Fencing The Fishery A Primer On Ending The Race For Fish:

Fencing the Fishery Donald Leal, 2005 Fencing the Fishery Donald R. Leal, 2002-06 Practical guide to a new way to prevent overfishing called rights based fishing especially individual tradeable quotas Shows the benefits that come from fishery management that gives individual fishers the right to a certain portion of the total catch and allows them to buy or sell that portion the ITQ Fencing the Fishery: A Primer on Ending the Race for Fish (Canadian Edition). Leal, The End of the Line Charles Clover, 2008 Ninety percent of the large fish in the world's oceans have disappeared in the past half century causing the collapse of fisheries along with numerous fish species In this hard hitting provocative expos Charles Clover reveals the dark underbelly and hidden costs of putting food on the table at home and in restaurants From the Tsukiji fish market in Tokyo to a seafood restaurant on the North Sea and a trawler off the coast of Spain Clover pursues the sobering truth about the plight of fish Along with the ecological impact wrought by industrial fishing he reports on the implications for our diet particularly our need for omega 3 fatty acids This intelligent readable and balanced account serves as a timely warning to the general public as well as to scientists regulators legislators and all fishing enthusiasts Evolving Approaches to Managing Marine Recreational Fisheries Donald Leal, Vishwanie Maharaj, 2009-01-01 Each year thirteen million anglers enjoy the sport of saltwater angling in the United States generating an estimated 30 billion in sales and supporting nearly 350 000 jobs Recreational saltwater fishing however can significantly impact species of concern species overfished or experiencing overfishing Traditional angling controls bag and size limits and restricted seasons have fallen short in controlling fishing impacts and reducing conflicts among fishing and non fishing interests Evolving Approaches to Managing Marine Recreational Fisheries offers ways of overcoming such problems while providing anglers and the recreational service industry greater regulatory flexibility to enjoy the fruits of sportfishing It features fourteen internationally recognized fishery experts presenting the pros and cons of using individual fishing quotas IFQs game tags and angler management organizations AMOs in managing marine recreational fisheries presenting both theoretical and practical solutions to help move recreational fisheries management to a new and improved level Pacific Coast Groundfish Fishery Management Plan, Bycatch Mitigation Program, 2004 Case Studies in Fisheries Self-governance Ralph Edwin Townsend, Ross Shotton, Hirotugu Uchida, 2008-01-01 This special issue focuses on the Scientific forum held at the beginning of the International Technical Conference on Animal Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture which took place in Interlaken Switzerland in September 2007 A Breath of Fresh Air Robert Scott, 2000 A handsomely illustrated history of the over fifty parks in Belfast Accounting for Mother Nature Terry Lee Anderson, Laura E. Huggins, Thomas M. Power, 2008 In turn the contributors explore the role that private individuals and organizations can play in protecting natural and agrarian landscapes BOOK JACKET Environmental Entrepreneurship Laura E. Huggins, 2013-09-30 In this innovative book Laura E Huggins finds path breaking entrepreneurial solutions to difficult environmental challenges in some of the world's poorest areas. The approaches entrepreneurs are taking to these challenges involve establishing Interactive Governance for Small-Scale Fisheries. Svein Jentoft, Ratana Chuenpagdee, 2015-05-30. Drawing on more than 30 case studies from around the world, this book offers a multitude of examples for improving the governance of small scale fisheries. Contributors from some 36 countries argue that reform, transformation and innovation are vital to achieving sustainable small scale fisheries, especially for mitigating the threats and vulnerabilities of global change. For this to happen, governing systems must be context specific and the governability of small scale fisheries properly assessed. The volume corresponds well with the Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries adopted in 2014, spearheaded by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO). These affirm the importance of small scale fisheries for food security, nutrition, livelihoods, rural development and poverty reduction. The book arises from the project 'Too Big To Ignore: Global Partnership for Small Scale Fisheries Research' (TBTI). A nuanced, diverse, vibrant and local specific collection of essays, just as the small scale fisheries around the world dealt with by this versatile array of authors. Following on the heels of the recently adopted FAO Small Scale Fisheries Guidelines, here is an erudite compendium which I heartily recommend to policy makers, academics and activists who wish to come to terms with the complex issue of governance of this important field of human activity. John Kurien, Founding Member of the International Collective in Support of Fishworkers (ICSF) and Former Professor, Centre for Development Studies, Trivandrum, India. Likely to become a classic in its field, this book is about small scale fisheries and interactive governance, governance which is negotiated, deliberated upon and communicated among stakeholders who often share governing responsibilities. The authors show that interactive governance is not just a normative theory but a phenomenon that can be studied empirically, here with 34 case studies from as many countries around the world, north and south, east and west. Such force of example enables the editors to put together well developed arguments and sometimes surprising conclusions about the way ahead. A must read for managers, practitioners, stakeholders and students. Fikret Berkes, University of Manitoba, Canada, and author of Coasts for People: Training Resource Manual, 2009. The Manual provides step by step guidance to assist instructors in training policymakers and practitioners in the use of economic instruments, pollution taxes, user fees, property rights etc. for sustainable development in general and for environmental and natural resource management in particular. Designed as an interactive working document composed of flexible modules and exercises and providing guidance for trainers and course participants, the manual offers substantial flexibility for trainers to custom design courses that meet local needs and priorities. Environmental Heresies. Juha Hiedanpää, Daniel W. Bromley, 2016-10-17. This book systematically deconstructs the pervasive and counterproductive discourse surrounding environmental policy. The authors argue that environmental policy problems are always framed such that conflict is inevitable: a particular project or policy must be accepted versus a specific environmental asset that must be protected. Over the course of 12 chapters, the authors demonstrate that confident yet contradictory assertions by contending interests preclude necessary deliberation and reason giving They argue that deliberation is an important social process of reflecting upon the reasons for doing something Their innovative approach allows discourse and collaboration to continue until after honest and informed deliberation the better way forward is arrived at This approach to environmental policy illustrates just how very constructive and enabling the quest for the reasonable can be

