Female Perversions:

Female Perversions Louise J. Kaplan, 1991-01 This is a researched foray into the minds of the perverse men and women governed by unconscious motives which distort their behaviour and give rise to shameful and forbidden desires Psychotherapist Dr Kaplan dispels the myth that perversion is the province of men alone and reveals female perversions which parody feminine models of submission and purity just as male perversions caricature masculine ideals of virility and exhibitionism are male afflictions while kleptomania self injury and anorexia are female phenomena She argues that all perversions are the products of gender stereotyping and that all are instruments of deception Using case studies and the illuminating story of Flaubert's Emma Bovary she unfolds the elements of the perverse strategy and opens the reader's mind to the recent trend in the 20th century to contain and regulate the gender ambiguities in each of us She also identifies the commercialization of deviant sexuality which trivialises the meaning of erotic freedom Cinematic Howling Hoi

Cheu, 2010-10-01 Cinematic Howling presents a refreshingly unorthodox framework for feminist film studies Instead of criticizing mainstream movies from feminist perspectives Hoi Cheu focuses on women's filmmaking itself Integrating systems theory and feminist aesthetics in his close readings of films and screenplays by women he considers how women engage the process of storytelling in cinema The importance of these films he argues is not merely that they reflect women's perceptions but that they have the power to reframe experiences and consequently to transform life A major contribution to feminist scholarship that will appeal to scholars of both gender and film Cinematic Howling is written in an approachable and inviting style full of vivid examples and attention to detail which will suit both undergraduate and graduate courses in gender film and cultural studies Dead Time Elissa Marder, 2001 This book explores how modernity gives rise to temporal disorders when time cannot be assimilated and integrated into the realm of lived experience It turns to Baudelaire and Flaubert in order to derive insights into the many temporal disorders such as trauma addiction and fetishism that pervade contemporary culture

Female Fetishism Lorraine Gamman, Merja Makinen, 1995 The aura of passivity that has for centuries surrounded female sexuality in popular culture psychology and literature has in recent years dissipated And yet fetishism one of the most intriguing and mysterious forms of sexual expression is still cast as an almost exclusively male domain Most psychoanalytic thought for instance excludes the very possibility of female fetishism The first book on the subject Female Fetishism engagingly documents women's involvement in this form of sexuality Lorraine Gamman and Merja Makinen describe a wide array of female fetishisms from the obsessional behavior of pop fans and pop performers such as Madonna to fetishism in advertising to women's involvement in the world of dress clubs and fetish magazines The authors provide provocative evidence of food fetishism among women arguing that many eating disorders are best understood from this perspective A latter portion of the book includes a discussion of how feminists have treated the political and cultural significance of female fetishism Women, Writing, and Fetishism, 1890-1950 Clare L. Taylor, 2003 Clare L Taylor investigates the problematic question of female fetishism within modernist women's writing 1890-1950 Drawing on gender and psychoanalytic theory she re-examines the works of Sarah Grand Radclyffe Hall H D Djuna Barnes and Anaïs Nin in the context of clinical discourses of sexology and psychoanalysis to present an alternative theory of female fetishism challenging the perspective that denies the existence of the perversion in women

The Psychology of Female Violence Anna Motz, 2008 What are the causes of violence in women What can be done to help these women and their victims Why does society deny the fact of female violence This book explores the nature and causes of female violence from the perspectives of psychodynamic theory and forensic psychology This fully updated and expanded second edition explores developments in research and services for violent women Recent high profile cases of female violence are discussed alongside clinical material and theory New topics include the Victoria Climbié Inquiry the controversy related to the diagnosis of Münchausen's Syndrome by Proxy Dangerous and Severe Personality Disorder in women and the impact of pro-anorexia and pro-bulimia websites New chapters address central clinical issues of working with women who kill and designing therapeutic services for women in secure mental health settings Other major topics include Women who sexually and physically abuse children Infanticide Fabricated and induced illness Self-Harm The Psychology of Female Violence will be valuable to trainees and practitioners working in the fields of clinical and forensic psychology women's studies sociology psychiatric nursing social work probation counselling psychoanalysis the criminal justice system and criminology

