Autonomy, Oppression, and Gender Andrea Veltman, 2014 This collection of new essays by leading scholars examines philosophical issues at the intersection of feminism and autonomy studies Contributors advance central debates in autonomy theory by examining basic components normative commitments and applications of autonomy with particular attention to issues of gender and oppression

Female Autonomy in Elizabeth Stoddard's "The Morgesons" Lioba Frings, 2017-07-06 Seminar paper from the year 2017 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 3 0 University of Bonn language English abstract A woman s life in nineteenth century American society was limited to the domestic sphere or the household as well as church and restricted with regard to current and future duties as mothers and wives While young girls on the one hand need to learn how to fulfill their future duties as mothers and wives their mothers and teachers on the other hand need to pass their knowledge regarding these duties on to their daughters Certain gender roles served as the framework for women in society mainly shaped by the Cult of True Womanhood Other factors that influenced the role of women were the therewith connected virtues which a woman was supposed to embody as well as the common and well known definition of a True Woman With regard to the protagonist in The Morgesons the author simply disregards the cult of true womanhood Weir 430 Autonomy with regard to women was rare or even non existing and normally unwished for especially from the perspective of men husbands or fathers who expected every woman to simply take care of household and descendants

Psychoanalysis and Women Judith L. Alpert, 2013-05-13 Within the psychoanalytic framework there is a growing body of research and thinking about female development In addition there is ongoing research within other areas of psychology such as developmental psychology and social psychology which has important implications for an understanding of women s adult development Often these research findings are not readily available to the analytic community nor has much of the research been incorporated into a psychoanalytic framework Psychoanalysis and Women broadens analytic thinking by integrating contemporary literature from psychoanalysis with that of other areas both within and outside psychology which has implications for the understanding of women s development This literature is conceptualized within a psychoanalytic framework A basic premise underlying this book is that psychoanalysis needs continuing review and revision in terms of what women and men are about and a continuing focus on whether and how unfounded biases prevent analysts from understanding patients The present volume considers how sexism and feminism are affecting psychoanalysis and exemplifies how the emerging field of psychoanalysis of women and the issues its existence raises should be conceptualized It also exemplifies some of the positive contributions that a feminist outlook gives to the study of human behavior and should expand the range of hypotheses that we have about people      Women And Empowerment C. Margaret Hall,2013-09-13 Shows how women s decisions direct their lives in both public and private spheres The book specifies critical conditions and possibilities for women who want to increase their opportunities Patterns in women s behaviour and concerns are analyzed by applying the author s sociological theory      Women and Mediation in Indonesia S.T. van Bemmelen,E. Touwen-Bouwsma,A. Niehof,2021-12-06 This volume is the product of an international workshop on Women and Mediation organized in Leiden in 1988 by the Koninklijk Instituut voor Taal Land en Volkenkunde KITLV and the Werkgroep Indonesische Vrouwenstudies WIVS a Dutch interdisciplinary study group on Indonesian women The book contains a selection of fourteen contributions sociological anthropological and historical ranging geographically from Sabang to Merauke from the Toba Batak North Sumatra to the Dani Irian Jaya Loosely centred around the concept of mediation many of the articles include new data derived from archival research and fieldwork One cluster of articles concentrates on theoretical questions concerning the concept of mediation Another cluster deals with brokerage in the economic and social fields A third cluster focuses on mediation in the cultural domain which many extend to mediation between different cultures elite agrarian Western Indonesian or between the human and the suprahuman world between macrocosm and microcosm Mediation by women has been overlooked not only in the social sciences in general but also in the field of women studies in particular The present volume explores the theme of mediation by women in general and in Indonesia in particular      The Edinburgh Companion to Contemporary Liberalism Mark Evans,2001 This publication from Edinburgh University Press is conceived as the premier source of material on a comprehensive range of topics in contemporary liberalism It surveys some of the most important topics relating to liberal theory including nationalism citizenship multiculturalism feminism Marxism environmentalism human rights pluralism and post communism There are also chapters on such key thinkers as Habermas Weber Foucault and Rawls and chapters that explore the critical challenges that liberalism now faces Companion to Contemporary Liberalism will allow students to explore liberalism s contemporary relevance and to look to its likely future developments each essay entry by a notable scholar in the field has been commissioned to provide analysis of a specific issue topic or key thinker within contemporary liberal theory      Social Causes of Psychological Distress John Mirowsky,Catherine E. Ross,2003 Originally published New York Aldine de Gruyter c2003      Philosophising Experiences and Vision of the Female Body, Mind, and Soul: Historical Context and Contemporary Theory Musingafi, Maxwell Constantine Chando,Mafumbate, Racheal,Khumalo, Thandi Fredah,2021-04-23 Much of our understanding of the world our societies and ourselves rests on theories and knowledge generated predominantly by men of certain nationalities and economic classes This male dominated and culturally specific theorizing and knowledge have generally resulted in the exclusion of women and other groups from the process of formal theorizing and knowledge building Feminism argues that the male dominated knowledge represents a skewed perception of reality and is only partial knowledge Feminism is a generalized wide ranging system of ideas about social life and human experience developed from a woman centered perspective It treats women as the central subjects in the investigative process and seeks to see the world from the distinctive vantage points of women in the social world The best way to empower women and better the situation for women is to take women s daily experiences and their informal theorizing into account and on this basis adopt feminist approaches to building theory and knowledge Philosophising Experiences and Vision of the Female Body Mind and Soul Historical Context and Contemporary Theory provides an overview and introduction to the study of feminist theory and practice in the social sciences This book provides a starting point for further and more advanced study of the nexus of feminism gender and development and translates feminist theory and concepts into practice The chapters investigate in a historical context mainstream and contemporary theories of feminism and gender studies This book is ideal for post graduate students of social science researchers of development management business management public governance and gender and development activists feminists and practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students interested in feminist theory and knowledge building

