Female War:

Ukrainian Female War Migrants Izabela Grabowska, Ivanna Kyliushyk, Emil Chról, 2025-06-05 This book delves into the experiences of Ukrainian women forced to leave their country in search of refuge following the devastating escalation of Russian war in February 2022 exploring the diverse forms of capital they bring with them and develop on the way Drawing on extensive original research the book focuses on Ukrainian female war migrants in Poland a country that even before the war served as the primary destination for Ukrainian labour migrants and now hosts a significant number of refugees The book examines the human social psychological and economic capital Ukrainian women bring with them alongside their participation in the local labour market their mobilisation of resources and the acquisition of new skills and knowledge Far from merely documenting this historic wave of migration this book highlights the potential of Ukrainian women to become key agents in Ukraine's post war reconstruction and development by bringing social remittances such as ideas practices and norms back home with them Integrating advanced statistical analysis of data from over 340 migrants with rich qualitative insights this book will be an important resource for researchers studying migration security politics sociology and development It also provides valuable insights and data for NGOs and policymakers working to support Ukrainian migrants in Poland and beyond

The Women's War Deborah Montgomerie, 2001 This book explains the ambiguities of wartime changes in the private and public lives of New Zealand women It considers women as mothers wives and lovers as well as workers using many examples from real lives Deborah Montgomerie's main argument is that despite the changes the war was essentially a conservative period pointing out that understanding the continuities in gender relations is as important as cataloguing female firsts Her book stylishly challenges accepted wisdom and offers a clear fresh view of a period often viewed through the blurry lens of nostalgia and anecdote

BOOK JACKET     The Women's War ,     *The Woman War Correspondent, the U.S. Military, and the Press Carolyn M. Edy, 2016-12-13 Honorable Mention recipient for the American Journalism Historians Association Book of the Year Award this book outlines the rich history of more than 250 women who worked as war correspondents up through World War II while demonstrating the ways in which the press and the military both promoted and prevented their access to war Despite the continued presence of individual female war correspondents in news accounts if not always in war zones it was not until 1944 that the military recognized these individuals as a group and began formally considering sex as a factor for recruiting and accrediting war correspondents This group identity created obstacles for women who had previously worked alongside men as war correspondents while creating opportunities for many women whom the military recruited to cover woman's angle news as women war correspondents This book also reveals the ways the military and the press as well as women themselves constructed the concepts of woman war correspondent and war correspondent and how these concepts helped and hindered the work of all war correspondents even as they challenged and ultimately expanded the public's understanding of war and of women

The Women's War Alexandre Dumas, 2007-03-27 A

swashbuckling novel by the author of The Three Musketeers Set in the same period as his best known novel Alexandre Dumas's forgotten masterpiece Le Monde features two steely and preternaturally modern heroines fighting on opposite sides of the wars that ravaged seventeenth century France An unabashed page turner humorous dramatic and crackling with panache this new English translation the first in more than 100 years shows Dumas at the peak of his powers

Modernist Women Writers and War Julie Goodspeed-Chadwick, 2011 In Modernist Women Writers and War Julie Goodspeed Chadwick examines important avant garde writings by three American women authors and shows that during World Wars I and II a new kind of war literature emerged one in which feminist investigation of war and trauma effectively counters the paradigmatic war experience long narrated by men In the past Goodspeed Chadwick explains scholars have not considered writings by women as part of war literature They have limited war writing to works by men such as William Butler Yeats's poem An Irish Airman Foresees His Death 1919 which relies on a male perspective a pilot contemplates his forthcoming flight his duty to his country and his life in combat But works by Djuna Barnes H D and Gertrude Stein set in wartime reveal experiences and views of war markedly different from those of male writers They write women and their bodies into their texts thus creating space for female war writing insisting on female presence in wartime and perhaps most significantly critiquing war and patriarchal politics often in devastating fashion Goodspeed Chadwick begins with Barnes who in her surrealist novel Nightwood 1936 emphasizes the actual perversity of war by placing it in contrast to the purported perverse and deviant behavior of her main characters In her epic poem Trilogy 1944 1946 H D validates female suffering and projects a feminist spiritual worldview that fosters healing from the ravages of war Stein for her part in her experimental novel Mrs Reynolds 1952 and her long love poem Lifting Belly 1953 captures her experience of the everyday reality of war on the home front within the domestic economy of her household In these works the female body stands as the primary textual marker or symbol of female identity an insistence on women's presence in both the text and in the world outside the book The strategies employed by Barnes H D and Stein in these texts serve to produce a new kind of writing Goodspeed Chadwick reveals one that ineluctably constructs a female identity within and authorship of the war narrative

