Feminist Literary History A Theoretical Analysis Of Narrative Fiction

Julie Rivkin, Michael Ryan

Feminist Literary History A Theoretical Analysis Of Narrative Fiction:

Routledge Encyclopedia of Narrative Theory David Herman, Manfred Jahn, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2010-06-10 The past several decades have seen an explosion of interest in narrative with this multifaceted object of inquiry becoming a central concern in a wide range of disciplinary fields and research contexts As accounts of what happened to particular people in particular circumstances and with specific consequences stories have come to be viewed as a basic human strategy for coming to terms with time process and change However the very predominance of narrative as a focus of interest across multiple disciplines makes it imperative for scholars teachers and students to have access to a comprehensive reference resource

A Glossary of Literary and Cultural Theory Peter Brooker, 2016-12-08 The Glossary of Literary and Cultural Theory provides researchers and students with an up to date guide through the vibrant and changing debates in Literary and Cultural Studies In a field where meanings are frequently complex and ambiguous this text is remarkable for its clarity and usefulness This third edition includes 17 entirely new entries and updates to more than a dozen others which address key concepts and contemporary positions in both literary and cultural theory New entries include Actor Network Theory Anthropocene Ecocriticism Digital Humanities Postcapitalism World Literature

Narratology Susana Onega, Jose Angel Garcia Landa, 2014-09-19 This text provides an excellent introduction and overview of Narratology a rapidly growing field in the humanities Literary narratologists have provided many key concepts and analytical tools which are widely used in the interdisciplinary analysis of such narrative features as plot point of view speech presentation ideological perspective and interpretation The introduction explains the central concepts of narratology their historical development and draws together contemporary trends from many different disciplines into common focus It offers a compendium of the development of narratology from classical poetics to the present The essays are all prefaced by individual forewords helping the reader to place each individual selection in context Recent developments are assessed across disciplines highlighting the mutual influences of narratology and deconstruction psychoanalysis feminism film and media studies

Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture

Critical Theory: The Key Concepts Dino Felluga, 2015-04-17 Critical Theory The Key Concepts introduces over 300 widely used terms categories and ideas drawing upon well established approaches like new historicism postmodernism psychoanalysis Marxism and narratology as well as many new critical theories of the last twenty years such as Actor Network Theory Global Studies Critical Race Theory and Speculative Realism This book explains the key concepts at the heart of a wide range of influential theorists from Agamben to i ek Entries range from concise definitions to longer more explanatory essays and include terms such as Aesthetics Desire Dissensus Dromocracy Hegemony Ideology Intersectionality Late Capitalism Performativity Race Suture Featuring cross referencing throughout a substantial bibliography and index Critical Theory The Key Concepts is an accessible and easy to use guide This book is an invaluable introduction covering a wide range of subjects for anyone who is studying or has an interest in critical theory past and present

Encyclopedia of Feminist Theories Lorraine Code, 2002-06-01 The path breaking Encyclopedia of Feminist Theories is an accessible multidisciplinary insight into the complex field of feminist thought The Encyclopedia contains over 500 authoritative entries commissioned from an international team of contributors and includes clear concise and provocative explanations of key themes and ideas Each entry contains cross references and a bibliographic guide to further reading over 50 biographical entries provide readers with a sense of how the theories they encounter have developed out of the lives and situations of their authors

