Vocationalism in Further and Higher Education Sai Loo, Jill Jameson, 2016-08-05 Vocationalism in Further and Higher Education presents a collection of research based papers on the English model of vocationalism and higher education It argues that negative societal and political perceptions have hindered the debate about the significance and relevance of vocational education and training provision to learning work and the economy In this book the writers offer unique solutions to the difficult questions that have emerged from their investigations into vocationalism in England This edited collection brings together a group of academic experts to report and discuss their findings from many years of evidence based research on vocationalism at three levels macro national and policy making meso programmes and organization and micro individual learning and teaching Chapters explore the key issues relating to the topic such as policies curriculum learning and teaching and work contexts The book reflects on the diversity of related programmes and discusses the applicability and relevance of the term vocationalism in the light of current developments relating to higher vocational education including occupation employability and professionalism This book is a timely contribution to the debate on the English model of vocational education and will be an essential resource for researchers practitioners and postgraduate students in the fields of vocational education technical and vocational education and training TVET work based learning politics and policy of education teaching and learning higher education and curriculum and pedagogy

Social Inclusion and Higher Education Basit, Tehmina N, Tomlinson, Sally, 2012-01-25 As higher education has made deliberate strides in recent decades to become more inclusive and accessible the number of students from non traditional backgrounds has increased dramatically There has been much study of the effects of higher education on previously underserved populations showing that it can lead to higher lifetime income and higher status But there has been little research on what happens to those students once they are in a university This book fills that gap taking a close look at this issue and drawing on case studies from the United States the United Kingdom and Australia to illuminate the problems that face non traditional students the resources they and their families are able to draw on and the ways that administrators and staff can help them succeed This paperback edition is well suited to postgraduate students and practitioners and alike

A Practical Guide to Academic Research Graham Birley, Neil Moreland, 2014-05-12 Covering all aspects of research methodology this research tool also deals with planning issues and self management techniques needed by the researcher It contains information on data analysis and advice for staff members needing support from their institutions to pursue research

Building Higher

Education Cooperation with the EU Elizabeth Balbachevsky, Yuzhuo Cai, Heather Eggins, Svetlana Shenderova, 2020-12-15

International cooperation in higher education is not new but gained new urgency in recent years with the expansion of the knowledge economy the easy flow of communications and the emulation created by international rankings In the European Union s countries international competition and the process of political and economic unification required national higher education institutions to give priority to international cooperation while large countries such as Russia China Brazil and South Africa intensified their effort to modernise their institutions and link them to the international flow of science technology and talent leading similar trends in other countries in their regions These global trends are shaped by the national culture and institutions of each country and the existing national and international cooperation policies and instruments on all sides In Building Higher Education Cooperation with the EU Challenges and Opportunities from Four Continents the authors look at how these interactions occur from the perspectives of the European Union and the countries involved and make recommendations on policies that could make international cooperation more fluid and beneficial to all parties involved
