Women's Roles in Asia Kathleen Nadeau, Sangita Rayamajhi, 2013-06-11 This insightful book examines women s lives across Asia challenging typical stereotypes and providing a fresh look at the changing role of women in various regions of the vast continent All around the world women s important role in history has only recently been acknowledged Asia is no exception Despite a long record of achievements women s experiences in South Southeast and East Asia go largely untold This compelling book looks at women s lives in contemporary Asia and reviews the cultural similarities and differences in the patterns and experiences of women across various regions Women s Roles in Asia examines the full scope of women s lives throughout history including specific topics such as education family life marriage and childbearing religion public life economics legal status and literature and the arts A timeline and introduction provide a backdrop to the events achievements and issues that have impacted Asian women from pre colonial time to the present day Developing Partnerships Kate

Bedford, 2009 A nuanced critique of how the World Bank encourages gender norms through its policies Developing Partnerships argues that financial institutions are key players in the global enforcement of gender and family expectations By combining analysis of documents produced and sponsored by the World Bank with interviews of World Bank staffers and case studies Kate Bedford presents a detailed examination of gender and sexuality in the policies of the world s largest and most influential development institution Looking concurrently at economic and gender policy Bedford connects reform of markets to reform of masculinities loan agreements for export promotion to pamphlets for indigenous adolescents advising daily genital bathing and attempts to strengthen institutions after the Washington Consensus to efforts to promote loving couplehood in response to economic crisis In doing so she reveals the shifting relationships between development and sexuality and the ways in which gender policy impacts debates about the future of neoliberalism Providing a multilayered account of how gender aware policies are conceived and implemented by the World Bank Developing Partnerships demonstrates as well how institutional practices shape development Reluctant Bedfellows Meredith L. Ralston, Edna Keeble, 2009 Academic feminist theorizing and identity politics the two argue has reached the level of analysis paralysis where women and women's groups do not act for fear of being pejoratively labeled This has many negative consequences for rights seeking groups as Ralston and Keeble experience firsthand in working to bring Angeles City and Canadian women's organizations together Both an eye opening picture of the workings of a community seeped in sex tourism and a sharp review of current feminist theorizing Reluctant Bedfellows offers much needed perspective on ways to bring disputing parties together and actually promote change BOOK JACKET

Cookstove Chronicles Meena Khandelwal, 2024-10-22 Stove improvers have been designing and promoting clean or efficient biomass cookstoves in India since the 1940s and have been frustrated to find their carefully engineered stoves abandoned in trash heaps or repurposed as storage bins while the traditional mud chulha retains a central place in the kitchen Why do so many Indian women continue to use wood burning smoke spewing stoves when they have other options Based on anthropological research in Rajasthan Cookstove Chronicles argues that the supposedly obsolete chulha persists because it offers women control over the tools needed to feed their families Their continued use of old stoves alongside the new is not a failure to embrace new technologies but instead a strategy to maximize flexibility and autonomy The chulha is neither the villain nor hero of this story It produces particulate matter that harms people's bodies leaves soot on utensils and walls and accelerates glacial melting and atmospheric warming Yet it also depends on renewable biomass fuel and supports women's autonomy as a local do it yourself technology Meena Khandelwal a feminist anthropologist describes her collaboration with engineers archaeologists and others She employs critical social theory and reflections from fieldwork to bring together research from a range of fields including history geography anthropology energy and environmental studies public health and science and technology studies STS In so doing she not only demystifies multidisciplinary research but also highlights the messy reality of actual behavior Cookstove Chronicles critically examines why despite extensive development efforts use of the chulha persists It offers an important new framework for looking at development technology environmental change and human behavior International

Service Learning Marianne Larsen, 2015-12-14 International service learning ISL programs are growing more popular with students looking to advance their skills and knowledge to become global citizens While the benefits of these programs among students are well documented little is known about the implications they have on host communities themselves This volume explores the impact of ISL programs on members of host communities e.g. host families and local partner NGOs who are increasingly influenced by the presence of international students in their lives Drawing upon post colonial feminist and other critical and decolonizing theories it examines the complicated power relations between North American ISL students and host communities in East and West Africa the Caribbean and Central America It stresses the importance of developing trusting relations between ISL students faculty and individuals in the host communities to create mutually engaging learning experiences

Perspectives on Neoliberalism, Labour and Globalization in India K.R. Shyam Sundar, 2019-04-30 This book employs a variety of perspectives such as Institutional Social Democratic Marxist Gender and Informal Biblical and Dalit to critically examine the impact of neo liberal globalisation on both formal and informal sectors of the labour market and the industrial relations system The narratives not only interrogate current institutions and paradigms but also outline future developments