Reproductive Agency, Medicine and the State Maya Unnithan-Kumar, 2005-11 Recent years have seen many changes in human reproduction resulting from state and medical interventions in childbearing processes Based on empirical work in a variety of societies and countries this volume considers the relationship between reproductive processes of fertility pregnancy childbirth and the postpartum period on the one hand and attitudes medical technologies and state health policies in diverse cultural contexts on the other

Gender Differences in Different Contexts Aida Alvinus, 2017-02-01 The development of gender differences as an area of research has been rapid over the last decades Varieties of studies have focused on the gender differences as well as the similarities of women and men The common purpose of the research attempt is to find out the possibilities and even the consequences of gender differences and the impact on human beings on one side and social and cultural environment on the other This book is an attempt to provide theoretical and empirical framework to better understand gender differences in various contexts and on different levels Therefore the contributions cover an array of themes that span from an individual level to an organizational and societal level

Mobility as Capability Nikhila Menon, 2021-09-30 This book highlights accounts of women workers to capture the domains of gendered mobility which challenges the exalted status conferred on women in the Kerala model of development It contests and deconstructs the development discourse which considers women s work mobility as an indicator of autonomy and agency using Capability Approach The concept of transformational mobility and its measurement introduced in the book advances the understanding of mobility autonomy and agency and the intersectionality in the context of gender and work Through an in depth exploration of lived experiences of informal women workers the author illustrates how patriarchal structures are shaped and reinforced by work places markets and the state The central question is can we steer development policies to facilitate collective capabilities for women where informal work arrangements are becoming the norm

Women's Health in Africa

Chimaraoke Izugbara, Eleanor Covan, Elizabeth Fugate-Whitlock, 2017-10-02 This edited book includes new policy relevant research on women's health issues in Africa. Scholars explore critical topics from different disciplinary traditions using a variety of research methodologies and data sources. The contributors include African scholars with in-depth knowledge of their home contexts who can furnish nuanced interpretations of local health issues and trends; international researchers who bring vigorous comparative viewpoints; emerging scholars adding to scientific knowledge; and more established researchers with a deep global knowledge of women's health issues. The range of women's health issues is vast, including the HIV epidemic and its impacts, domestic violence, the persistence of homebirths and abortion. In addition, the book investigates emerging health concerns such as CVDs and cancers. Readers will learn that while old health issues have persisted and assumed new dimensions, newer concerns have materialized and are gaining momentum. The inability of health systems to tackle these issues complicates matters in Africa, creating a sense of desperation that can only be successfully confronted through strong political will and strategic planning grounded in further research. This book was originally published as several special issues of Health Care for Women International.

World Population & Human Capital in the Twenty-First Century Wolfgang Lutz, William P. Butz, Samir KC, 2017-10-20 Condensed into a detailed analysis and a selection of continent-wide datasets, this revised edition of World Population Human Capital in the Twenty-First Century addresses the role of educational attainment in global population trends and models. Presenting the full chapter text of the original edition alongside a concise selection of data, it summarizes past trends in fertility, mortality, migration, and education and examines relevant theories to identify key determining factors. Deriving from a global survey of hundreds of experts and five expert meetings on as many continents, World Population Human Capital in the Twenty-First Century: An Overview emphasizes alternative trends in human capital, new ways of studying ageing, and the quantification of alternative population and education pathways in the context of global sustainable development. It is an ideal companion to the country-specific online Wittgenstein Centre Data Explorer.