A Writing Halfway Between Theory and Fiction Miriam Wallraven, 2007 This book is focused on the surprisingly large number of feminist women writers in literary history who use different genres for their feminist ideas while subverting or transgressing established boundaries between fictional and theoretical writing In particular texts by such diverse authors as Mary Wollstonecraft Mary Hays Mary Robinson Harriet Martineau Olive Schreiner Virginia Woolf the French Feminists H l ne Cixous and Monique Wittig Margaret Cavendish and Mich le Roberts are analysed This chronological in depth reading of feminist texts is based on the interrelation of content genre and discourse The study provides the first analysis of the phenomenon of the gendering of genre and feminists troubled involvement in theory as well as literature In this way key questions concerning the emergence of feminism during the last four hundred years are presented in a new and revealing light e g for what reason did Mary Wollstonecraft not only write her famous feminist treatise A Vindication of the Rights of Woman but also a novel in which she tests the arguments of her theoretical treatise by means of fiction What is the significance of Virginia Woolf s Novel Essay The Pargiters which seeks to connect theoretical and fictional parts by juxtaposing them How can the mixture of genres be interpreted which Catherine Cl ment attributes to the texts of Hélène Cixous as a writing halfway between theory and fiction Back cover Liberating Narratives Stefanie Sievers, 1999 Three contemporary novels of slavery Margaret Walker's Jubilee 1966 Sherley Anne Williams's Dessa Rose 1986 and Toni Morrison's Beloved 1987 are the central focus of Liberating Narratives In significantly different ways that reflect their individual and socio political contexts of origin these three novels can all be read as critiques of historical representation and as alternative spaces for remembrance sites of memory that attempt to shift the conceptual ground on which our knowledge of the past is based Narrative Form Suzanne Keen, 2015-07-28 This revised and expanded handbook concisely introduces narrative form to advanced students of fiction and creative writing with refreshed references and new discussions of cognitive approaches to narrative nonfiction and narrative emotions Literary Theory Julie Rivkin, Michael Ryan, 2004-07-23 This anthology of classic and cutting edge statements in literary theory has now been updated to include recent influential texts in the areas of Ethnic Studies Postcolonialism and International Studies A definitive collection of classic statements in criticism and new theoretical work from the past few decades All the major schools and methods that make up the dynamic field of literary theory are represented from Formalism to Postcolonialism Enables students to familiarise themselves with the most recent developments in literary theory and with the traditions from which these new theories derive The Sentimental Education of the Novel Margaret Cohen, 2018-06-05 The nineteenth century French novel has long been seen as the heroic production of great men who confronted in their works the social consequences of the French Revolution And it is true that French realism especially as developed by Balzac and Stendhal was one of the most influential novelistic forms ever invented Margaret Cohen however challenges the traditional account of the genesis of realism by returning Balzac and Stendhal to the forgotten novelistic contexts of their time Reconstructing a key formative period for the novel she shows how realist codes emerged in a hostile take over of a prestigious contemporary sentimental practice of the novel which was almost completely dominated by women writers Cohen draws on impressive archival research resurrecting scores of forgotten nineteenth century novels to demonstrate that the codes most closely identified with realism were actually the invention of sentimentality a powerful aesthetic of emerging liberal democratic society although Balzac and Stendhal trivialized sentimental works by associating them with frivolous women writers and readers Attention to these gendered struggles over genre explains why women were not pioneers of realism in France during the nineteenth century a situation that contrasts with England where women writers played a formative role in inventing the modern realist novel Cohen argues that to understand how literary codes respond to material factors it is imperative to see how such factors take shape within the literary field as well as within society as a whole The book also proposes that attention to literature as a social institution will help critics resolve the current vital question of how to practice literary history in the wake of poststructuralism An Introduction to Literature, Criticism and Theory Andrew Bennett, Nicholas Royle, 2014-07-10 Fresh original and compelling An Introduction to Literature Criticism and Theory is the essential guide to literary studies Starting at the beginning and concluding with the end the book covers topics that range from the familiar character narrative the author to the more unusual secrets pleasure ghosts Eschewing abstract isms Bennett and Royle successfully illuminate complex ideas by engaging directly with literary works so that a reading of Jane Eyre opens up ways of thinking about racial difference whilst Chaucer Raymond Chandler and Monty Python are all invoked in a discussion of literary laughter Each chapter ends with a narrative guide to further reading and the book also includes a glossary and bibliography The fourth edition has been revised to incorporate two timely new chapters on animals and the environment A breath of fresh air in a field that can often seem dry and dauntingly theoretical this book will open the reader's eyes to the exhilarating possibilities of both reading and studying literature History of Literature in Canada Reingard M. Nischik, 2008 The development of literature in Canada with an eye to its multicultural multiethnic multilingual nature From modest colonial beginnings literature in Canada has arrived at the center stage of world literature Works by English Canadian writers both established writers such as Margaret Atwood and new talents such as Yann Martel make regular appearances on international bestseller lists French Canadian literature has also found its own voice in the North American and francophone worlds CanLit has likewise developed into a staple of academic interest pursued in Canadian Studies programs in Canada and around the world This volume draws on the expertise of scholars from Canada Germany Austria and France tracing Canadian literature from the indigenous oral tradition to the development of English Canadian and French Canadian literature since colonial times Conceiving of Canada as a single but multifaceted culture it accounts for specific characteristics of English and French Canadian literatures such as the vital role of the short story in English Canada or that of the chanson in French Canada Yet special attention is also paid to Aboriginal literature and to the pronounced transcultural ethnically diverse character of much contemporary Canadian literature thus moving clearly beyond the traditions of the two founding nations Contributors Reingard M Nischik Eva Gruber Iain M Higgins Guy Lafleur Dorothee Scholl Gwendolyn Davies Tracy Ware Fritz Peter Kirsch Julia Breitbach Lorraine York Marta Dvorak Jerry Wasserman Ursula Mathis Moser Doris G Eibl Rolf Lohse Sherrill Grace Caroline Rosenthal Martin Kuester Nicholas Bradley Anne Nothof Georgiana Banita Gilles Dupuis and Andrea Oberhuber Reingard M Nischik is Professor of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany Characters in Fictional Worlds Jens Eder, Fotis Jannidis, Ralf Schneider, 2010-11-19 Although fictional characters have long dominated the reception of literature films television programs comics and other media products only recently have they begun to attract their due attention in literary and media theory The book systematically surveys today's diverse and at times conflicting theoretical perspectives on fictional character spanning research on topics such as the differences between fictional characters and real persons the ontological status of characters the strategies of their representation and characterization the psychology of their reception as well as their specific forms and constellations in and across different media from the book to the internet Narratology in the Age of Cross-Disciplinary Narrative Research Sandra Heinen, Roy Sommer, 2009-09-04 Narrative Research once the domain of structuralist literary theory has over the last 15 years developed into an international and interdisciplinary field. It is now commonly agreed that storytelling functions as a fundamental cognitive tool for sense making and meaning production and that human beings structure and communicate lived experience through oral, written, and visual stories. Entitled Narratology in the Age of Cross-Disciplinary Narrative Research, this volume collects fifteen essays which look at narrative and narrativity from various perspectives including literary studies and hermeneutics, cognitive theory and creativity research, metaphor studies, film theory and intermediality, as well as memory studies, musicology, theology, and psychology. The topics touch on a wide range of issues such as the current state of narratology and its potential for development, narrativity in visual and auditive art forms, the cultural functions of narrative, and the role of narrative concepts across the disciplines. The volume introduces interested newcomers to the ongoing debate, reflecting the diversity of research questions and methodological approaches involved. It takes a critical yet cautiously optimistic stance with regard to the potential for interdisciplinary collaboration between narrative researchers and invites experienced readers from any discipline interested in narrative to join this important debate which promotes the exchange of ideas, concepts, and methods between the humanities and the social sciences.

