Feminism And Postmodernism

Susan J. Hekman

Feminism And Postmodernism:

Women's Liberation and the Sublime Bonnie Mann, 2006 Women's Liberation and the Sublime is a passionate report on the state of feminist thinking and practice after the linguistic turn. A critical assessment of masculinist notions of the sublime in modern and postmodern accounts grounds the author's positive and constructive recuperation of sublime experience in a feminist voice.

Feminism/postmodernism M. Prabhakar, 1999 Feminism/ Postmodernism/ Development Marianne H Marchand, Jane L. Parpart, 2003-09-02 Drawing on the experiences of women from Africa, Latin America and Asia, this book challenges traditional development practices of North over South, arguing for the inclusion of issues such as identity and political action as the way forward.

Feminism/postmodernism Linda J. Nicholson, 1990 Feminism Postmodernism asks the question: is a postmodern feminist politics possible? This anthology draws on prominent contemporary theorists to attempt a response. The contributors examine the meaning of postmodernism both as a position of method and a diagnosis of the times. They consider issues such as the nature of personal and social identity today, the relevance of location in constituting theory, the political implications of recent aesthetic trends and the consequence of changing work and family relations on women's lives.

Gender and Knowledge Susan J. Hekman, 2013-05-02 After the success of the hardback, students and academics will welcome the publication of this book in paperback. The aim of the book is to explore the connection between two perspectives that have had a profound effect upon contemporary thought: postmodernism and feminism. Through bringing together and systematically analysing the relations between these, Hekman is able to make a major intervention into current debates in social theory and philosophy. The critique of Enlightenment knowledge she argues is at the core of both postmodernism and feminism. Each also offers a basis for critical reflections about the other. In particular, postmodern philosophy provides a means of criticizing aspects of contemporary feminism and thus contributing to the development of a more sophisticated approach to current feminist issues.

Feminism and Postmodernism Margaret W. Ferguson, Jennifer Wicke, 1994 This collection of essays explores the significant agreements and tensions between contemporary feminist and postmodern theories and practices. Having brought enormous changes to conceptions of the body, identity and the media, postmodernity compels the rethinking of many feminist categories, including female experience, the self and the notion that the personal is political. Feminist analysis has been equally important though not always equally acknowledged as a force within postmodernism. Feminist writings on subjectivity, master narratives and the socioeconomic underpinnings of the master narrative of theory itself have been particularly influential. This volume traces the crossings and mutual interrogations of these two traditions into the arenas of cultural production, legal discourse and philosophical thought. Multidisciplinary and international in their collective focus, the essays range from a study of Madonna as an Italian American woman who is revising the cultural meanings of an ethnic feminism to a unique interview with Mairead Keane, the national head of the Women's Department of the Irish political party Sinn Féin. Turning the prism of postmodern feminism onto such diverse cultural objects as literary and literary critical texts contemporary film and music these essays intervene in debates regarding technology sexuality and politics Challenging modern feminisms to articulate their inescapable relation to postmodern society this expanded edition of a special issue of boundary 2 also explores ways in which feminism can work as the cutting edge of a global postmodernism Contributors Salwa Bakr Claire Detels Margaret Ferguson Carla Freccero Marjorie Garber Barbara Harlow Laura E Lyons Anne McClintock Toril Moi Linda Nicholson Mary Poovey Andrew Ross David Simpson Kathryn Bond Stockton Jennifer Wicke

Differences that Matter Sara Ahmed, 1998-11-26 Differences That Matter challenges existing ways of theorising the relationship between feminism and postmodernism which ask is or should feminism be modern or postmodern Sara Ahmed suggests that postmodernism has been allowed to dictate feminist debates and calls instead for feminist theorists to speak back to postmodernism rather than simply speak on their relationship to it Such a speaking back involves a refusal to position postmodernism as a generalisable condition of the world and requires closer readings of what postmodernism is actually doing in a variety of disciplinary contexts Sara Ahmed hence examines constructions of postmodernism in relation to rights ethics subjectivity authorship meta fiction and film

Women's Liberation and the Sublime Marilyn Friedman, 2006-10-19 The notion of citizenship is complex it can be at once an identity a set of rights privileges and responsibilities an elevated and exclusionary status a relationship between individual and state and more In recent decades citizenship has attracted interdisciplinary attention particularly with the transnational growth of Western capitalism Yet citizenship's relationship to gender has gone relatively unexplored despite the globally pervasive denial of citizenship to women historically and in many places ongoing today This highly interdisciplinary volume explores the political and cultural dimensions of citizenship and their relevance to women and gender Containing essays by a well known group of scholars including Iris Marion Young Alison Jaggar Martha Nussbaum and Sandra Bartky this book examines the conceptual issues and strategies at play in the feminist quest to give women full citizenship status The contributors take a fresh look at the issues going beyond conventional critiques and examine problems in the political and social arrangements practices and conditions that diminish women's citizenship in various parts of the world

