Chinese Marriages in Transition Xiaoling Shu,Jingjing Chen,2023-09-15 Outdated models of Chinese gender roles marriage and family transitions portray these changes as streamlined and unidirectional from traditional to modern public to private collective to individual Chinese Marriages in Transition documents the complex nuanced and multidirectional nature of these cultural transformations Using complex and large scale historical national data as well as comprehensive data from multiple countries Xiaoling Shu and Jingjing Chen demonstrate that while the second demographic transition is unfolding in many advanced Western societies it is not necessarily a normative form of societal transition Working instead from a framework of new familism Shu and Chen show that Chinese new familism consists of both old and new values including the persistence of some traditional beliefs and practices accompanied by a transition to modern perceptions of gender and adaption to some modern forms of family formation This book is freely available in an open access edition thanks to TOME Toward an Open Monograph Ecosystem a collaboration of the Association of American Universities the Association of University Presses and the Association of Research Libraries and the generous support of the University of California Davis Learn more at the TOME website available at openmonographs.org Download the open access book here

Environment, Trade and Society in Southeast Asia ,2015-03-20 In Environment Trade and Society in Southeast Asia A Longue Dur e Perspective eleven historians bring their knowledge and insights to bear on the long Braudelien sweep of Southeast Asian history In doing so they seek both to debunk simplistic assumptions about fragile traditions and transformational modernities and to identify real repeating patterns in Southeast Asia s past clientelistic political structures periodic tectonic and climatic disasters ethnic occupational specializations long cycles of economic globalization and deglobalization Their contributions range across many centuries from the Austronesian expansion to the Aceh tsunami and from the Sanskrit cosmopolis to the Asian financial crisis The book is inspired by and dedicated to Peter Boomgaard a scholar whose work has embodied the Braudelien spirit in Southeast Asian historiography This title is available online in its entirety in Open Access Gandhian Perspectives on Population and Development A.