Post-Tsunami Reconstruction in Indonesia Marjaana Jauhola, 2013-06-26 This book offers a critical analysis of gender mainstreaming initiatives in the post tsunami context in Indonesia Aiming to challenge the terms of the debate in gender mainstreaming and disaster reconstruction efforts Jauhola offers an important contribution for the discussion of what feminisms and disasters could be The work provides an in depth analysis of three governmental practices of gender mainstreaming the use of the concept pair sex gender the use of gender analysis and the use of project management tools and local subversion that challenges the potential normative violence of gender mainstreaming Providing feminist intersectional reading of gender mainstreaming the book aims to illustrate that this framework does not lack political alternatives but rather it offers an alternative focus for feminism and for the re conceptualisation of political and provides tools for practitioners of aid aiming to come to grips with the complexity of gender equality policy agenda and its potential violent social consequences in global politics Drawing on extensive field research in Aceh this text is one of the first book length studies and thus provides a significant addition to Indonesian literatures on intersectional analysis of gender religion heteronormativity and feminist subversive practice It is a vital resource for those interested in understanding global interconnections of localised disaster and conflict reconstruction

Choice and conscience: Lessons from South Africa for a global debate Satang Nabaneh, 2023-11-08 Choice and Conscience offers a fresh and insightful perspective on the highly debated issue of conscientious objection in abortion care Satang Nabaneh s socio legal approach which draws on both traditional legal scholarship and African feminist intellectual traditions provides a nuanced understanding of how legal norms construct and maintain power relations By focusing on the experiences of nurses in South Africa Nabaneh explores the complexities of conscience discretionary power and socio cultural and political factors that influence nurses decisions about whether or not to conscientiously object In the wake of the recent rollback of abortion rights in the United States and the trend towards liberalisation within the African region Nabaneh provides an important African perspective on how the international human rights framework should strike a contextual balance between freedom of conscience and ensuring access to abortion Choice and Conscience will interest lawyers activists policymakers scholars and students exploring the dynamic intersections of law healthcare and gender politics Choice and Conscience stands as a significant and valuable addition to the ongoing global scholarship on this critical issue It underscores the vital concept that intersectionality should occupy a central place in our examination of how various local contexts give rise to layered forms of privilege and disadvantage Dr Tlaleng Mofokeng UN Special Rapporteur on the right to health Nabaneh's study of law in action zeros in on South African nurses gatekeepers who often object to the practice for reasons of conscience Her interviews of these nurses and her analysis complicate our understanding of challenges to abortion access providing lessons applicable not only to South Africa and other African countries but everywhere where there is a gap between formal law and its application Mindy Jane Roseman JD PhD Yale Law School Written from an African feminist perspective this book offers fresh insights into our understanding of the intersection between politics mobilisation of discretionary power and the exercise of conscientious objection to abortion by mid level providers Charles Ngwenya Professor of Law Centre for Human Rights University of Pretoria This book offers powerful insights about how informal and background norms in health systems function constrain or enable reproductive justice Focusing on conscientious objection to abortion by nurses including midwives in South Africa Nabaneh sketches the importance of a feminist analysis that is situated in Africans lived realities Alicia Ely Yamin Harvard University

Towards the Dignity of Difference? Mojtaba Mahdavi, 2016-02-24 The rise of popular social movements throughout the Middle East North Africa Europe and North America in 2011 challenged two hegemonic discourses of the post Cold War era Francis Fukuyama's The End of History and Samuel Huntington's The Clash of Civilizations The quest for genuine democracy and social justice and the backlash against the neoliberal order is a common theme in the global mass protests in the West and the East This is no less than a discursive paradigm shift a new beginning to the history a move towards new alternatives to the status quo This book is about difference and dialogue it embraces The Dignity of Difference and promotes dialogue However it also demonstrates the limits of dialogue as a useful and universal approach for resolving conflicts particularly in cases involving asymmetric and unequal power relations The distinguished group of authors suggests in this volume that there is a third way of addressing global tensions one that rejects the extremes of both universalism and particularism This third way is a radical call for an epistemic shift in our understanding of us other and good evil a radical approach toward accommodating difference as well as embracing the plural concept of the good The authors strengthen their alternative approach with a practical policy guide by challenging existing policies that either exclude or assimilate other cultures that wage the constructed global war on terror and that impose a western neo liberal discourse on non western societies This important book will be essential reading for all those studying civilizations globalization foreign policy peace and security studies multiculturalism and ethnicity regionalism global governance and international political economy

