Challenges and Negotiations for Women in Higher Education Pamela Cotterill, Sue Jackson, Gayle Letherby, 2007-06-28

CONCEPTUALISING CHALLENGES AND NEGOTIATIONS FOR WOMEN IN HIGHER EDUCATION 1 2 3 Pamela Cotterill Sue Jackson and Gayle Letherby 1 2 3 Staffordshire University Birbeck University of London University of Plymouth

INTRODUCTION Despite the historical tradition of academia as a male space Evans 1995 Abbott et al 2005 Stanley 1997 Letherby 2003 it is possible to argue that the expansion of higher education in the 1980s and 1990s benefited women more than it did men By 1995 there were two and a half times more women in the academy than in 1970 1 Abbott et al 2005 and in the decade to follow the numbers of women undergraduate students had overtaken men with a substantial minority of these being older non standard entrants Furthermore as Paula J Caplan 1997 3 argues Visions of the academic life draw us women toward it picturing an intellectual community whose members search with passion and integrity for Truth and Knowledge We imagine that in academia we shall find freedom from bias freedom from worldly struggles of power and wealth freedom to choose what to study and what to say and an environment characterized by tolerance and openness where everyone's energy is focused on the open exploration of ideas However whilst this may be the vision for some women it is important not to view this widening of female participation in higher education through rose tinted glasses

Picturing the Self Gen Doy, 2004-09-24 Ideas of selfhood from Descartes theory of I think therefore I am to postmodern notions of the fragmented and de centred self have been crucial to the visual arts Gen Doy explores this relationship from Holbein s Ambassadors and the early modern period up to and beyond Marc Quinn s Self Blood Head Arguing that the importance of subjectivity for art goes far beyond self portraits she explores such topics as self expression the self work and consumption self presentation photography and the theatre of the self the marginalized beggars and asylum seekers and the real me A wide range of artists including Tracey Emin Jeff Wall Eugene Palmer and Karen Knorr are discussed as well as historical material from earlier periods

Negotiating the Self Kate Evans,2013-12-16 Kate Evans book is the first ever study of lesbian and gay pre service teachers It includes experiences as a student of teaching in the university as well as teachers or assistant teachers in public schools Integrating personal stories from interviews with broader global theories on notions of identity and queer theory she gives a moving and insightful look at the positions these teachers hold Her study provides for thought provoking debate on the negotiation of self and subjectivity and gives valuable perspective to this growing field in education

Social Change in the History of British Education Joyce Goodman,Gary McCulloch,WILLIAM RICHARDSON,2013-09-13 This work provides an overall review and analysis of the history of education and of its key research priorities in the British context It investigates the extent to which education has contributed historically to social change in Britain how it has itself been moulded by society and the needs and opportunities that remain for further research in this general area Contributors review the strengths and limitations of the historical literature on social change in British education over the past forty years ascertain what this literature tells us about the relationship between education and social change and map areas and themes for future historical research They consider both formal and informal education different levels and stages of the education system the process and experience of education and regional and national perspectives They also engage with broader discussions about theory and methodology The collection covers a large amount of historical territory from the sixteenth century to the present including the emergence of the learned professions the relationship between society and the economy the role of higher technological education the historical experiences of Ireland Scotland and Wales the social significance of teaching and learning and the importance of social class gender ethnicity and disability It involves personal biography no less than broad national and international movements in its considerations This book will be a major contribution to research as well as a general resource in the history and historiography of education in Britain

Feminist Theories and Concepts in Healthcare Kay Aranda,2017-09-10 Feminist theories and research approaches are committed to generating relevant morally accountable knowledge and understanding as well promoting social and political change Through them we have the potential to understand more fully the urgent global health concerns that individuals families and communities face on a daily basis This unique text provides students across a range of health care disciplines with a clear and accessible introduction to feminist theory and conceptual frameworks as well as how to apply them to health specific issues With a particular focus on students own qualitative research activities each chapter guides the reader through challenging and sometimes highly contentious theories with clarity and eloquence and demonstrates the ways in which feminist theories and research approaches can be used to help analyse the wide range of contemporary issues encountered by health practitioners daily This is a fascinating read for health science research students and practising health professionals or indeed anyone wishing to learn more about feminist theories and concepts within health care

Feminism, Identity and Difference Susan J. Hekman, 2013-10-18 This study focuses on a set of issues at the forefront of feminist thought in the late 1990s identity difference and their implications for feminist politics As feminism moves into an era in which differences among women the multiple identities of woman and identity politics are all at the centre of feminist discussions new approaches methods and politics are called for

Transformations Sarah Ahmed, Jane Kilby, Celia Lury, Maureen McNeil, Maureen Mcneil, Beverley Skeggs, 2005-07-19 With contributions from some of the most important current feminist thinkers Transformations traces both the shifts in thinking that have allowed feminism to arrive at its present point and the way that feminist agendas have progressed in line with wider social developments A thorough reassessment of feminism's place in contemporary life the authors engage in current debates as diverse as globalization technoscience embodiment and performativity taking feminism in fresh directions mapping new territory and suggesting alternative possibilities

Contained Empowerment and the Liminal Nature of Feminisms and Activisms Victoria A. Newsom, 2022-12-19 Contained Empowerment and the Liminal Nature of Feminisms and Activisms examines the processes by which activist successes are limited and outlines a theoretical framing of the liminal and temporal limits to social justice efforts as contained empowerment With a focused lens on the third wave and contemporary forms of feminism the author investigates feminist activity from the early 1990s through responses and reactions to the overturning of Roe v Wade in 2022 and contrasts these efforts with anti feminist white supremacist and other structural normalizing efforts designed to limit and repress women's gendered and reproductive rights This book includes analyses of celebrity activism girl power transnational feminist NGOs digital feminisms and the feminist mimicry applied by practitioners of neo liberal and anti feminism Victoria A Newsom concludes that the contained nature of feminist empowerment illustrates how activists must engage directly with intersectional challenges and address the multiplicities of structural oppressions in order to breach containment

Feminism, Self-Presentation, and Pinterest Emily S. Johnson, 2020-06-26 Feminism Self Presentation and Pinterest The Labor of Wedding Planning argues that Pinterest which has been largely criticized for perpetuating vapid stereotypical gender roles is actually a dynamic digital curation tool that facilitates meaning making around the important cultural event of the Western wedding Emily S Johnson through a thorough examination of how aspiring brides use the platform to plan their weddings found that Pinterest is a unique platform that offers brides the opportunity to construct their own wedding identity by engaging in creativity and exercising voice and agency during planning Even if the content they are consuming does support tenets of patriarchy or gender roles brides are able to make their own choices rather than having their goals determined for them through societal or familial norms and expectations The platform integrates both the online and offline labors of wedding planning as brides create meaning through the curation process and connect with the self as they execute their planning Overall Johnson argues that far from the stereotypes of fantasizing about dream weddings and luxurious lifestyles that may be unrealistic Pinterest gives brides increased ability to make their own specialized vision come to life Scholars of women s studies gender studies communication media studies cultural studies and rhetoric will find this book particularly useful Engendering Resistance Mary Bosworth,1999 Exploring how power is negotiated in women s prisons this book uses contemporary feminist theory to examine how women manage to resist the pains of imprisonment
