Federman From A To X X X X:

Federman A to X-X-X-X Larry McCaffery, Thomas Hartl, Doug Rice, 1998 Close Reading New Media Jan van Looy, Jan Baetens, 2003 Close Reading New Media is the first publication to apply the method of close analysis to new media Since the early nineteen nineties electronic art and literature have continually gained importance in artistic and academic circles Significant critical and theoretical attention has been paid to how new media allow the text to break traditional power relations and boundaries The passive reader becomes an active participant choosing his own path and assembling not just his own interpretation of the text level of the signified but also his own text level of the signifier Texts no longer have a beginning or an ending being a web of interlinked nodes The decentered nature of electronic text empowers and invites the reader to take part in the literary process Poststructuralist theorists predicted a total liberation of textual restrictions imposed by the medium of print However while these are culturally significant claims little attention has been paid to their realization The goal of this volume is twofold Our aim is to shed light on how ideas and theories have been translated into concrete works and we want to comment on the process of close reading and how it can be applied to electronic literature While all contributions deal with particular works their aim is always to provide insight into how electronic fiction and new media can be read This book proposes close readings of work by Mark Amerika Darren Aronofsky M D Coverley Raymond Federman Shelley Jackson Rick Pryll Geoff Ryman and Stephanie Strickland Federman's Fictions Jeffrey R. Di Leo, 2012-01-02 This collection of essays offers an authoritative examination and appraisal of the French American novelist Raymond Federman s many contributions to humanities scholarship including Holocaust studies Beckett studies translation studies experimental fiction postmodernism and autobiography Although known primarily as a novelist Federman 1928 2009 is also the author of numerous books of poetry essays translations and criticism After emigrating to the United States in 1942 and receiving a Ph D in comparative literature at UCLA in 1957 he held professorships in the University at Buffalo s departments of French and English from 1964 to 1999 Together with Steve Katz and Ronald Sukenick he was one of the original founders of the Fiction Collective a nonprofit publishing house dedicated to avant garde experimental prose Far too many accounts treat Federman as merely a member of a small group of writers who pioneered metafictional or postmodern American literature Federman s Fiction will introduce or for some reintroduce to the broader scholarly community a creative and daring thinker whose work is significant not just to considerations of the development of innovative fiction but to a number of other distinct disciplines and emerging critical discourses The Oxford Companion to English Literature Dinah Birch, 2009-09-24 The Oxford Companion to English Literature has long been established as the leading reference resource for students teachers scholars and general readers of English literature It provides unrivalled coverage of all aspects of English literature from writers their works and the historical and cultural context in which they wrote to critics literary theory and allusions For the seventh edition the Companion has been thoroughly revised and updated to meet the needs and concerns of today's students and general readers. Over 1 000 new entries have been added ranging from new writers Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, Patrick Marber, David Mitchell, Arundhati Roy to increased coverage of writers and literary movements from around the world. Coverage of American literature has been substantially increased with new entries on writers such as Cormac McCarthy and Amy Tan and on movements and publications. Contextual and historical coverage has also been expanded with new entries on European history and culture, post colonial literature as well as writers and literary movements from around the world that have influenced English literature. The Companion has always been a quick and dependable source of reference for students and the new edition confirms its pre eminent role as the go to resource of first choice. All entries have been reviewed and details of new works, biographies and criticism have been brought right up to date. So also has coverage of the themes, approaches and concepts encountered by students today from terms to articles on literary theory and theorists. There is increased coverage of writers from around the world as well as from Ireland, Scotland and Wales and of contextual topics including film and television, music and art. Cross referencing has been thoroughly updated with stronger linking from writers to thematic and conceptual entries. Meanwhile coverage of popular genres such as children's literature, science fiction, biography, reportage, crime fiction, fantasy or travel literature has been increased substantially with new entries on writers from Philip Pullman to Anne Frank and from Anais Nin to Douglas Adams. The seventh edition of this classic Companion now under the editorship of Dinah Birch assisted by a team of 28 distinguished associate editors and over 150 contributors ensures that it retains its status as the most authoritative, informative and accessible guide to literature available.

Cortez Hills Expansion Project, 2008 Raymond Federman and Samuel Beckett
Nathalie Camerlynck, 2021-07-13. This book is about Raymond Federman and his incredible textual obsession with Samuel Beckett. Federman was a scholar of Beckett, postmodern theorist, a self translator and avant garde novelist. Born in Paris in 1928, all of his immediate family perished in the Holocaust. Federman escaped thanks to his mother who hid him in a closet. After the war he migrated to America and devoted his life to scholarship and creative writing. In both he devoted his life to Beckett. Federman's creative and theoretical writings contaminate and pervert each other just as in his novels. French contaminates English and fiction perverts reality. His work is centered on the details of his survival, enacting a perpetual return to the closet as previous studies have demonstrated. By examining Beckettian and by extension Joycean intertextuality in the novels of Raymond Federman, this study traces the contours of a second closet.