Indigenous Research Methodologies Bagele Chilisa,2012 Following the increasing emphasis in the classroom and in the field to sensitize researchers and students to diverse epistemologies methods and methodologies especially those of women minority groups former colonized societies indigenous people historically oppressed communities and people with disabilities author Bagele Chilisa has written the first research methods textbook that situates research in a larger historical cultural and global context with case studies from around the globe to make very visible the specific methodologies that are commensurate with the transformative paradigm of research and the historical and cultural traditions of indigenous peoples Chapters cover the history of research methods colonial epistemologies research within postcolonial societies relational epistemologies emergent and indigenous methodologies Afrocentric research feminist research language frameworks interviewing and building partnerships between researchers and the researched The book comes replete with traditional textbook features such as key points exercises and suggested readings which makes it ideally suited for graduate courses in research methods especially in education health women s studies cultural studies sociology and related social sciences

The Development Dictionary @25 Aram Ziai,2020-05-21 Few books in the history of Development Studies have had an impact like The Development Dictionary A Guide to Knowledge as Power which was edited by Wolfgang Sachs and published by Zed Books in 1992 The Development Dictionary was crucial in establishing what has become known as the Post Development PD school This volume is devoted to the legacy of The Development Dictionary and to discussing Post Development This book originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly

Reinventing Development Lord Mawuko-Yevugah,2016-04-08 Global development actors such as the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund claim that the shift to the poverty reduction strategy framework and emphasis on local participation address the social cost of earlier adjustment programs and help put aid receiving countries back in control of their own development agenda Drawing on the case of Ghana Lord Mawuko Yevugah argues that this shift and the emphasis on partnerships between donors and poor countries local participation and country ownership simultaneously represents a substantive departure from earlier versions of neo liberalism and an attempt by global development actors and local governing and social elites to justify and legitimize the neo liberal policy paradigm This book shows how the new architecture of aid has important implications in three distinct but related ways the discursive construction and production of post colonial societies the changing focus of Western aid and development policy interventions and the reproduction of the politics of inclusive exclusion The author provides detailed and original research on the new development paradigm and develops a critical theoretical approach to re think conventional analyses of the new discourses on aid whilst offering a fresh alternative interpretation of changes in international aid relations Handbook of African Development Tony Binns, Kenneth

Lynch, Etienne Nel, 2018-04-27 This handbook presents an extensive new overview of African development past present and future It addresses key core themes and topics that are pertinent to the continent's development including sections on history health and food politics economics rural and urban development and development policy and practice The volume draws on the expertise of over 60 of the world's leading scholars to provide a detailed and up to date analysis of the key opportunities and challenges that confront Africa and how such issues are being addressed Arranged by key themes the handbook provides not only a historical understanding of the past but also political perspectives on the future The chapters provide critically informed analyses of their topics by drawing upon the latest conceptual viewpoints and applied experiences in Africa in the form of case studies to offer a comprehensive examination of the opportunities challenges key debates and future prospects This handbook is an invaluable state of the art overview and reference concerning many different aspects of Africa's development which will be of interest to academics in all fields of African studies and also academics and students working in cognate disciplines such as development studies geography history politics and economics Everyday

Sustainability Debarati Sen, 2017-01-01 Illuminates the contradictions that emerge within conscious capitalism initiatives that are designed to empower women Everyday Sustainability takes readers to ground zero of market based sustainability initiatives Darjeeling India where Fair Trade ostensibly promises gender justice to minority Nepali women engaged in organic tea production These women tea farmers and plantation workers have distinct entrepreneurial strategies and everyday practices of social justice that at times dovetail with and at other times rub against the tenets of the emerging global morality market The author questions why women beneficiaries of transnational justice making projects remain skeptical about the potential for economic and social empowerment through Fair Trade while simultaneously seeking to use the movement to give voice to their situated demands for mobility economic advancement and community level social justice

Familiar Futures Sara Pursley, 2019-01-15 Iraq was the first postcolonial state recognized as legally sovereign by the League of Nations amid the twentieth century wave of decolonization movements It also emerged as an early laboratory of development projects designed by Iraqi intellectuals British colonial officials American modernization theorists and postwar international agencies Familiar Futures considers how such projects from the country's creation under British mandate rule in 1920 through the 1958 revolution to the first Ba'ath coup in 1963 reshaped Iraqi everyday habits, desires, and familial relations in the name of a developed future. Sara Pursley investigates how Western and Iraqi policymakers promoted changes in schooling, land ownership, and family law to better differentiate Iraq's citizens by class, sex, and age. Peasants were resettled on isolated family farms; rural boys received education limited to training in agricultural skills; girls were required to take home economics courses and adolescents were educated on the formation of proper families. Future-oriented discourses about the importance of sexual difference to Iraq's modernization worked paradoxically, deferring demands for political change in the present and reproducing existing capitalist relations. Ultimately, the book shows how certain goods, most obviously democratic ideals, were repeatedly sacrificed in the name of the nation's economic development in an ever-receding future.
