Perspective in the Academy Elizabeth Langland, Walter R. Gove, 1983 Essays examine the impact of women s studies on scholarship in fields includ American history political science economics literary criticism and psychology Feminisms in the Academy Domna C. Stanton, Abigail J. Stewart, 1995 Brings together essays by leading scholars to explore the profound impact of feminist scholarship on the major academic disciplines Law and the Quest for Gender Equality Margaret Thornton, 2023-04-27 For centuries law was used to subordinate women and exclude them from the public sphere so it cannot be expected to become a source of equality instantaneously or without resistance from benchmark men that is those who are white heterosexual able bodied and middle class Equality furthermore was attainable only in the public sphere whereas the private sphere was marked as a site of inequality a wife children and servants could never be the equals of the master Despite their ambivalence about the role of law and its contradictions women and Others felt that they had no alternative but to look to it as a means of liberation This skewed patriarchal heritage the subtext of this collection of essays has continued to impede the quest for equality by women and Others It informs not only gender relations in the private sphere as illustrated by domestic violence and sexual assault but also the status of women in the public sphere Despite the fact that women have entered the paid workforce including the professions in large numbers they are still expected to assume responsibility for the preponderance of society s caring The essays show how maternal and caring roles which are still largely viewed as belonging to an unregulated private sphere continue to be invoked to detract from the authority of the feminine in the public sphere The promise of antidiscrimination legislation in overcoming the heritage of the past is also shown to be somewhat hollow

Sourcebook on Feminist Jurisprudence Hilaire Barnett, 2012-10-02 This book is a comprehensive analysis of the relationship between feminist theories and the law and the way in which developments of the former have affected and been affected by the latter The book takes as its starting point a study of women and culture on an international level which demonstrates how religious and cultural influences have been fundamental in establishing contemporary legal and social mores This provides the setting for an investigation into legal and social discrimination and inequality and how this has been addressed by the emergence of feminism A number of critiques and developments are examined When Women Ask the Questions Marilyn Jacoby Boxer,2001-09-28 In When Women Ask the Questions Marilyn Boxer traces the successes and failures of women's studies examines the field's enduring impact on the world of higher education and concludes that the rise of women's studies has challenged the university in the same way that feminism has challenged society at large Drawing on her experiences as a historian feminist academic administrator and former chair of a women's studies program Boxer observes that by working for justice and for changes necessary to make the attainment of justice a practical possibility women's studies ensures that women are heard in the processes and places where knowledge is created taught and preserved The intellectual transformation behind the emergence of women's studies Boxer concludes is one of historic proportions Like other great moments in human experience it has given rise to a flowering of art literature and science and to the challenging of previously accepted authorities of text and tradition Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation Charlotte Templin,1995 Soon after its publication in 1973 Fear of Flying brought Erica Jong immense popular success and media fame Alternately pegged sassy and vulgar Jong's novel embraced the politics of the women's liberation movement and challenged the definition of female sexuality Yet today more than twenty years and several books later literary reputation continues for the most part to elude Jong Typecast by her adversaries as a media seeking sensationalist Erica Jong has been unfairly side stepped by academia Charlotte Templin contends In this carefully researched study augmented by personal interviews with Jong Templin assembles and analyzes the medley of responses to Jong's books by reviewers critics writers academics and the media by liberals conservatives and feminists She examines the diverse opinions on the merit and relevance to contemporary life of Fear of Flying the invocation of a high culture low culture dichotomy to discredit How to Save Your Own Life the anatomy of literary success with Fanny Jong's reception in a postfeminist age and the trivialization of Jong's works that is inevitable with mass media exposure Templin also shows how antagonistic reviewers tend to identify Jong with her fictitious characters a practice more common when the author is a woman and judge her to be guilty of the sin of not being a proper woman In turn she shows how reviewers reveal something of their own values and ideological biases in their critiques and how literary reputations are built destroyed and altered over time The first book to make a detailed examination of the reputation of a woman writer Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation provides an excellent case study for the literary reception of women writers within a broad cultural context Templin's analysis offers valuable insight into the reception of women writers especially commercially successful women writers and dramatically illustrates the relation of literary reputation to popular appeal and cultural mores Wisconsin Women's Law Journal ,1988 Gender and Feminist Theory in Law and Society Madhavi Sunder,2017-11-30 This volume chronicles a quarter century of feminist theorizations on equality and liberty The essays demonstrate a continuing commitment to feminist method a democratic notion that all people have a right to participate in the production of knowledge of the world including legal knowledge and manifest feminism's continuing critical tradition namely theorists willingness to see multiple factors including feminism itself as obstructing enlightened constructions of the world Taken together the essays suggest that liberty to make the world is not just a means to an end equality but is a substantive end in itself

Materialist Feminism and the Politics of Discourse (RLE Feminist Theory) Rosemary Hennessy, 2012-11-27 Materialist Feminism and the Politics of Discourse confronts the impasses in materialist feminist work on rethinking woman as a discursively constructed subject The book looks at the problem of examining critically the social dimensions on which theories of discourse are premised how such theories understand materiality the relation between women's experience and feminist politics and that between history and discourse Rosemary Hennessy considers the work of Kristeva Foucault Laclau and Mouffe and argues for a materialist feminist re articulation of discourse as ideology Concerns over identity and difference are incorporated into a rewriting of materialist feminism's analysis of women's oppression across capitalist and patriarchal structures In adapting postmodernist theories in this way Hennessy develops a project of social change where feminism while maintaining its specificity is necessarily aligned with other emancipatory movements

Mentoring in STEM Through a Female Identity Lens: Heroes Make a Difference for Women Cecilia (Ceal) D. Craig, 2024-09-24 With the stagnant low percentages of women in STEM careers identifying practices to satisfy the growing need for professionals in those fields is critical to improve recruitment and retention Supportive relationships like mentors and sponsors have been shown to both inspire women to pursue those careers and to help them succeed in them This book explores how developing supportive connections helps students faculty and teachers see STEM professions as being a place for women to grow and succeed Early chapters provide essential mentor characteristics and explore engineering education gender inequity from a teacher's perspective of stereotypes stereotype threat and bias offering culturally relevant teacher mentoring approaches to promote equitable pre college engineering education Middle chapters describe K 12 mentoring programs mentorship initiatives empowering young South African Women and girls to advance to mathematical related careers programs methods and activities to achieve the desired goal of making young students aspire to become scientists and engagement year round in grades 9 12 combined with 40 years of iterative evaluation created a finely honed enrichment program for low income Black women in urban public high schools A longitudinal undergraduate mentoring program for mentoring early college students in Louisiana provides further insights in that section The final four chapter section describes mentoring programs for professors and teachers reciprocal mentor relationships and role shifting within an informal peer mentoring group differences between mentoring relationships and sponsoring relationships within academia the impact of culturally responsive mentorship CRM on the development and expression of a pre service teacher's woman of science identity and a program that aims to recruit and retain STEM pre service teachers and STEM teachers of color With several longitudinal mentoring programs several programs for women of color this book fills a gap to help grow the numbers of women in STEM
