Feminism Law Inclusion Intersectionality In Action:

Feminism, Law, Inclusion Gayle Michelle MacDonald, Rachel L. Osborne, Charles Smith, 2005 The contributions to this collection are written by legal advocates community activists and legal scholars While the Introduction and Commentary provide a theoretical overview the ten essays examine theories of intersectionality to demonstrate how race class sexual orientation gender and identity have been integrated into legal scholarship and activism in an attempt to shape legal policy and practice Section 1 Theory in Action addresses anti racism in community legal practice the legal construction of women s sexuality as deviant the protection of sexual orientation under human rights legislation and the gender and racial characteristics of the judiciary Section 2 Organizations in Action looks at women s place in the legal profession international women s rights and disrupting discriminatory practices in the workplace Section 3 Law in Action discusses the rights of Native women racial bias in legal judgements and the recognition and protection of same sex spousal rights Feminism Law Inclusion is an important contribution to the ongoing development of this critical discourse

Intersectionality and Beyond Emily Grabham, Davina Cooper, Jane Krishnadas, Didi Herman, 2008-08-21 This collection addresses the present and the future of the concept of intersectionality within socio legal studies Including contributions from a range of international scholars this book interrogates what has become a key organizing concept across a range of disciplines most particularly law political theory and cultural studies

Research Handbook on International Human Rights Law Sarah Joseph, Adam McBeth, 2010-01-01 This handbook brings together the work of 25 leading human rights scholars from all over the world covering a broad range of human rights topics

The CSI Effect Michele Byers, Val Marie Johnson, 2009-01-01 The CSI Effect Television Crime and Governance demonstrates that CSI s appeal cannot be disentangled from its production as a televisual text or the broader discourses and practices that circulate within our social landscape This groundbreaking interdisciplinary collection bridges the gap between the study of popular culture media and the study of crime and fosters the development of a new set of theoretical languages in which the mediated spectacle of crime and criminalization can be carefully considered

Women in the Judiciary Ulrike Schultz, Gisela Shaw, 2013-09-13 Does gender matter in judging And if so in what way Why were there so few women judges only two or three decades ago and why are there so many now in most countries of the Western world How do women judges experience their work in a previously male dominated environment What are their professional careers How do they organise and live their lives And finally and most notably do women judge differently from men or even better These are the questions dealt with in this collection of contributions by seven authors from six countries UK Australia USA Canada Syria and Argentina contrasting views from common law and civil law countries In spite of differences in the two legal systems as well as greater gender diversity on the bench and the overall higher income and prestige enjoyed by judges in common law countries women judges in all these countries Syria included share many problems Diverse and intriguing facets are added to a debate that started thirty years ago but continues to leave ample space for further discussion This book was originally published as a special issue of International Journal of the Legal Profession Why Race and Gender Still Matter Maeve M O'Donovan,Namita Goswami,Lisa Yount,2015-10-06

