

American Dream

By Maya Anthony

Golden gateways beckon many,
To the land where dreams come true.
Where hopes rise, bright and sunny,
And skies are ever blue.

Chasing dreams, both big and small,
In this vast, sprawling land.
Where the call of freedom's thrall,
Is felt by every hand.

Yet, for some, it's just a hue,
A distant, shimmering gleam.
Yet still, we chase, me and you,
The ever-fading dream.

Performing Identities and Utopias of Belonging Teresa Botelho, Iolanda Ramos, 2014-07-08 Performing Identities and Utopias of Belonging consists of sixteen essays reflecting the current conflicted debate on the ontology constructiveness and affect of categories of ascribed social identity such as gender ethnicity race and nation in the context of British Irish and North American cultural landscapes They address the many ways in which these communities of belonging are imagined iterated performed questioned and deconstructed in literature cinema and visual culture they also support or counter claims about the enhanced value of social identity in the expression of the self in the light of the present debates that surround the contested post identity turn in cultural studies Significantly they also address the role of social identity in the field of utopian and dystopian thought focusing on the projection of imagined futures where alternative means of conceiving ascribed identity are conceptualized The contributions are shaped by a plurality of approaches and theoretical discourses and come from both established and emerging scholars and researchers from Europe and beyond The collection is structured in three sections the politics of unbelonging deconstructing utopian and cultural paradigms and performing identities in the visual arts which organize the multidisciplinary discussions around specific nuclei of interrogations

Explorations of Spirituality in American Women's Literature Scarlett Cunningham, 2023-07-07 This book connects the aging woman to the image of God in the work of Flannery O'Connor Joyce Carol Oates Alicia Ostriker Lucille Clifton Mary Szybist and Anne Babson It introduces a canon of contemporary American women's spiritual literature with the goal of showing how this literature treats aging and spirituality as major connected themes It demonstrates that such literature interacts meaningfully with feminist theology social science research on aging and body image attachment theory and narrative identity theory The book provides an interdisciplinary context for the relationship between aging and spirituality in order to confirm that US women's writing provides unique illustrations of the interconnections between aging and spirituality signaled by other fields This book demonstrates that relationships between the human and divine remain a consistent and valuable feature of contemporary women's literature and that the divine human relationship is under constant literary revision

Notational Experiments in North American Long Poems, 1961-2011 A. J. Carruthers, 2017-01-28 This book is a critical experiment that tracks the literary and poetic uses of musical notation and notational methods in North American long poems from the middle of last century to the contemporary moment Poets have readily referred to their poems as scores Yet in this study Carruthers argues that the integration of musical scores in expansive works of this period does more work than previously thought offering both resolution and escape from the demands placed on long poem form The five case studies on Langston Hughes Armand Schwerner BpNichol Joan Retallack and Anne Waldman offer approaches to reading literary scores in what might be described as a critical stave or a critical fugue of instances In differing ways musical notation and notational methods impact the form time and sometimes the ethical and political stances of these respective long poems

Self-Made Women in the 1920s United States Matthew Niven Teorey, 2022-05-16 Women of the 1920s led a revolt against the old standards of womanhood that were dominating US culture Flappers and feminists they spoke and acted out inspiring other women to follow This book analyzes the work of eleven important 1920s female authors who chronicled this revolt Anzia Yezierska Anita Loos Mae West Josephine Lovett Nella Larsen Mourning Dove Djuna Barnes Amy Lowell Gertrude Stein Bessie Smith and Dorothy Parker These trailblazers wrote counter narratives to the sexism racism classism and homophobia women faced during the Jazz Age The author brings their novels poems plays film scenarios and blues lyrics into conversation with each other for the first time to show different approaches female readers could take to become autonomous individuals and full citizens The works also encouraged readers to maintain supportive relationships with other progressive women The author argues these works presented female readers with examples of how they could act individually and collectively to attain the political power social status economic independence sexual freedom and artistic recognition they deserved of American Poetry and Americana Music Linda Nicole Blair, 2021-06-10 From the poems of Anne Bradstreet Phillis Wheatley and Emily Dickinson emerges what the author calls FemPoetiks a discourse of female empowerment Situating the work of these poets in their historical eras Linda Nicole Blair considers a sampling of their poems side by side with a number of song lyrics by singer songwriters Brandi Carlile Rhiannon Giddens and Lucinda Williams having found commonalities of theme motif and language between them Blair argues that while FemPoetiks has continued to develop in various ways in American poetry by women the fact that this discourse finds expression in songs by Americana female artists indicates a matrilineal line of influence from the 1630s to today In order to show the omnipresence of this powerful feminist discourse she closes this book with eleven interviews she conducted with female singer songwriters from around the United States The phenomenon of FemPoetiks is not limited to the arts but extends into all areas of American life from the domestic to the political FemPoetiks is a woman's truth

FemPoetiks
