Feel Like Shoutin

Freddie L Quinn

Feel Like Shoutin:

You and I and Uncle Si Fred M. Allen, 1928 Shoutin' in the Fire Danté Stewart, 2021-10-12 A stirring meditation of being Black and learning to love in a loveless anti Black world Only once in a lifetime do we come across a writer like Dant Stewart so young and yet so masterful with the pen This work is a thing to make dungeons shake and hearts thunder Robert Jones Jr New York Times bestselling author of The Prophets In Shoutin in the Fire Dant Stewart gives breathtaking language to his reckoning with the legacy of white supremacy both the kind that hangs over our country and the kind that is internalized on a molecular level Stewart uses his personal experiences as a vehicle to reclaim and reimagine spiritual virtues like rage resilience and remembrance and explores how these virtues might function as a work of love against an unjust unloving world In 2016 Stewart was a rising leader at the predominantly white evangelical church he and his family were attending in Augusta Georgia Like many young church leaders Stewart was thrilled at the prospect of growing his voice and influence within the community and he was excited to break barriers as the church's first Black preacher But when Donald Trump began his campaign so began the unearthing Stewart started overhearing talk in the pews comments ranging from microaggressions to outright hostility toward Black Americans As this violence began to reveal itself en masse Stewart quickly found himself isolated amid a people unraveled this community of faith became the place where he and his family now found themselves most alone This set Stewart on a journey first out of the white church and then into a liberating pursuit of faith by looking to the wisdom of the saints that have come before including James H Cone James Baldwin and Toni Morrison and by heeding the paradoxical humility of Jesus himself This sharply observed journey is an intimate meditation on coming of age in a time of terror Stewart reveals the profound faith he discovered even after experiencing the violence of the American church a faith that loves Blackness speaks truth to pain and trauma and pursues a truer realer kind of love than the kind we're taught a love that sets us free They Met in Heaven George Hughes Hepworth, 1894 Jesus Told the U. S. a Bald-Faced Lie, I Got Proof Satan Has a Brother! Freddie L Quinn, Peggy Ware Milford Wriarson Howard, 1921 Silver Linings Joseph Morris Bachelor, 1927 At Random Run Gordon V. May, 1906 Black and White; A Novel Elizabeth Avery Meriwether, 2024-01-06 Reprint of the original first published in 1883 Red River Blues Bruce Bastin, 1995 A Classic of Blues Literature inductee into the Blues Foundation's Blues Hall of Fame Drawing on archives and interviews with musicians Red River Blues remains an acclaimed work of blues scholarship Bruce Bastin traces the origins of the music to the turn of the twentieth century when African Americans rejected slave songs worksongs and minstrel music in favor of a potent new vehicle for secular musical expression Bastin looks at the blues early emerging popularity and its spread via the Great Migration delves into a wealth of field recordings and looks at the careers of Brownie McGhee Blind Boy Fuller Curly Weaver Sonny Terry and many other foundational artists The Standard, 1906 Power Charity C. Elder, 2022-10-18 Black women are dope because they rise and are yet rising This dopeness is not hyperbolic or symbolic rather it is borne of persecution that has failed to frustrate a perseverant persistence to prevail Before sea to shining sea Before spacious skies were pierced by purple mountains Before the uniting of one nation Black women learned to rise In POWER THE RISE OF BLACK WOMEN IN AMERICA award winning journalist and digital media executive Charity C Elder posits that there has never been a better time to be a Black woman in the United States POWER is an incisive disquisition on Black womanhood weaving theoretical frameworks of history and sociology with poignant interviews ethnographic observation and anecdotes gleaned from history social media pop culture and the author s lived experiences Using data the author substantiates the triumph of Black women Original analysis of eighty years of US census data prepared by the University of Minnesota and analyzed by Dr Constance F Citro documents the remarkable ascension of Black women since the early twentieth century An exclusive national survey conducted in partnership with the Marist Poll in 2021 not only reveals that 70 percent of Black women say they have been successful in life but also that most believe they have the power to succeed POWER does not shy away from the realities of structural oppression identified by the late Black feminist scholar bell hooks rather it illuminates how Black women exercise agency to create meaningful lives Success is not an anomaly but a defining characteristic Black women have amassed power now Elder posits they need to acknowledge it and then wield the hell out of it Love Letters From A Doughboy Margie Howd,2018-08-09 Thomas Fletcher first sees her in 1916 at a drug store in Birmingham Alabama He doesn t know her but her brown hair and beautiful eyes captivate him He soon learns her name Juliette Wilcox and she would learn his Their attraction cannot be denied but something stands in their way Thomas is a drafted soldier about to be sent to Europe to fight in the dreaded World War I Although Juliette begs for them to be married before he goes to boot camp he doesn t want to leave her a widow Their letters will keep them close Letters are all they will have until he returns from the battlefield hopefully alive For the next four years letters arrive from far off France and Germany to Juliette s front porch in Alabama For the next four years their love grows develops and increases Even so war is a dark force and many men never return Will Thomas be one of the soldiers lost or will he come home and make Juliette s dreams of marriage a happy reality

Blues & Gospel Records, 1890-1943 Robert M. W.

Dixon,John Godrich,Howard Rye,1997 Since its first edition in 1964 Dixon and Godrich s Blues and Gospel Records has been dubbed the bible for collectors of pre war African American music It provides an exhaustive listing of all recordings made up to the end of 1943 in a distinctively African American musical style excluding those customarily classed as jazz which are the subject of separate discographies The book covers recordings made for the commercial market whether issued at the time or not and also recordings made for the Library of Congress Archive of Folk Song and similar bodies about 20 000 titles in all by more than 3 000 artists For each recording session full details are given of artist credit accompaniment place and date of recording titles issuing company and catalogue numbers matrix numbers and alternate takes There are also short accounts of the major race labels which recorded blues and gospel material and a complete list of field trips to the south by travelling recording units Howard Rye has joined the original compilers for this thoroughly revised fourth edition The scope has been enlarged by the addition of about 150 new artists in addition to newly discovered recordings by other artists Early cylinder recordings of gospel music from the 1890s are also included for the first time Previous editions of this work were applauded for their completeness accuracy and reliability This has now been enhanced by the addition of new information from record labels and from record company files and by listening to a wide selection of titles and detailed cross checking

Passion in Action Rowland Stout, 2025-06-05 Developing a sophisticated and original approach to the nature of emotion this volume demonstrates that the way we feel about things is simultaneously a product of our reason and a force on it an aspect both of our agency and of our passivity As a force on the way we think about things emotions are passions and felt as such As a product of the way we think about things having emotions means we find values in our world Starting from a conception of what it is to be sensitive to reason Stout develops an account of emotional dispositions as manifested in forming and maintaining goals When these dispositions are active we feel like behaving in certain ways and this feeling characterizes the phenomenological aspect of emotional states Each type of emotion corresponds to a characteristic behavioural pattern Since emotional states are rational responses to features of our environment having an emotion means that we are treating our environment as meriting that emotional state i e as having value It follows that every emotion corresponds to a rational perspective a way of thinking about things The familiar problem of emotional recalcitrance where you know your emotional state is not rational but cannot stop feeling that way is resolved by showing how we may have rational perspectives on our rational perspectives