The Blue Box Frances Restuccia, 2012-03-01 Informed by the theory of Julia Kristeva Frances Restuccia analyzes a variety of contemporary films replete with psychoanalytic subject matter and styles She examines films that present elaborate fantasies and through them prompt the viewer to cut across a crippling fundamental fantasy by enabling a mapping of his or her private fantasy onto the one being played out on the screen Such absorption is a function of the semiotic dimension of the film which offers the spectator an experience of intimacy negativity the gaze and death Kristeva stresses that cinema has the power to bestow desiring subjectivity as a way of resisting the society of the spectacle through the specular Through analyses of complex films such as Streitfeld's Female Perversions Lynch's Mulholland Drive Almodóvar's Volver and Haneke's Caché The Blue Box Kristevan Lacanian Readings of Contemporary Film demonstrates Julia Kristeva's concept of the thought specular from her fascinating chapter Fantasy and Cinema in Intimate Revolt Kristeva deserves our full attention as a film theorist

When the Body Is the Target Sharon Klayman Farber, 2002-11-05 In this comprehensive and insightful work Dr Sharon K Farber provides an invaluable resource for the mental health professional who is struggling to understand self-harm and its origins Using attachment theory to explain how addictive connections to pain and suffering develop she discusses various kinds and functions of self-harm behavior From eating disorders to body modifications such as tattooing Dr Farber explores the language of self-harm and the translation of that language and its psychic functions in the therapeutic setting She tells us When the body weeps tears of blood we need to wonder what terrible sorrows cannot be spoken Brilliantly illustrated with rich clinical material this book offers a practical approach to the diagnosis assessment and treatment of the increasing number of patients whose emotions are expressed through bodily harm The challenges of working with patients who tend to view the world of relationships in terms of predator and prey are clearly explicated and the stormy countertransference responses that threaten to destroy the treatment are given a full hearing Finally she shows how the attachment relationship formed in treatment can repair the traumatic attachment in mind body psyche and soul and can serve as the cornerstone of therapeutic change A Jason Aronson Book

Sexuality Chess Denman,2017-05-01 Of interest to psychotherapists and counsellors of all kinds this text describes key issues and controversies in human sexuality as they present in therapy practice The author uses the biopsychosocial approach to human behaviour to analyze sexual behaviour object choice transgendered experience sexual problems transgressive sex and sex therapy Issues of sexuality in the consulting room including transference and countertransference are discussed and throughout therapeutic approaches to sexual problems are presented The human capacity for inventive imagining is presented as an important force for beneficial change and in relation to sexuality discussed in terms of the erotic imagination

Practical Approaches to Teaching Film Rachel S. Ritterbusch,2020-07-24 Rachel Ritterbusch s Practical Approaches to Teaching Film is a collection of essays focusing on the use of film in settings ranging from an introductory film class to an upper division Women s Studies course Drawing on their experience in the classroom contributors to this anthology show how movies can be used to promote critical thinking create an awareness of the male gaze challenge dominant ideology and unmask the constructedness of film This volume treats a wide variety of film texts from box office hits like The Da Vinci Code to underappreciated art films such as Susan Streitfeld s Female Perversions from P p le Moko and other French classics to more contemporary francophone works like Chaos and Rosetta from self reflexive films that interrogate the act of filmmaking itself to those that draw attention to the phallogocentric nature of cinematic apparatus Common to all these essays is the belief that if used judiciously film can be a valuable pedagogical tool Aimed both at those currently teaching film and those wishing to do so this volume provides practical support in the form of sample syllabi assignments and a glossary of film terms

