Effective Intercultural Communication (Encountering Mission) A. Scott Moreau, Evvy Hay Campbell, Susan Greener, 2014-10-14 With the development of instantaneous global communication it is vital to communicate effectively across cultural boundaries This addition to the acclaimed Encountering Mission series is designed to offer contemporary intercultural communication insights to mission students and practitioners Authored by leading missionary scholars with significant intercultural experience the book explores the cultural values that show up in intercultural communication and examines how we can communicate effectively in a new cultural setting Features such as case studies tables figures and sidebars are included making the book useful for classrooms

Theoretical Turbulence in Intercultural Communication Studies Garry Robson, 2014-07-03 A number of researchers trainers and educators in intercultural communication acknowledge that the most popular models and theories of the field are insufficient even unsuitable to describe or explain our practical multicultural experiences today This collection of articles offers new insights and critical evaluations of intercultural communication theory and research Authors from a variety of disciplines discuss for example methodological concerns Chinese exceptionalism micro and macro level interactions ways to teach and study perceptions and self awareness and also provide new constructions for understanding communication and culture and their relationship

De-Westernizing Communication Research Georgette Wang, 2010-12-14 The rise of postmodern theories and pluralist thinking has paved the way for multicultural approaches to communication studies and now is the time for decentralization de Westernization and differentiation This trend is reflected in the increasing number of communication journals with a national or regional focus Alongside this proliferation of research output from outside of the mainstream West there is a growing discontent with communication theories being Westerncentric Compared with earlier works that questioned the need to distinguish between the Western and the non Western and to build Asian communication theories there seems to be greater assertiveness and determination in searching for and developing theoretical frameworks and paradigms that take consideration of and therefore are more relevant to the cultural context in which research is accomplished This path breaking book moves beyond critiquing Westerncentrism in media and communication studies by examining where Eurocentrism has come from how is it reflected in the study of media and communication what the barriers and solutions to de centralizing the production of theories are and what is called for in order to establish Asian communication theories Intercultural and Interfaith Dialogues for Global Peacebuilding and Stability Peleg, Samuel,2019-05-31 Communication is vital to the prosperity and survival of the community with the quality of communication amongst its members directly improving or worsening the value of the community However with the increase in immigration and relocation of refugees the need to accommodate diverse cultural groups becomes imperative for the viability and survivability of a community while posing challenges to communication Intercultural and interfaith dialogue can be used constructively to cultivate manage and sustain diversity and wellbeing in particularly deeply divided communities Intercultural and Interfaith Dialogues for Global Peacebuilding and Stability is a critical research publication that explores the importance of conflict resolution strategies among populations that include a varied amalgamation of cultural and religious backgrounds With the increasing emphasis on intercultural understanding promoted by governments civil societies and international mediators this book offers relevant remedies for major afflictions in the world today such as exclusion marginalization xenophobia and racism It is ideal for government officials policymakers activists diplomats lawyers international trade and commerce agencies religious institutions academicians researchers and students working in a variety of disciplines including political science international relations law communication sociology and cultural studies Speaking Across Borders Sjur Bergan,Hilligje van't Land,Council of Europe,2010-01-01 Our ability to relate to and interact with those whose cultural backgrounds differ from our own will be among the determining factors For The future of our societies For most people regardless of whether they aim for international careers or life in their local communities intercultural dialogue will become a fact of life rather than an option Education will need to play a key role in developing the ability to conduct intercultural dialogue which is an integral part of developing democratic culture This book edited jointly by the Council of Europe And The International Association of Universities IAU explores the role of higher education in developing intercultural dialogue in society at large it complements Intercultural dialogue on Campus Higher Education series No 11 And The issue of the IAU journal Higher Education Policy on the same topic and includes contributions by prominent authors from Europe The Middle East Africa Asia and North America The book sets out the political context for intercultural dialogue and explores how universities can move from dialogue on campus to dialogue in society and hence to become actors of intercultural dialogue it also offers examples of good practice from various parts of the world The Routledge Handbook of Language and Intercultural Communication Jane Jackson,2012-03-15 Section 1 Foundations of language and intercultural communication section 2 Core themes and
