Buell Hale,1837 Romantic Women Writers, Revolution, and Prophecy Orianne Smith,2013-03-28 Convinced that the end of the world was at hand many Romantic women writers assumed the role of the female prophet to sound the alarm before the final curtain fell Orianne Smith argues that their prophecies were performative acts in which the prophet believed herself to be authorized by God to bring about social or religious transformation through her words Utilizing a wealth of archival material across a wide range of historical documents including sermons prophecies letters and diaries Orianne Smith explores the work of prominent women writers from Hester Piozzi to Ann Radcliffe from Helen Maria Williams to Anna Barbauld and Mary Shelley through the lens of their prophetic influence As this book demonstrates Romantic women writers not only thought in millenarian terms but they did so in a way that significantly alters our current critical view of the relations between gender genre and literary authority in this period

Third Edition, Revised and Enlarged* John Seeley HART, 1857 Women Writers of the Provincetown Players Judith E. Barlow, 2009-10-21 Thirteen short plays by women that were originally produced by the Provincetown Players Women Writers of the Renaissance and Reformation Katharina M. Wilson, 1987 The dawn of humanism in the Renaissance presented privileged women with great opportunities for personal and intellectual growth Sexual and social roles still determined the extent to which a woman could pursue education and intellectual accomplishment but it was possible through the composition of poetry or prose to temporarily offset hierarchies of gender to become equal to men in the act of creation Edited by Katharina M Wilson this anthology introduces the works of twenty five women writers of the Renaissance and Reformation among them Marie Denton a Swiss evangelical reformer whose writings were so successful they were banned during her lifetime Gaspara Stampa a cultivated courtesan of Venetian aristocratic circles who wrote lyric poetry that has earned her comparisons to Michelangelo and Tasso Helene de Crenne a French aristocrat who embodied the true spirit of the Renaissance feminist writing both as novelist and as champion of her sex Helene Kottanner Austrian chambermaid to Queen Elizabeth of Hungary whose memoirs recall her daring theft of the Holy Crown of Saint Stephen for her esteemed mistress and Lady Mary Sidney Wroth the first Englishwoman known to write a full length work of fiction and compose a significant body of secular poetry Offering a seldom seen counterpoint to literature written by men Women Writers of the Renaissance and Reformation presents prose and poetry that have never before appeared in English as well as writings that have rarely been available to the nonspecialist The women whose writings are included here are united by a keen awareness of the social limitations placed upon their creative potential of the strained relationship between their gender and their work This concern invests their writings with a distinctive voice one that carries the echoes of a male aesthetic while boldly declaring battle against it