Intersectionality the attempt to bring theories on race gender disability and sexuality together has existed for decades as a theoretical framework The essays in this volume explore how intersectionality can be applied to modern philosophy as well as looking at other disciplines Marriage and Divorce in a Multi-Cultural Context Joel A. Nichols,2011-10-31 American family law makes two key assumptions first that the civil state possesses sole authority over marriage and divorce and second that the civil law may contain only one regulatory regime for such matters These assumptions run counter to the multicultural and religiously plural nature of our society This book elaborates how those assumptions are descriptively incorrect and it begins an important conversation about whether more pluralism in family law is normatively desirable For example may couples rely upon religious tribunals Jewish Muslim or otherwise to decide family law disputes May couples opt into stricter divorce rules either through premarital contracts or covenant marriages How should the state respond Intentionally interdisciplinary and international in scope this volume contains contributions from fourteen leading scholars The authors address the provocative question of whether the state must consider sharing its jurisdictional authority with other groups in family law European Union Non-Discrimination Law Dagmar Schiek,Victoria Chege,2009-06-02 This edited collection addresses the multidimensionality of EU equality law from conceptual as well as practical perspectives Bringing together academics from all over Europe and from different disciplines including law politics and sociology the book focuses on the question of multidimensionality and intersectionality and deals with the consequences of multiplying discrimination grounds within EU equality law The Proposed Nordic Saami Convention Nigel Bankes,Timo Koivurova,2013-01-31 In 2005 an expert group representing the governments of Norway Sweden and Finland and the Saami parliaments of these countries agreed upon a draft text of a Nordic Saami Convention Key parts of the text deal with the recognition of Saami land and resource rights More recently the three governments have embarked on negotiations to move from this draft text to a final convention that may be adopted and ratified by all three countries Negotiations commenced in the Spring of 2011 and should be completed within five years This collection of essays explores the national and international dimensions of indigenous property rights and the draft Convention which recognises the Saami as one people divided by international boundaries Part one of the book seeks to provide a global and theoretical context for these developments in the Nordic countries with a series of essays dealing with the moral and legal reasons for recognising indigenous property interests and different conceptualisations of the relationship between indigenous peoples and settler societies including recognition reconciliation and pluralism Part two of the book examines some international legal issues associated with the Convention including the background to the Convention Part three turns to examine aspects of the recognition of Saami property interests in each of the three Nordic states while Part four provides some comparative experiences examining the recognition of indigenous property rights in a number of jurisdictions including Canada Australia and a number of South American states An additional essay considers gender issues in relation to indigenous property rights Dancing on Live Embers Tina Lopes,Barb Thomas,2006 Winner of the 2007 Gustavus Myers Outstanding Book Award for advancing human rights Mapping Global Justice Arnaud Kurze,Christopher K. Lamont,2022-10-14 Persistent international conflicts increasing inequality in many regions or the world and acute environmental and climate related threats to humanity call for a better understanding of the processes actors and tools available to face the challenges of achieving global justice This book offers a broad and multidisciplinary survey of global justice bridging the gap between theory and practice by connecting conceptual frameworks with a panoply of case studies and an in depth discussion of practical challenges Connecting these critical aspects to larger moral and ethical debates is essential for thinking about large abstract ideas and applying them directly to specific contexts Core content includes Key debates in global justice from across philosophy postcolonial studies political science sociology and criminology The origins of global justice and the development of the human rights agenda peacekeeping and post conflict studies Global poverty and sustainable development Global security and transnational crime Environmental justice public health and well being Rather than providing a blueprint for the practice of global justice this text problematizes efforts to cope with many justice related issues The pedagogical approach is designed to map the difficulties that exist between theory and praxis encourage critical thinking and fuel debates to help seek alternative solutions Bringing together perspectives from a wealth of disciplines this book is essential reading for courses on global justice across criminology sociology political science anthropology philosophy and law Trans/forming Feminisms Krista Scott-Dixon,2006 Trans forming Feminisms is a groundbreaking anthology that challenges us to build a more inclusive transfeminist politics A must read for students academics and social and political activists interested in tackling these compelling and challenging issues Transatlantic Conversations Mary Evans,2016-02-24 The second wave of feminism which challenged and changed many assumptions about the world in which we live was a product of various western cultures with no single country possessing a monopoly on the writing of the texts that became the canonical statements of the new feminism Though many of the contributions to feminist scholarship that went on to become internationally significant hailed from Europe and the United States these works were often formed within the context of local debates and framed within traditions of feminism and other political engagements specific to these nations Transatlantic Conversations explores the differences yielded by such conditions and their consequences for the meaning of feminism Examining the meaning and implications of the different ways in which various shared categories have been treated on both sides of the Atlantic this volume both analyses differences within feminism and provides a framework for the wider discussion of what is sometimes assumed to be the homogeneity of The West With leading scholars from either side of the Atlantic presenting brand new work Transatlantic Conversations suggests directions for future research which will be of interest to scholars of feminism gender studies sociology political science and international relations geography and cultural studies as well as anyone concerned with the ways in which the different political and intellectual traditions of Europe and the US have shaped current political and intellectual debates The 'Postmodern Turn' in the Social Sciences Simon Susen,2015-07-23 Simon Susen examines the impact of the