Postmodernism, Feminism, and Cultural Politics Henry A. Giroux, 1991-01-01 This book introduces central assumptions that govern postmodern and feminist theory offering educators a language to create new ways of conceiving pedagogy and its relationship to social cultural and intellectual life It challenges some of the major categories and practices that have dominated educational theory and practice in the United States and in other countries since the beginning of the twentieth century Rejecting the apolitical nature of some postmodern discourses and the separatism characteristic of some versions of cultural feminism the contributors take a political stand rooted in concern with cultural and social justice In so doing these essays represent a linguistic shift regarding how we think about ethics foundationalism difference and culture The selections present a concern with developing a language that is critical of master narratives racism sexism and those technologies of power in schools that subjugate infantilize and oppress students The authors also develop a language of possibility that focuses on analyzing how power can be linked productively to knowledge how teachers can construct classroom social relations based on notions of equity and justice how critical pedagogy can contribute to an identity politics that is grounded in democratic relations and how teachers can develop analyses that enable students to become self reflective actors as they transform themselves and the conditions of their social existence Thinking Fragments Jane Flax,2023-04-28 This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1990 Gender, Culture, and Power Ben Agger,1993-11-30 Agger develops a critical theory which confronts the challenges of feminism and postmodernism in order to address postmodernity adequately Drawing on first generation critical theory of Horkheimer Adorno and Marcuse and second generation critical theory of Habermas Agger argues for the priority of critical theory over the antitotality perspectives of postmodernism and feminism Although Frankfurt critical theory postmodernism and feminism are often viewed as divergent Agger develops an argument for synthesis outlining what he calls the logic of feminist postmodern critical theory He then applies the logic to particular social political textual and cultural problems Building especially on the feminist critique of the domination of women s reproductive activities by a male standard of value this new theoretical logic connects social problems heretofore seen as separable especially those which derive from the intellectual agenda of multiculturalism Feminism and Postmodernism Margaret W. Ferguson,Jennifer Wicke,1992 Enlightened Women Alison Assiter,2005-08-02 Enlightened Women is a concise guide to contemporary thought in postmodernist feminism analysing some of the most influential postmodern theorists whilst giving a unique defence of realism and enlightenment philosophy A Thrice-Told Tale Margery Wolf,1992-04 A Thrice Told Tale is one ethnographer s imaginative and powerful response to the methodological issues raised by feminist and postmodernist critics of traditional ethnography The author a feminist anthropologist uses three texts developed out of her research in Taiwan a piece of fiction anthropological fieldnotes and a social science article to explore some of these criticisms Each text takes a different perspective is written in a different style and has different outcomes yet all three involve the same fascinating set of events A young mother began to behave in a decidedly aberrant perhaps suicidal manner and opinion in her village was sharply divided over the reason Was she becoming a shaman possessed by a god Was she deranged in need of physical restraint drugs and hospitalization Or was she being cynically manipulated by her ne'er do well husband to elicit sympathy and money from her neighbors In the end the woman was taken away from the area to her mother s house For some villagers this settled the matter for others the debate over her behavior was probably never truly resolved The first text is a short story written shortly after the incident which occurred almost thirty years ago the second text is a copy of the fieldnotes collected about the events covered in the short story the third text is an article published in 1990 in American Ethnologist that analyzes the incident from the author's current perspective Following each text is a Commentary in which the author discusses such topics as experimental ethnography polyvocality authorial presence and control reflexivity and some of the differences between fiction and ethnography The three texts are framed by two chapters in which the author discusses the general problems posed by feminist and postmodernist critics of ethnography and presents her personal exploration of these issues in an argument that is strongly self reflexive and theoretically rigorous She considers some feminist concerns over colonial research methods and takes issues with the insistence of some feminists that the topics of ethnographic research be set by those who are studied The book concludes with a plea for ethnographic responsibility based on a less academic and more practical perspective

Feminism After Postmodernism? Marysia Zalewski, 2003-09-02 Highly original and stimulating this book provides a detailed overview of postmodern feminist theory and practice Subjects covered include the differences between the feminism of the 1970s and contemporary feminism liberal radical socialist and postmodern feminisms feminist reactions to the growth in reproductive technologies how feminism informs debates about the subject epistemology and political action feminism into the new millennium Feminism/postmodernism/postfeminism, 1995 Aliens and Others Jenny Wolmark, 1994

Feminism and Postmodern Theory Joan Nordquist, 1996 Ludic Feminism and After Teresa L. Ebert, 1996 A provocative and controversial challenge to postmodern academic feminism Leaky Bodies and Boundaries Margrit Shildrick, 1997 Drawing on postmodernist analyses this text presents a feminist investigation into the marginalisation of women within western discourse that denies female moral agency and embodiment