American Literature in Transition, 1990-2000 Stephen J. Burn, 2017-12-28. Written in the shadow of the approaching millennium, American literature in the 1990s was beset by bleak announcements of the end of books, the end of postmodernism and even the end of literature. Yet as conservative critics marked the century's twilight hours by launching elegies for the conventional canon, American writers proved the continuing vitality of their literature by reinvigorating inherited forms by adopting and adapting emerging technologies to narrative ends and by finding new voices that had remained outside that canon for too long. By reading 1990s literature in a sequence of shifting contexts from independent presses to the AIDS crisis and from angelology to virtual reality American Literature in Transition 1990 2000 provides the fullest map yet of the changing shape of a rich and diverse decade s literary production It offers new perspectives on the period s well known landmarks Toni Morrison Thomas Pynchon David Foster Wallace but also overdue recognition to writers such as Ana Castillo Evan Dara Steve Erickson and Carole Maso

The Translated Jew Leslie Morris,2018-09-15 The Translated Jew brings together an eclectic set of literary and visual texts to reimagine the transnational potential for German Jewish culture in the twenty first century Departing from scholarship that has located the German Jewish text as an object that can be defined geographically and historically Leslie Morris challenges national literary historiography and redraws the maps by which transnational Jewish culture and identity must be read Morris explores the myriad acts of translation actual and metaphorical through which Jewishness leaves its traces taking as a given the always provisional nature of Jewish text and Jewish language Although the focus is on contemporary German Jewish literary cultures The Translated Jew also turns its attention to a number of key visual and architectural projects by American British and French artists and writers including W G Sebald Anne Blonstein H l ne Cixous Ulrike Mohr Daniel Blaufuks Paul Celan Raymond Federman and Rose Ausl nder In thus realigning German Jewish culture with European and American Jewish culture and post Holocaust aesthetics this book explores the circulation of Jewishness between the United States and Europe The insistence on the polylingualism of any single language and the multidirectionality of Jewishness are at the very center of The Translated Jew Powerless Fictions? Ricardo

Miguel-Alfonso,2023-04-12 Postmodern Studies deals with any aspect of postmodernism or of postmodernity and the postmodern in relation to literature Postmodernizing the Holocaust Marta Tomczok,2024-01-22 Marta Tomczok presents all Polish postmodern novels about the Holocaust starting with The First Splendor by Leopold Buczkowski and ending with The Suspected Dybbuk by Andrzej Bart She also presents their rich relationships with selected foreign language prose which intensified especially at the turn of the 20th and 21st centuries The culmination of the entire trend is a discussion around two novels Tworci by Marek Bie czyk and Fly Trap Factory by Andrzej Bart which reveals the aestheticizing and post memorial profile of Polish postmodernization and its advantage over the historiosophical trend This monograph is not only the first such collection of post Holocaust postmodern novels but also the first comprehensive study of postmodernism in the literature about the Holocaust which thanks to comparative analysis tries to analyze and explain the circumstances of the appearance and later disappearance of this trend from cultural landscape of the world and Poland Holocaustic Nicola

Maurizio Strazzanti,2011 The Holocaust Novel Efraim Sicher,2013-10-31 The first comprehensive study of Holocaust literature as a major postwar literary genre The Holocaust Novel provides an ideal student guide to the powerful and moving works written in response to this historical tragedy This student friendly volume answers a dire need for readers to understand a genre in which boundaries and often blurred between history fiction autobiography and memoir Other essential features for students here include an annotated bibliography chronology and further reading list Major texts discussed include such widely taught works as Night Maus The Shawl Schindler's List Sophie's Choice White Noise and Time's Arrow

La crisis de memoria y la Segunda Guerra Mundial Susan Rubin Suleiman, Daniel Aguirre Oteiza, 2019-05-21 Tanto los psicólogos como los historiadores han demostrado que el recuerdo de acontecimientos pasados no es estable sino cambiante y está sujeto a la influencia de las circunstancias actuales y los proyectos futuros de los individuos o los grupos sociales De manera semejante la historia misma es según la sugerente formulación de István R. V. la perpetua recreación del pasado Est claro que la Segunda Guerra Mundial y el Holocausto están entre nosotros En este libro estudio casos concretos en los que los recuerdos personales de la guerra presentados como memorias literarias ficción autobiográfica compleja película histórica picaresca o documental personal coinciden con la memoria pública o colectiva Susan Rubin Suleiman

Postmodern Plagiarisms Mirjam Horn, 2015-07-01 This monograph takes on the question of how literary plagiarism is defined exposed and sanctioned in Western culture and how appropriating language assigned to another author can be considered a radical subversive act in postmodern US American literature While various forms of art such as music painting or theater have come to institutionalize appropriation as a valid mode to ventilate what authorship originality and the anxiety of influence may mean the literary sphere still has a hard time acknowledging the unmarked acquisition of words ideas and manuscripts The author shows how postmodern plagiarism in particular serves as a literary strategy of appropriation at the interface between literary economics law and theoretical discourses of literature She investigates the complex expectations surrounding the strong link between an individual author subject and its alienable text a link that several postmodern writers powerfully question and violate Identifying three distinct practices of postmodern plagiarism the book examines their specific situatedness precepts and subversive potential as litmus tests for the literary market and the ongoing dynamic notion of the concepts authorship originality and creativity