Women in War Kjersti Ericsson, 2016-03-09 This book examines what happens to women and gender relations in times of upheaval The experience of Norway during World War II with some visits to other parts of the world as well is used to demonstrate general gendered issues that are actualized in wars both past and present The authors explore whether gendered cultural conceptions influence the way war is remembered and represented both collectively and individually The collection discusses the various roles of women during the war from resistance fighter to German tart and how they were dealt with and treated in the aftermath The chapters examine the position of Jewish victims of persecution foreign female labourers and gay men as well as the gendered response exhibited by the courts in post war trials of female state police employees The book concludes by following the struggle to bring women's role in war and peacebuilding onto the international agenda This book will be of interest to students and scholars in the field of criminology as well as peace and conflict studies political science sociology of law history social work social pedagogy psychology and gender studies

Women and War Mary Raum, 2024-11-29 This volume explores how art and artifacts can tell women's stories of war a critical way into these stories often hidden due to the second tier status of reporting women's accomplishments This unique lens reveals personal cultural and historically noteworthy experiences often not found in records manuscripts and texts Nine stories from history are examined from the mythical Amazons of Ancient Greece to a female prisoner of war during World War II Each of the social political and battlefield experiences of Penthesilea Artemisia Boudica the feminine cavaliers the Dahomey Amazons suffragists World War I medical corps and a World War II prisoner of war are intertwined with a particular work of art or an artifact These include pottery iconographic images public sculpture stone engraving clothing decorative arts paintings and pulp art While each story stands alone brought together in this volume they represent a cross sectional reflection on the record of women and war The chapters cover not only a diverse range of women from around the globe the African continent the Hispanic territory of Europe Carian and Ancient Greece and Rome Iran Great Britain Scotland ancient Caledonia Western Europe and North America but also a diverse choice of artwork and artifacts eras and the nature of the wars being fought This book will be of value to those interested in gender across history and its interplay in the field of war

Women and Journalism Deborah Chambers, Linda Steiner, Carole Fleming, 2004-06-01 Women and Journalism offers a rich and comprehensive analysis of the roles status and experiences of women journalists in the United States and Britain Drawing on a variety of sources and dealing with a host of women journalists ranging from nineteenth century pioneers to Martha Gellhorn Kate Adie and Veronica Guerin the authors investigate the challenges women have faced in their struggle to establish reputations as professionals This book provides an account of the gendered structuring of journalism in print radio and television and speculates about women's still emerging role in online journalism Their accomplishments as war correspondents are tracked to the present including a study of the role they played post September 11th

Women and Journalism Suzanne Franks, 2013-08-30 In many countries the majority of high profile journalists and editors remain male Although there have been considerable changes in the prospects for women working in the media in the past few decades women are still noticeably in the minority in the top journalistic roles despite making up the majority of journalism students In this book Suzanne Franks looks at the key issues surrounding female journalists from on screen sexism and ageism to the dangers facing female foreign correspondents reporting from war zones She also analyses the way that the changing digital media have presented both challenges and opportunities for women working in journalism and considers this in an international perspective In doing so this book provides an overview of the ongoing imbalances faced by women in the media and looks at the key issues hindering gender equality in journalism

Women in Europe between the Wars Dr Angela Kershaw, Dr Angela Kimyongür, 2013-04-28 The central aim of this interdisciplinary book is to make visible the intentionality behind the forgetting of European women's contributions during the period between the two world wars in the context of politics culture and society It also seeks to record and analyse women's agency in the construction and reconstruction of Europe and its nation states after the First World War and thus to articulate ways in which the writing of women's history necessarily entails the rewriting of everyone's history By showing that the erasure of women's texts from literary and cultural history was not accidental but was ideologically motivated the essays explicitly and implicitly contribute to debates surrounding canon formation Other important topics are women's political activism during the period antifascism the contributions made by female journalists the politics of literary production genre women's relationship with and contributions to the avant garde women's professional lives and women's involvement in voluntary associations In bringing together the work of scholars whose fields of expertise are diverse but whose interests converge on the inter war period the volume invites readers to make connections and comparisons across the whole spectrum of women's political social and cultural activities throughout Europe

In Formation, 1998 Journalism's Ethical Progression John P. Ferré, Gwyneth Mellinger, 2019-11-27 Using case studies and historical analysis this book traces changes in ways that journalists understood their ethical responsibilities during the pre internet twentieth century Each chapter in this book explores a historical development in the evolution of journalists perceptions of their role as professionals
