Feminist Companion To The Authentic Pauline Writings:

Feminist Companion to Paul Amy-Jill Levine, 2003-09-01 The seventh volume of this Companion series is devoted to the writings ascribed to Paul but widely thought not to be genuinely from the Apostle. These are of particular importance in showing how Paul's authority was exploited in the Early Church and the topics addressed often deal with Christian discipline and hierarchy. Hence there is a particularly strong feminist agenda to be explored here. The Pastoral Epistles, Ephesians and Colossians are prominent among the writings addressed in this sparkling collection and the authors include David Scholer, Luise Schottroff, Bonnie Thurston, Lilian Portefaix, Sara Winter and Ingrid Rosa Kitzberger. Feminist Companion to Paul Epistles and Hebrews Amy-Jill Levine, Maria Mayo Robins, 2004-01-01 The eighth volume in this series continues the exploration of women's representations and roles, constructions of gender and attitudes toward sexuality in the early church. Jim Aageson, Judith Applegate, Warren Carter, Pamela Eisenbaum, Ruth Hoppin, Luke Timothy Johnson, Catherine Clark Kroeger, Magda Missett, van de Weg, John Elliott, Betsy Bauman, Martin and Timothy Cargal tackle a variety of complex issues involving slavery, prostitution, widows, church leadership, suffering, women's agency and Evangelical responses to the so-called texts of terror. This volume advances discussion on these often overlooked and misunderstood general letters.

Constructing Paul Luke Timothy Johnson, 2020-03-05 First of a two-volume work providing a framework for understanding the life and thought of the apostle Paul. In this methodological tour de force, Luke Timothy Johnson offers an articulate, clear and thought-provoking portrait of the life and thought of the apostle Paul. Drawing upon recent developments in the study of Paul, Johnson offers readers an invitation to the Apostle Paul. Rather than focusing on a few of Paul's letters, Johnson lays out the materials necessary to envision the apostle from the thirteen canonical letters of Paul and the Acts of the Apostles. Constructing Paul thus provides a framework within which an engagement with Paul's letters can take place. Johnson demonstrates the possibility of doing responsible and creative work across the canonical collection without sacrificing literary or historical integrity. By bringing out the facets of the apostle from the canonical evidence, Johnson shows the possibilities for further and better inquiry into the life and thought of Paul. This first volume imagines a plausible biography for Paul and serves as an introduction to the studies in the second volume. Constructing Paul addresses all the pertinent questions related to the study of Paul. Johnson uses the canonical material as building blocks to make a case for why Paul ought to be heard today as a liberating rather than oppressing voice The Letters to Timothy and Titus Robert W. Yarbrough, 2018-09-25 The Pastoral Letters 1 Timothy 2 Timothy and Titus have made an enduring contribution to understanding the role of pastors in the church With a spirited devotion to the text Robert Yarbrough helps unlock the meaning of these short but rich letters in this commentary In keeping with the character of Pillar New Testament Commentary volumes The Letters to Timothy and Titus offers a straightforward reading of these texts Their primary concerns God salvation and the pastoral task remain central to Yarbrough's thorough and comprehensive exegesis Engaging with the best scholarship and resources Yarbrough shows how these letters are as relevant today as they were to the early Christians

Unsettling Science and Religion Whitney Bauman, Lisa Stenmark, 2018-05-24 This book borrows from the intellectual labor of queer theory in order to unsettle or queer the discourses of religion and science and by extension the science and religion discourse Drawing intellectual and social cues from works by influential theorists such as Michel Foucault Judith Butler and Eve Sedgwick chapters in this volume converge on at least three common features of queer theory First queer theory challenges givens that on occasion still undergird religiously and scientifically informed ways of thinking Second it takes embodiment seriously Third this engagement inevitably generates new pathways for thinking about how religious and scientific truths matter These three features ultimately lend support to critical investigations into the meanings of science and religion and the relationships between the two