postmodern turn on the contemporary social sciences On the basis of an innovative five dimensional approach this study provides a systematic comprehensive and critical account of the legacy of the postmodern turn notably in terms of its continuing relevance in the twenty first century Health Inequities in Canada Olena Hankivsky,2011-05-01 There is a growing recognition that existing theories on and approaches to health inequities are limited in their ability to capture how these inequities are produced through changing co constituted and intersecting effects of multiple forms of oppression Intersectionality responds to this problem by considering the interactions and combined impacts of social locations and structural processes on the creation and perpetuation of inequities It offers unique insights into and possible solutions to some of Canada s most pressing health disparities This volume brings together Canadian activists community based researchers and scholars from a range of disciplines to apply interpretations of intersectionality to health and organizational governance cases By addressing specific health issues this book advances methodological applications of intersectionality in health research policy and practice Most importantly it demonstrates that health inequities cannot be understood or addressed without the interrogation of power and diverse social locations and structures that shape lives and experiences of health Encyclopedia of Women's Folklore and Folklife Pauline Greenhill,Liz Locke,Theresa A. Vaughan,2008-12-08 From the stone age to the cyber age women and men have experienced the world differently Out of a cosmos of goddesses and she devils earth mothers and madonnas witches and queens saints and whores a vast body of women s folklore has come into bloom International in scope and drawing on more than 130 expert contributors this encyclopedia reviews the myths traditions and beliefs central to women s daily lives More than 260 alphabetically arranged entries cover the lore of women across time space and life Students of history religion and spirituality healing and traditional medicine literature and world cultures will value this encyclopedia as an indispensable guide to women s folklore In addition there are entries on women s folklore and folklife in 15 regions of the world such as the Caribbean Central Asia the Middle East and Western Europe Entries provide cross references and cite works for further reading and the encyclopedia closes with a selected bibliography of print and electronic resources Students learning about history world cultures religion and spirituality healing and traditional medicine and literature will welcome this companion to the daily life of women across time and continents Defending Battered Women on Trial Elizabeth A. Sheehy,2013-12-15 In the landmark Lavallee decision of 1990 the Supreme Court of Canada ruled that evidence of battered woman syndrome was admissible in establishing self defence for women accused of killing their abusive partners This book looks at the legal response to battered women who killed their partners in the fifteen years since Lavallee Elizabeth Sheehy uses trial transcripts and a case study approach to tell the stories of eleven women ten of whom killed their partners She looks at the barriers women face to just leaving the various ways in which self defence was argued in these cases and which form of expert testimony was used to frame women s experience of battering Drawing upon a rich expanse of research from many disciplines she highlights the limitations of the law of self defence and the costs to women undergoing a murder trial In a final chapter she proposes numerous reforms In Canada a woman is killed every six days by her male partner and about twelve women per year kill their male partners By illuminating the cases of eleven women this book highlights the barriers to leaving violent men and the practical and legal dilemmas that face battered women on trial for murder Sex Workers in the Maritimes Talk Back Leslie Ann Jeffrey, Gayle MacDonald, 2011-11-01 Sex workers are often the objects of study for academics and policy makers Theories about their lives and the policies that affect their work are usually developed without input from the sex workers themselves as they are rarely seen as capable of analyzing the social and political world in which they work In this book however sex workers set the tone Leslie Ann Jeffrey and Gayle MacDonald interview sex workers in three Maritime cities and those who work around them police health care providers community workers advocates members of neighbourhood associations and politicians The sex workers discuss such issues as violence and safety health and risk politics and policy media influence and public perception of the trade portraying the best and the worst facets of their working lives and expressing sentiments refreshingly at odds with commonly held opinions Given recent Parliamentary recommendations to decriminalize prostitution Sex Workers in the Maritimes Talk Back represents a timely shift to public discussions about sex work Engaging and accessible this book will be of interest to public policy practitioners students of social and political science community advocates police and sex workers and their families Fighting over God Janet Epp Buckingham, 2014-03-01 From before Confederation to the present day religion has been one of the most contentious issues in Canadian public life In Fighting over God Janet Buckingham surveys a vast array of religious conflicts exploring both their political aspects and the court cases that were part of their resolution While topics such as the Manitoba Schools Crisis and debates about Sunday shopping are familiar territory Buckingham focuses on lesser known conflicts such as those over the education of Doukhobor and Mennonite children and the banning of the Jehovah s Witness religion under the Defence of Canada Regulations during the Second World War Subjects are explored thematically with chapters on the history of religious broadcasting education freedom of expression religious practices marriage and family and religious institutions Contentious issues about religious accommodation are not going away Fighting over God cites over six hundred legal cases across nearly four centuries to provide a rich context for the ongoing social debate about the place of religion in our increasingly secular society Contemporary Issues in the Worldwide Anglican Communion Abby Day, 2017-05-15 Contemporary Issues in the Worldwide Anglican Communion offers unique perspectives on an organisation undergoing significant and rapid change with important religious and wider sociological consequences The book explores what the academic research community Anglican clergy and laypeople are suggesting are critical issues facing the Anglican communion as power and authority relations shift including gender roles changing families challenges of an aging population demands and opportunities generated by young people mobility and mutations of worship communities contested conformities to policies surrounding sexual orientation impact of social class and income differences variable patterns of congregational growth and decline and global power and growth shifts from north to south
