Folklore Fights The Nazis Humor In Occupied Norway 1940 1945:

Folklore Fights the Nazis Kathleen Stokker, 1997-02-01
Armed with jokes puns and cartoons Norwegians tried to keep their spirits high and foster the Resistance by poking fun at the occupying Germans during World War II Despite a 1942 ordinance mandating death for the ridicule of Nazi soldiers Norwegians attacked the occupying Nazis and their Norwegian collaborators by means of anecdotes quips insinuating personal ads children s stories Christmas cards mock postage stamps and symbolic clothing
In relating this dramatic story Kathleen Stokker draws upon her many interviews with survivors of the Occupation and upon the archives of the Norwegian Resistance Museum and the University of Oslo Central to the book are four joke notebooks kept by women ranging in age from eleven to thirty who found sufficient meaning in this humor to risk recording and preserving it Stokker also cites details from wartime diaries of three other women from East West and North Norway Placing the joking in historical cultural and psychological context Stokker demonstrates how this seemingly frivolous humor in fact contributed to the development of a resistance mentality among an initially confused paralyzed and dispirited population stunned by the German invasion of their neutral country
For this paperback edition Stokker has added a new preface offering a comparative view of resistance through humor in neighboring Denmark
