A Monetary History of the Ottoman Empire Sevket Pamuk, 2000-03-09 The Ottoman empire stood at the crossroads of intercontinental trade at the dawn of the era of capitalism This volume examines the monetary history of that empire from its beginnings in the fourteenth century to the end of the first world war Through a detailed examination of the currencies and related institutions of an empire which stretched from the Balkans through Anatolia Syria Egypt and the Gulf to the Maghrib the book demonstrates the complexity of the monetary arrangements and their evolution in response to both local developments and global economic forces The volume also affords some valuable insights into social and political history and the evolution of Ottoman institutions This is an important book by one of the most distinguished economic historians in the field

Workers and Peasants in the Modern Middle East Joel Beinin, 2001-09-06 Joel Beinin s survey of subaltern history in the Middle East demonstrates lucidly and compellingly how the lives experiences and culture of working people can inform our historical understanding Beginning in the middle of the eighteenth century the book charts the history of peasants urban artisans and modern working classes across the lands of the Ottoman empire and its Muslim majority successor states including the Balkans Turkey the Arab Middle East and North Africa Inspired by the approach of the Indian Subaltern Studies school the book is the first to offer a synthesized critical assessment of the scholarly work on the social history of this region for the last twenty years It offers insights into the political economic and social life of ordinary men and women and their apprehension of their own experiences Students will find it rich in narrative detail and accessible and authoritative in presentation

The Politics of Regional Trade in Iraq, Arabia, and the Gulf, 1745-1900 Hala Mundhir Fattah, 1997-01-01 Examines the development of a socioeconomic region in Iraq Arabia and the Gulf during a 150 year period focusing on regional ties through long distance trade networks The Sassoons Joseph Sassoon, 2025-08-12 A spectacular generational saga of the making and undoing of a family dynasty the riveting untold story of the gilded Jewish Bagdadi Sassoons who built a vast empire through global finance and trade cotton opium shipping banking that reached across three continents and ultimately changed the destinies of nations With full access to rare family photographs and archives Engaging compelling well paced and supremely satisfying The New York Times They were one of the richest families in the world for two hundred years from the 19th century to the 20th and were known as the Rothschilds of the East Mesopotamian in origin and for more than forty years the chief treasurers to the pashas of Baghdad and Basra they were forced to flee to Bushir on the Persian Gulf David Sassoon and sons starting over with nothing and beginning to trade in India in cotton and opium The Sassoons soon were building textile mills and factories and setting up branches in shipping in China and expanding beyond to Japan and further west to Paris and London They became members of British parliament were knighted and owned and edited Britain's leading newspapers including The Sunday Times and The Observer And in 1887 the exalted dynasty of Sassoon joined forces with the banking empire of Rothschild and were soon joined by marriage fusing together two of the biggest Jewish commerce and banking families in the world Against the monumental canvas of two centuries of the Ottoman Empire and the changing face of the Far East across Europe and Great Britain during the time of its farthest reach Joseph Sassoon gives us a riveting generational saga of the making of this magnificent family dynasty

History of Paper in Iran, 1501-1925 Willem Floor, Amélie Courvat Desvergnés, 2022-10-04 The Chinese invented papermaking which by the 8th century had reached the Muslim world in Samarkand and Baghdad and Spain by the 11th century Much later at the end of the 18th century onwards modern industrial papermaking was developed by the Europeans The History of Paper in Iran 1501 to 1925 sets out for the reader the types of paper made in Iran during the Safavid and Qajar periods and the crucial role imported paper played in the country The Iranian government attempted to introduce modern European paper production technology first by sending students abroad to learn about this technology and then by purchasing equipment to set up a paper industry However during the 19th century domestic Iranian paper production came under increasing pressure from paper imports and the government abandoned its efforts to modernize the domestic paper industry The authors renowned scholar Willem Floor in collaboration with Amélie Couvrat Desvergnés a museum conservator of artworks on paper and books identify and illustrate the watermarks and or countermarks of the various paper producers and provide examples of the diversity of quality composition and nature of the different types of paper used by various strata of the Iranian society Also provided are detailed import data showing which country exported paper to Iran via which routes as well as their changing market position over time Finally the various end uses of paper from books and farmans to paintings and diverse packing and utilitarian paper are examined and where possible quantified data are presented This book will reward scholars and general readers alike Middle East from Empire to Sealed Identities Lorenzo Kamel, 2019-01-22 This compelling analysis of the modern Middle East based on research in 19 archives and numerous languages shows the transition from an internal history characterised by local realities that were plural and multidimensional and where identities were flexible and hybrid to a simplified history largely imagined and imposed by external actors The author demonstrates how the once heterogeneous identities of Middle Eastern peoples were sealed into a standardised and uniform version that persists to this day He also sheds light on the efforts that peoples in the region in the context of a new process of homogenisation of diversities are exerting in order to get back into history regaining possession of their multifaceted pasts

