Demanding Equality Joan Sangster, 2021-06-15 For one hundred years women fashioned different dreams of social transformation in their search for equality autonomy and dignity yet what is Canadian feminism Demanding Equality offers illustrations of feminist thought and organizing from mid nineteenth century Enlightenment inspired writing to the multi issue movement of the 1980s Broadening our definition of feminism and recognizing that its political cultural and social dimensions are entangled Joan Sangster explores the different pathways pursued to gain equality She challenges the popular wave theory concluding that feminist activism was continuous despite changing significantly across decades Demanding Equality presents a picture of a heterogeneous movement characterized by both alliances and fierce internal debates This comprehensive rear view look at feminism in all its political guises encourages a wider public conversation about what Canadian feminism has been is and should be

Feminist History in Canada Catherine Carstairs, Nancy Janovicek, 2013-11-25 In the late 1970s feminist historians urged us to rethink Canada by placing women s experiences at the centre of historical analysis Forty years later feminism continues to inform history writing and has inspired historians to look beyond the nation and adopt a more global perspective This exciting new volume of original essays opens with a discussion of the themes and methodological approaches that have preoccupied historians over the past twenty years The chapters that follow showcase the work of new and established scholars who draw on critical race theory postcolonial theory and transnational history to re examine familiar topics such as biography and oral history paid and unpaid work marriage and family and women s political action Whether they focus on the marriage of Governor James Douglas and his Metis wife Amelia or on the experiences of Qu b cois domestic workers in the 1970s the contributors demonstrate the continued relevance of history informed by feminist perspectives and open a much needed dialogue between francophone and anglophone historians in Canada

Challenging Times Constance Backhouse, David H. Flaherty, 1992-08-04 By allowing the reader to draw comparisons between women s movements in Canada and the United States Challenging Times shows that certain political and theoretical issues transcend international borders ebbing and flowing between the two countries symbiotically Topics discussed include the origins of second stage feminism the strength of the women s movement within academic structures and the challenges posed by racial ethnic and class diversity violence against women the promise and limits of legal reform reproductive technology and economic discrimination Readers who are interested in the recent history of the North American women s movement will find answers to many of their questions about the victories defeats and fundamental challenges facing modern feminism Those who have been active in the current wave of feminism either as central participants or serious critics will find Challenging Times equally fascinating because it endeavours to provide answers to pressing questions about the nature of feminism the inter relationships and tensions between different sectors of the movement and the prospects for future growth Many of the contributors to this volume have lived through and personally

Changing Women, Changing History Diana Lynn Pedersen, 1996 Changing Women Changing History is a bibliographic guide to the scholarship both English and French on Canadian's women's history Organized under broad subject headings and accompanied by author and subject indices it is accessible and comprehensive      Emigré Feminism Alena Heitlinger, 1999-01-01 The thirteen articles presented here originated with a conference on emigre feminism held at Trent University in October 1996 The authors most of them now living in Canada are scholars from South Africa Uganda Chile Trinidad and Tobago Greece Hungary the Czech Republic Poland Turkey Iran Finland and New Zealand      Canadian Women Shaping Diasporic Religious Identities Becky R. Lee, Terry Tak-ling Woo, 2016-01-01 This collection of essays explores how women from a variety of religious and cultural communities have contributed to the richly textured pluralistic society of Canada. Focusing on women's religiosity, it examines the ways in which they have carried and conserved and brought forward and transformed their cultures old and new in modern Canada. Each essay explores the ways in which the religiosities of women serve as locations for both the assertion and the refashioning of individual and communal identity in transcultural contexts. Three shared assumptions guide these essays: religion plays a dynamic role in the shaping and reshaping of social cultures; women are active participants in their transmission and their transformation; and a focus on women's activities within their religious traditions often informal and unofficial provides new perspectives on the intersection of religion, gender, and transnationalism. Since the first European migrations, Canada has been shaped by immigrant communities as they negotiated the tension between preserving their religious and cultural traditions and embracing the new opportunities in their adopted homeland. Viewing those interactions through the lens of women's religiosity, the essays in this collection model an innovative approach and provide new perspectives for students and researchers of Canadian Studies, Religious Studies, and Women's Studies.

What Lies Ahead? Canada's Engagement with the Middle East Peace Process and the Palestinians Jeremy Wildeman, Emma Swan, 2021-12-26. This edited volume explores Canada's foreign policy relationship with the Palestinians and broader Middle East Peace Process (MEPP). Canada was intensively involved from 1992 to 2000 in peacebuilding as a mediator in the multilateral part of the MEPP, as chair of the Refugee Working Group and sponsor of Track II negotiations. This all changed after a significant mid-2000s discursive and policy shift when Canada withdrew from the politics of Israel-Palestine peacebuilding and took a strong partisan stance in favour of Israel. Through 10 chapters by current and former government insiders and academics with extensive field experience, this unique edited volume offers insight into decades of evolution in Canadian policy toward the Palestinians, MEPP, and the Middle East. It arrives at an important time when the international community is reconsidering how it views Israel's entrenched occupation of the Palestinians after three failed decades of United States-led efforts to find peace through a negotiated two-state model. Today, peace may never have appeared further away after the Trump Administration adopted policies directly contradictory to the MEPP. This proved a test to Canada's own official policy toward Israel and Palestine, its longest running and most important region of engagement in the Middle East. The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the Canadian Foreign Policy Journal, guest edited by Jeremy Wildeman and Emma Swan.