Essays on the Real Church Dirk J. Smit, 2024-08-15 The spirit of the Reformation is often expressed in the well known slogan that Reformed churches are always being reformed according to God's Word ecclesia reformata semper reformanda secundum verbum Dei Over the last century the spirit of this slogan motivated someone like Dietrich Bonhoeffer to argue that the visible form and life of the church should reflect the truth and message of the church Already in his doctoral dissertation called Sanctorum Communio the communion of the saints the young Bonhoeffer combined theological claims and traditions with social theory and analysis in this spirit in an innovative way to study the nature and integrity and witness of the church At the time this was a radical claim with major consequences and challenges for Protestant churches Their life which meant their order structure actions statements convictions public presence and role was to be measured by their gospel which meant their message proclamation convictions claims They could no longer proclaim one truth yet live a different life It was this spirit which led to the well known Theological Declaration of Barmen in 1934 and to the formation of the Confessing Church in Nazi Germany Many called this a moment of truth a status confessionis It was this same spirit which later inspired the struggle in South Africa for the integrity and faithfulness of the church and for the credibility of its message proclamation and witness The contributions in this volume 52 papers essays sermons studies were all produced in this spirit Most of them have not been published before They were all occasional pieces written over several decades in different contexts and for different purposes and audiences yet they all breathe this self critical spirit of the Reformation considering whether the real church the concrete every day actual living church that people know and experience and perhaps belong to truly strives to embody the gospel itself the message which it claims and proclaims They all inquire under different circumstances and in diverse ways about different social forms of the real church from worship to congregation from denomination to ecumenical church from individual believers to movements and organisations whether and how they embody the truth of the church or not Together these contributions tell a story the story of this spirit in South African circles over several decades but also in the ecumenical church in our globalizing world They offer one small glimpse into different concrete moments in the story of this spirit in the life of this tradition and community of faith Hopefully some of these accounts may resonate with others who also shared the same spirit and still share it today in new and ongoing ways The Queer Bible Commentary, Second Edition Mona West, Robert E. Shore-Goss, 2022-09-30 First published over ten years ago The Queer Bible Commentary brings together the work of several scholars and pastors known for their interest in the areas of gender sexuality and Biblical studies Contributors draw on feminist queer deconstructionist utopian theories the social sciences and historical critical discourses The focus is both how reading from lesbian gay bisexual and or transgender perspectives affect the reading and interpretation of biblical texts and how biblical texts have and do affect LGBTQ communities This revised 2nd edition includes updated bibliographies and chapters taking into account the latest literature relating to queer interpretation of scripture

A Feminist Companion to Paul Amy-Jill Levine, Marianne Blickenstaff, 2004 The sixth volume in this series deals with the letters that are generally attributed to the apostle Paul In this formidable collection contributors including Richard Hays Daniel Boyarin Kathleen Corley Beverly Gaventa Margaret MacDonald and Luise Schottroff explore such topics as gender sexuality marriage the physical body leadership economic justice Jewish Christian relations metaphors of birth and motherhood adoption and slavery

Feminist Introduction to Paul Sandra Hack Polaski, 2005 Sandra Hack Polaski introduces readers to the letters and world of Paul encouraging a critical appreciation of Paul and his writings that does not require a choice between commitment to the scriptures and integrity as a modern feminist In conversation with the leading interpreters of Paul and considering possible responses to Paul conformist resistant rejectionist and transformational Polaski forges her own theory of how to interpret Paul She reads emphasizes and reinterprets overlooked neglected misintegrated or differently interpreted Pauline texts making visible the invisible and challenging the accepted readings Polaski uncovers both the ideologies behind the text and the ideologies the text seeks to suppress She traces the trajectories toward which the texts point even if Paul did not fully follow the trajectories to their logical end Such a program leads Polaski to find God's New Creation as the operative center of Pauline thought

Accompanied by a Believing Wife Raymond F. Collins, 2013 What light does the New Testament shed on the practice of celibacy for the sake of the kingdom In his newest work renowned Scripture scholar Raymond F Collins turns his attention to the question which of course has important implications for the church in our own day Though the answer is not a simple one and it does not necessarily translate automatically into clear contemporary ecclesial policy it still serves as an important foundation for discussion Collins gives careful consideration of the methodology to be used in approaching the question and to important aspects of the sociocultural context of first century Palestine within which the New Testament took form He then explores what Jesus said to the disciples several disciples own statuses as married men and Paul's teaching and personal example on marriage Raymond Collins has served the church through his thoughtful and scholarly exegetical work for decades This latest work of his will long be counted among his best

Sacra Pagina: The Pastoral Epistles Benjamin Fiore, 2009-10-01 First and Second Timothy and Titus have for many years borne the collective title The Pastoral Epistles Both their style and their content make it difficult to locate them within the corpus of Pauline letters and recent scholarship most often considers them pseudonymous works that imitate Paul's letters but apply the apostle's teaching to the concerns of a later time two or more decades after Paul's death. The Pastorals differ from Paul's own letters in being addressed to single individuals, coworkers of Paul who have been placed in charge of particular churches: Timothy apparently in Ephesus, Titus in Crete. They provide instruction for community leaders, both the individual addressees and other leaders whom they will appoint. The specification of certain offices within the local churches is one of the features that appear to locate these works in a later phase of church development. In this commentary, Benjamin Fiore, SJ, places the Pastorals in their historical and literary context. The reader will find here a solid introduction to parallel literary forms in Latin and Greek literature and particular descriptions of the way in which these documents use ancient rhetorical forms to achieve their paraenetic and hortatory purpose. Drawing on his parish experience as well as his academic training, Fiore also provides reflections on the contemporary pastoral application of these books, giving readers a renewed appreciation for the pastoral label these epistles bear. Benjamin Fiore, SJ, is president and professor of religious studies at Campion College at the University of Regina, Canada.