Student Encyclopedia of African Literature Douglas Killam, Alicia L. Kerfoot, 2007-12-30 African literature is a vast subject of growing output and interest. Written especially for students, this book selectively surveys the topic in a clear and accessible way. Included are roughly 600 alphabetically arranged entries on writers, genres, and major works. Many entries cite works for further reading, and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography. Africa is a land of contrasts and of diverse cultures and traditions. It is also a land of conflict and creativity. The literature of the continent draws upon a fascinating body of oral traditions and lore and also reflects the political turmoil of the modern world. With the increased interest in cultural diversity and the growing centrality of Africa in world politics, African literature is figuring more and more prominently in the curriculum. This book helps students learn about the African literary achievement. Written expressly for students, this book is far more accessible than other reference works on the subject. Included are nearly 600 alphabetically arranged entries on authors such as Chinua Achebe, Athol Fugard, Buchi Emecheta, Nadine Gordimer, and Wole Soyinka, major works such as Things Fall Apart and Petals of Blood, and individual genres such as the novel, drama, and poetry. Many entries cite works for further reading, and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography.

Feminism and American Literary History Nina Baym, 1992 For more than a decade, Nina Baym has pioneered in the reexamination of American literature. She has led the way in questioning assumptions about American literary history, in critiquing the standard canon of works we read and teach, and in rediscovering lost texts by American women writers. Feminism and American Literary History collects fourteen of her most important essays published since 1980, which combine feminist perspectives with original archival research, significantly revising standard American literary history. In Part I, Rewriting Old American Literary History the focus is on male writers Essays range from close readings of individual works to ambitious critiques of the main paradigms by which scholars have conventionally linked disparate texts and authors in a narrative of nationalist literary history the self in the wilderness myth the romance novel distinction the myth of New England origins Part II Writing New American Literary History studies examples of women s writing from the Revolution through the Civil War Stressing much overtly public and political writing that has been overlooked even by feminist scholars noting public and political themes in supposedly domestic works the essays substantially modify and historicize the paradigm by which premodern American women s writing is currently understood The contentious and influential essays in Part III Two Feminist Polemics address feminist literary theory and pedagogy advocating a pluralist practice as the basis for scholarship criticism and humane feminism No one interested in American literature or in women s writing can afford to ignore Baym s revisionist work Humorous and gracefully written this book is enjoyable and indispensable Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2000-06

Focalization in the Old Testament Narratives with Specific Examples from the Book of Ruth Konstantin Nazarov,2021-08-02 Since Gerard Genette first coined the term in 1972 focalization has been recognized as one of the key concepts in contemporary understandings of narrative However in the field of biblical studies the concept has been largely overlooked Dr Konstantin Nazarov seeks to rectify this oversight exploring the implications of focalization on Old Testament narratology Utilizing the work of Wolf Schmid and Valeri Tjupa to develop his methodology and examining the book of Ruth as a case study Nazarov demonstrates the value of focalization in furthering the appreciation and understanding of biblical texts This is an excellent resource for students of narratology biblical studies scholars or anyone seeking to better understand the narratives of Scripture Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul Schellinger,2014-04-08 The Encyclopedia of the Novel is the first reference book that focuses on the development of the novel throughout the world Entries on individual writers assess the place of that writer within the development of the novel form explaining why and in exactly what ways that writer is important Similarly an entry on an individual novel discusses the importance of that novel not only from analyzing the particular innovations that novel has introduced and the ways in which it has influenced the subsequent course of the genre A wide range of topic entries explore the history criticism theory production dissemination and reception of the novel A very important component of the Encyclopedia of the Novel is its long surveys of development of the novel in various regions of the world