Women, Health and Public Services in India

Dipa Sinha, 2016-04-20 Why are inter-state differences in human development in India so high? What explains regional patterns where overall the southern region has some of the best human development outcomes in the country while the states in the northern heartland have the worst? In addressing these important questions, this volume provides a detailed analysis of health outcomes in India, especially its effects on women. It offers insights into how multiple factors affecting human development in particular health play out differently in various socio-cultural and economic contexts. This book will interest scholars and researchers of sociology, development studies, gender studies, economics, public policy, as well as general readers.

Reforming Education and Challenging Inequalities in Southern Contexts Pauline Rose, Madeleine Arnot, Roger Jeffery, Nidhi Singal, 2021-03-24 This book offers in-depth analyses of how education interacts with social inequality in Southern contexts. Drawing on a range of disciplinary frameworks it presents new analyses of existing knowledge and new empirical data which define the challenges and possibilities of successful educational reform. It is a tribute to the work of the late Christopher Colclough who as a leading figure in education and international development played a key role in the global fight for education for all children. The book critically engages with international evidence of educational access, retention and outcomes, offering new understandings of how social inequalities currently facilitate, mediate or restrict educational opportunities. It exposes the continuing influence of wealth and regional inequalities and caste and gendered social structures. Researchers in Ethiopia, Ghana, India, Pakistan and Uganda highlight how the aspirations of families living in poverty remain unfilled by poor quality education and low economic opportunities and how schools and teachers currently address issues of gender, disability and diversity. The book highlights a range of new priorities for research and identifies some necessary strategies for education reform, policy approaches and school practice if educational equality for all children is to be achieved. The book will be of great interest to researchers, scholars, educational practitioners and policy makers in the fields of economics, politics and sociology of education, international education, poverty research and international development. The Foreword, Chapters 1, 6, 7 and 12 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9780429293467> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license. The SAGE Handbook of Domestic Violence Todd K. Shackelford, 2020-12-02. The field of Domestic Violence research has expanded considerably in the past decade and now includes work conducted by researchers in many different disciplines, notably political science, public health, law, psychology, sociology, criminology, anthropology, family studies and medicine. The SAGE Handbook of Domestic Violence provides a rich overview of the most important theoretical and empirical work in the field, organized by relationship type. The handbook addresses three major areas of research on domestic violence: Violence against partners, Violence against children, Violence against other family members. This Handbook is a unique and timely publication and a long-awaited valuable resource for the vast amount of Domestic Violence research centres and individual researchers across the globe.

What Can She Know? Lorraine Code, 1991. In this lively and accessible book, Lorraine Code addresses one of the most controversial questions in contemporary theory of knowledge: a question of fundamental concern for feminist theory as well. Is the sex of the knower epistemologically significant? Responding in the affirmative, Code offers a radical alternative to mainstream philosophy's terms for what counts as knowledge and how it is to be evaluated. Code first reviews the literature of established epistemologies and unmasks the prevailing assumption in Anglo-American philosophy that the knower is a value-free and ideologically neutral abstraction. Approaching knowledge as a social construct produced and validated through critical dialogue, she defines the knower in light of a conception of subjectivity based on a personal relational model. Code maps out the relevance of the particular people involved in knowing, their historical specificity, the kinds of relationships they have, the effects of social position and power on those relationships and the ways in which knowledge can change both knower and known In an exploration of the politics of knowledge that mainstream epistemologies sustain she examines such issues as the function of knowledge in shaping institutions and the unequal distribution of cognitive resources What Can She Know will raise the level of debate concerning epistemological issues among philosophers political and social scientists and anyone interested in feminist theory

Appropriating Gender Patricia Jeffery, 1998 Appropriating Gender explores the paradoxical relationship of women to religious politics in India Pakistan Sri Lanka and Bangladesh Contrary to the hopes of feminists many women have responded to religious nationalist appeals contrary to the hopes of religious nationalists they have also asserted their gender class caste and religious identities contrary to the hopes of nation states they have often challenged state policies and practices Through a comparative South Asia perspective Appropriating Gender explores the varied meanings and expressions of gender identity through time by location and according to political context The first work to focus on women s agency and activism within the South Asian context Appropriating Gender is an outstanding contribution to the field of gender studies