Perversion Now! Diana Caine,Colin Wright,2017-04-06 This collection written by leading Lacanian psychoanalytic theorists and practitioners explores the impact of shifts in contemporary culture politics and society on the notion of perversion which has undergone numerous profound changes in recent years The book explores a wide range of issues from changes in the psychoanalytic clinic to transformations in the relationship between transgression and the law from the epistemic and diagnostic status of perversion as a term to the perverse turn in contemporary politics from representations of perversion in cultural productions to the interpretation of perverse cultural practices Topical and controversial academics and students of psychoanalysis critical and cultural theory and media studies will find this collection invaluable In providing cutting edge theoretical debate the book will also be attractive to practising and training psychoanalysts and psychoanalytic psychotherapists div and Perversion A. Schaffner, 2015-12-11 Charting the construction of sexual perversions in nineteenth and early twentieth century medical psychiatric and psychological discourse Schaffner argues that sexologists preoccupation with these perversions was a response to specifically modern concerns and illuminates the role of literary texts in the formation of sexological knowledge

Perversion Prof. Lisa Downing, Dany Nobus, 2018-04-24 Perversion its ubiquity in infantile life and its persistence in the psychical and sexual lives of some adults was a central element of Freud's lifelong work The problem of perversion has since been revisited by many psychoanalytic schools with the result that Freud's original view of perversion has been replaced by numerous often contradictory perspectives on its aetiology development and treatment The concept of perversion has also been significant for the disciplines of cultural studies and gender and queer theory which have explored the creative and dissident powers of perversion while expressing a suspicion of its operation as a pathological category This bi partite collection offers a series of perspectives on perversion by a range of psychoanalytic practitioners and theorists edited by Dany Nobus and a selection of papers by scholars who work with or critique psychoanalytic theories of perversion edited by Lisa Downing It stages a serious dialogue between psychoanalysis and its commentators on the controversial issue of non normative sexuality

Covert Operations Karma Lochrie, 2012-05-28 Selected by Choice magazine as an Outstanding Academic Book In Covert Operations Karma Lochrie brings the categories and cultural meanings of secrecy in the Middle Ages out into the open Isolating five broad areas confession women s gossip medieval science and medicine marriage and the law and sodomitic discourse Lochrie examines various types of secrecy and the literary texts in which they are played out She reads texts as central to Middle English studies as the Parson s Tale the Miller s Tale the Secretum Secretorum and Sir Gawain and the Green Knight as well as a broad range of less familiar works including a gynecological treatise and a little known fifteenth century parody in which gossip and confession become one As she does so she reveals a great deal about the medieval past and perhaps just as much about the early development of the concealments that shape the present day

Consuming the Body Dawn Woolley,2022-09-08 Consuming the Body examines contemporary consumerism and the commodified construction of ideal gendered bodies paying particular attention to the new forms of interaction produced by social networking sites Describing the behaviours of an ideal neoliberal subject Woolley identifies modes of discipline forms of pleasure and opportunities for subversion in an examination of how individuals are addressed and the ways in which they are expected to respond Key modes of address that compel the consumer to consume are sadistic commands communicated in adverts TV programmes and magazine articles a fetishistic gaze that dissects the body into parts to be improved through commodification and a hystericized insistent presence that compels the consumer to present their body for critique and appreciation that is exemplified in the selfie Woolley interprets the visual characteristics of different types of selfies including fitpiration thinspiration fatpiration and bodypositivity to understand how they relate to current body ideals Healthism and culture bound illnesses such as hysteria and eating disorders are examined to demonstrate the impact of commodified body ideals on consumers bodies An analysis of thinspiration images photographs of emaciated bodies shared on pro eating disorder blogs and websites suggests that the anorexic body represents the logical and fatal end point for the idealised body in consumer culture Fat acceptance selfies suggest there is a fourth mode of address empowering presence that has the potential to liberate consumers from the trap of visibleness produced by the other three modes of address In conclusion the book identifies some creative methods for producing selfies that evade commoditisation and discipline Making Sense of Self-harm Peter Steggals,2015-10-05 Making Sense of Self Harm provides an alternative approach to understanding nonsuicidal self injury using Cultural Sociology to analyse it more as a practice than an illness and exploring it as a powerful cultural idiom of personal distress and social estrangement that is peculiarly resonant with the symbolic life of late modern society