War in Syria and the Middle East Federico Manfredi Firmian, 2025-04-01 A wide ranging examination of the causes of war in Syria and the Middle East In War in Syria and the Middle East Federico Manfredi Firmian uses historical political and economic lenses to examine how Syria's civil war is part of a broad pattern of social breakdown increasingly prevalent across the Arab and Islamic worlds This expansive book argues that many conflicts across the Middle East today are rooted in fundamental ideological divides that originated with European imperialism In Syria the iniquities of French rule gave way to the radicalism of the Arab Socialist Ba'ath Party which promised to dismantle imperial legacies and capitalist logics through nationalizations land redistribution and central planning Ba'athist Syria however ultimately failed to provide a viable alternative to capitalism In fact its failures and the failures of other revolutionary regimes of socialist inspiration provided an opening for armed Islamist movements to challenge both secular authoritarian rule and US foreign policies ultimately leading to civil war Combining a multidisciplinary approach with fieldwork War in Syria and the Middle East argues for a global perspective on a pressing ongoing conflict

History of Glass and Ceramics in Iran, 1500-1925 Willem Floor, This comprehensive and richly detailed study by renowned scholar Willem Floor is the culmination of what is known about domestic glass and ceramic production location quality craftsmen in Iran from 1500 until the end of the Qajar period in 1925 Because of increasing imports the Qajar government tried to improve domestic glass and ceramic techniques through transfer of technology once through direct foreign investment The reasons for these failed attempts are discussed as well as the development of the import of glass and ceramic products Over time there was not only a change in the places of origin of glass and ceramic imports but also in their volume and composition which during the Qajar period included a large variety of cheap articles for mass consumption There is an appendix for each chapter giving a market assessment for glass and ceramic production in Iran written in French by Belgian consultants in 1891 The Belgian assessments offer a detailed chemical analysis of glass and ceramics made in Iran as well as an inventory of the types of glassware and ceramics made by domestic craftsmen It concludes with proposals for the establishment of a modern glass and ceramic factory in Iran This superb body of research will not only be of great interest to Iranian scholars inside and outside the country but also to everyone interested in the story of glass and ceramics throughout the world

War, Institutions, and Social Change in the Middle East Steven Heydemann, 2000-12-01 Few areas of the world have been as profoundly shaped by war as the Middle East in the twentieth century Despite the prominence of war making in this region there has been surprisingly little research investigating the effects of war as a social and political process in the Middle East To fill this gap War Institutions and Social Change in the Middle East brings together an international and interdisciplinary group of scholars who explore the role of war preparation and war making on the formation and transformation of states and societies in the contemporary Middle East Their findings pose significant challenges to widely accepted assumptions and present new theoretical starting points for the study of war and the state in the contemporary developing world Heydemann's collaborators include political scientists historians anthropologists and sociologists from the Middle East Europe and the United States Their essays are both theoretically sophisticated and empirically rich covering topics such as the effects of World War II on state market relations in Syria and Egypt the role of war in the rise of the Palestine Liberation Organization the political economy of Lebanese militias and the effects of the 1967 war on state and social institutions in Israel The volume originated as a research planning project of the Joint Committee on the Near and Middle East of the Social Science Research Council

The Middle East and the Making of the Modern World Cyrus Schayegh, 2017-08-28 How do historians make sense of the spatial layeredness of the past Cyrus Schayegh argues that the modern world's ultimate socio spatial feature is not the oft studied processes of globalization or state formation or urbanization but rather the fast paced mutually transformative intertwinements of cities regions states and global circuits

Jewish-Muslim Relations and Migration from Yemen to Palestine in the Late Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Ari Ariel, 2013-12-05 In Jewish Muslim Relations and Migration from Yemen to Palestine in the Late Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Ari Ariel analyzes the impact of local regional and international events on ethnic and religious relations in Yemen and Yemeni Jewish migration patterns Previous research has dealt with single episodes of Yemenite migration during limited spans of time Ariel instead provides a broad sweep of the migratory flows over the 70 year time span during which most of Yemen's Jews moved to Palestine and then Israel He successfully avoids the polemic nature of much of the literature on Middle Eastern Jewry by focusing on the social economic and political transformations that provoked and then sustained this migration