Developing India's Strategic Response to the Global Debate on Fisheries Subsidies (CMA Publication No. 236) Samar K Datta,Rahul Nilakantan,Rajendra Patel,2012-01-30

The weak property rights regime governing the world s marine resources as well as the wide spread large scale subsidization of the fisheries industry has led to serious depletion of global fish stocks Against this backdrop taking cognizance of developing country goals and concerns the Fourth Ministerial Conference of the WTO held in Doha in 2001 mandated that negotiations over fisheries subsidies formerly subject to the disciplines of the Agreement on Subsidies and Countervailing Measures be completed by 2005 In view of this development a country like India with its vast and versatile fisheries resources has to take stock of the state of its fisheries sector and develop a strategic response to the global debate on fisheries subsidies This book aims to initiate that process It begins by providing an overview of the current state of subsidization of the fisheries sector both domestic and international under various alternate definitions of fisheries subsidies It then focuses on the domestic scenario highlighting the Indian experience with fisheries subsidies and property rights regimes across both inland and marine sectors via the case method and investigates the necessity and sufficiency of subsidies vis vis an appropriate property rights framework in developing the domestic fisheries sector and resource base in a sustainable manner Attention is then turned to the international scenario with a review of selected international case studies which can inform domestic subsidy and property rights issues This is followed by an analysis of the country submissions of the various major fishing nations in order to identify India s natural allies and competitors in international negotiations The concluding chapter brings the pieces together It first outlines a program of reforms to rectify the deficiencies in the existing domestic property rights and fisheries subsidy regimes on the basis of intensive interactions with all sectoral stakeholders Subsequently it suggests negotiating strategies for India in forthcoming WTO meetings An epilogue sums up recent developments and issues

The Use of Economic Instruments in Environmental Policy ,2004 This paper looks at the role and importance of economic instruments in the context of three specific biodiversity related Multilateral Environmental Agreements These are the Convention on international Trade in Endangered Species of Flora and Fauna CITES the Convention on Biological Diversity CBD and the Ramsar Convention on Wetlands of International Importance especially as Waterfowl Habitat Ramsar Convention The paper also discusses ways to improve and enhance the use of economic instruments as a means of conserving and sustaining biological diversity UNEP
