chinese scholars have been struggling for official recognition of citizenship education as a key component of the school curriculum in these changing contexts This book analyzes the citizenship education issues under discussion within China and aims to provide a voice for its scholars at a time when China's international role is becoming increasingly important

Educational Development in Western China John Chi-kin Lee, Zeyuan Yu, Xianhan Huang, Edmond Hau-Fai Law, 2016-03-22 In 2000 the Western Development plan of the Chinese Mainland attracted attention of educators and policy makers Around that period the Chinese government also launched large scale and systemic curriculum reforms in basic education and secondary education in achieving quality education across the vast country. Despite significant progress that has been made in educational investments and attainments in China, issues of quality and regional disparities across China remain, especially in the less developed western part of China where the significance of ethnic diversity, urban-rural disparity, and variations in school development exist. In addition, there have been entrenched problems of teacher and teaching quality, resources inadequacy, and left-behind children. Written by a group of Chinese and international scholars, the book provides an updated analysis and discussion of educational development and related issues in the less developed part of Western China. These chapters cover broad contextual issues of educational development and reforms, issues of quality and equality in different sectors of education, as well as curriculum implementation, teaching innovations, and professional development of teachers.

Advice on the Education of China (Works by Zhu Yongxin on Education Series) Zhu Yongxin, 2014-09-12

The most comprehensive work on China's education reform available from one of the nation's most influential figures in education. In Advice on the Education of China, Zhu Yongxin explores points of view from both educational researchers and government officials and policymakers, thus providing a broader range of topics than any other book available to Western audiences. The book covers such topics as the concept of fair education, education evaluation, the purpose of comprehensive education, special education, education without interference from political administration, and the comparative study of education between east and west countries. Zhu Yongxin, Beijing, China, is a member of the National People's Congress Standing Committee, vice chairman of the Association for Promoting Democracy (CAPD), and vice president of the Chinese Society of Education (CSE). He also works as a professor and PhD supervisor in Suzhou University.

Education Policy and Reform in China Guangli Zhou, Xiang Zhou, 2019-05-11

This book examines educational development and reform in contemporary China and focuses on some of the major issues facing education in both rural and urban areas across the spectrum of primary, secondary, higher adult, and vocational educational pathways. The book reflects on Chinese educational strategies at a time of rapid development of the market economy and the need to promote the modernization of education. It also considers how social reform and educational changes go hand in hand and discusses the right to education irrespective of gender, nationality, particularly examining the case of children from migrant families. From the rapid development of preschool and compulsory education to the modernization of the university system, this book highlights China's ambition to create a top-tier education system fostering talent to match its requirements in a fast-moving employment market and knowledge economy.

Education in China Xiaoming Li, 2013

Parallel to the unprecedented growth of the economy in the past 30 years, China has experienced the fastest development of its education system in its history. Despite the remarkable development and achievement in many areas, China still faces challenges in redefining its education priorities, improving the quality of education systems and education practices, and achieving education equality across its diverse population and vast geography. A group of 38 leading and emerging scholars from mainland China, Hong Kong, the United States, and Canada provided comprehensive reviews or empirical data to address a variety of core issues and key challenges in many important areas of formal and informal education in China from historical social cultural and global perspectives The authors come from various academic backgrounds including economics education history law mass media policy study psychology public affair administration social work and sociology The topics covered by the 22 chapters in this book include early childhood education special education rights of children with disabilities music education physical education higher education high education equity non state higher education academic capitalism higher vocational education rural compulsory education compulsory education for migrant children instructional technology distance learning media literacy education teacher professional development Chinese language education quality education family education moral education and sex education
