Fundamentals of Cartography (Second Revised and Enlarged Edition) R.P. Misra, 2014-01-01 The first edition of Fundamentals of Cartography was published in 1969 by Prasanga University of Mysore It was reprinted by the Concept Publishing Company New Delhi in While the book remained in currency the cartographic processes changed drastically when information technology brought a sea of change in the sources of information drafting of maps and printing processes Drawing maps by hand became obsolete surveying whether ground or aerial was no longer the only major source of information In view of these changes it became necessary to bring out a new edition Realising that unless one knows directions scales projections coordinates ground and air surveys one would fail to understand the proper use of modern information technology in the drawing the maps Thus the contents of 1969 edition are retained and new chapters have been added to update the book In Part II of the book a chapter on Remote Sensing and Satellite Imagery has been added and Part V contains chapters on Computer Aided Cartography Geographic Information System GIS Land Information System LIS and Global Positioning System GPS

Regional Development: Theory and Practice Baleshwar Thakur, H.S. Sharma, Suresh Misra, S. Chattopadhyay, Surendra Singh, 2017-01-01 The Five Volume Series on Regional Development Theory and Practice is a festschrift dedicated to Professor R P Misra a distinguished scholar widely recognized as one of the pioneers who initiated and promoted Regional Planning studies in India This five volume series with over one hundred research papers on different aspects of regional development is a fitting tribute to the scholar who spent much of his life time thinking researching and writing about development in general and regional development in particular These five volumes each dealing with a specific aspect of regional development Vol 1 Concept of Regional Development Vol 2 Measuring Development Vol 3 Development Patterns and Structures Vol 4 Development Policies and Vol 5 Development Challenges Each of the five volumes begins with an introduction which is unique in the sense that this is not merely an introduction to the contributions contained in the volume but also talks of the theory of regional development contemporary development in the discipline and the contrarian views expressed by various academics and policy makers Another significant aspect of these introductions is the global view and a comparative scenario of the developed developing and under developed economies of the world that the editors have kept in view in a debate seeking an universal theory of regional development Regions are specifics and often unique and regional development implies focusing on the assets of the territory its potential and constraints

Historical Geography, GIScience and Textual Analysis Charles Travis, Francis Ludlow, Ferenc Gyuris, 2020-02-29 This book illustrates how literature history and geographical analysis complement and enrich each other's disciplinary endeavors The Hun Lenox Globe constructed in 1510 contains the Latin phrase Hic sunt dracones Here be dragons warning sailors of the dangers of drifting into uncharted waters Nearly half a millennium earlier the practice of earth writing geographia emerged from the cloisters of the great library of Alexandria as a discipline blending the twin pursuits of Strabo's poetic impression of places and Herodotus chronicles of events and cultures Eratosthenes a librarian at Alexandria and the mathematician Ptolemy employed geometry as another language with which to pursue earth writing From this ancient East Mediterranean fount the streams of literary perception historical record and geographical analysis phenomenological and Euclidean found confluence The aim of this collection is to recover such means and seek the fount of such rich waters by exploring relations between historical geography geographic information science GIS geoscience and textual analysis The book discusses and illustrates current case studies trends and discourses in European American and Asian spheres where historical geography is practiced in concert with human and physical applications of GIS and the broader geosciences and the analysis of text broadly conceived as archival literary historical cultural climatic scientific digital cinematic and media Time as a multi scaled concept again broadly conceived is the pivot around which the interdisciplinary contributions to this volume revolve In The Landscape of Time 2002 the historian John Lewis Gaddis posits What if we were to think of history as a kind of mapping He links the ancient practice of mapmaking with the three part conception of time past present and future Gaddis presents the practices of cartography and historical narrative as attempts to manage infinitely complex subjects by imposing abstract grids to frame the phenomena being examined longitude and latitude to frame landscapes and occidental and oriental temporal scales to frame timescapes Gaddis contends that if the past is a landscape and history is the way we represent it then it follows that pattern recognition constitutes a primary form of human perception one that can be parsed empirically statistically and phenomenologically In turn this volume reasons that literary historical cartographical scientific mathematical and counterfactual narratives create their own spatio temporal frames of reference Confluences between the poetic and the positivistic the empirical and the impressionistic the epic and the episodic and the chronologic and the chorologic can be identified and studied by integrating practices in historical geography GIScience geoscience and textual analysis As a result new perceptions and insights facilitating further avenues of scholarship into uncharted waters emerge The various ways in which geographical historical and textual perspectives are hermeneutically woven together in this volume illuminates the different methods with which to explore terrae incognitae of knowledge beyond the shores of their own separate disciplinary islands      Annals of the National Association of Geographers, India ,1990      Introductory Methods in Population Analysis R. B. Mandal, Hanuman Prasad, 1989 With special reference to India      Relevance of Sankalia to Cultural Geography in India Anath Bandhu Mukerji, 1990 An attempt to highlight the contributions of Hasmukhlal Dhirajlal Sankalia to research in human history in India      ICSSR Journal of Abstracts and Reviews Indian Council of Social Science Research, 1991      The Enigma of the Origin of Portolan Charts Roel Nicolai, 2016-05-30 The sudden appearance of portolan charts realistic nautical charts of the Mediterranean and Black Sea at the end of the thirteenth century is one of the most significant occurrences in the history of cartography Using geodetic and statistical analysis techniques these charts are shown to be mosaics of partial charts that are considerably more accurate than has been assumed Their accuracy exceeds medieval mapping capabilities These sub charts show a remarkably good agreement with the Mercator map projection It is demonstrated that this map projection can only have been an intentional feature of the charts construction Through geodetic analysis the author eliminates the possibility that the charts are original products of a medieval Mediterranean nautical culture which until now they have been widely believed to be

River Ganga P. L. Madan, 2005 The Western perception of India has varied widely since antiquity Early Egyptians and Babylonians had a vague idea about the region Greeks on the other hand were more aware geographical perspectives and perceptions changed rapidly science of cartography swiftly advanced means of collecting empirical cartographical data multiplied rapidly map makers were kept busy Many inaccuracies or fallacies crept in the early stages of map making some inevitable others not so Map makers carried on with these inaccuracies not for years or decades but for centuries In one map the author was surprised to see that a river Ganga shown flowing in the south central region of India and falling into the Bay of Bengal in Orissa This river was south west of the great delta of the real Ganga or Ganges coming from the north west in Bengal called Bengala in the map Two Gangas or Ganges in one map And this in the map by a well known map maker of the time This was one of the reasons for the author's quest for early geographical literature to find out the reasons behind showing Ganga in peninsular India and the perpetuation of the fallacy for centuries by other respected cartographers as well This important volume would go a long way in deciphering the mystery and fascination the Indian subcontinent especially the holy river Ganga has held for cartographers from time immemorial      Thematic Cartography and Geovisualization Terry A. Slocum, 2009 This comprehensive volume blends broad coverage of basic methods for symbolizing spatial data with an introduction to cutting edge data visualization techniques KEY TOPICS Offers clear descriptions of various aspects of effective efficient map design with an emphasis on the practical application of design theories and appropriate use of map elements Clearly contrasts different approaches for symbolizing spatial data in addition to individual mapping techniques This edition includes updated material on the history of thematic cartography maps and society scale and generalization and
