Demystifying Shariah Sumbul Ali-Karamali, 2020-08-11 A direct counterpoint to fear mongering headlines about shariah law a Muslim American legal expert tells the real story eliminating stereotypes and assumptions with compassion irony and humor Through scare tactics and deliberate misinformation campaigns anti Muslim propagandists insist wrongly that shariah is a draconian and oppressive Islamic law that all Muslims must abide by They circulate horror stories encouraging Americans to fear the takeover of shariah law in America and even mounting anti shariah protests with zero evidence that shariah has taken over any part of our country That's because it hasn't It would be almost funny if it weren't so terrifyingly wrong as puzzling as if Americans suddenly began protesting the Martian occupation of Earth Demystifying Shariah explains that shariah is not one set of punitive rules or even law the way we think of law rigid and enforceable but religious rules and recommendations that provide Muslims with guidance in various aspects of life Sumbul Ali Karamali draws on scholarship and her degree in Islamic law to explain shariah in an accessible engaging narrative style its various meanings how it developed and how the shariah based legal system operated for over a thousand years She explains what shariah means not only in the abstract but in the daily lives of Muslims She discusses modern calls for shariah what they mean and whether shariah is the law of the land anywhere in the world She also describes the key lies and misunderstandings about shariah circulating in our public discourse and why so many of them are nonsensical This engaging guide is intended to introduce you to the basic principles goals and general development of shariah and to answer questions like How do Muslims engage with shariah What does shariah have to do with our Constitution What does shariah have to do with the way the world looks like today And why do we all Muslims or not need to care

Routledge Handbook on Early Islam Herbert Berg, 2017-08-10 The formative period of Islam remains highly contested From the beginning of modern scholarship on this formative period scholars have questioned traditional Muslim accounts on early Islam The scholarly fixation is mirrored by sectarian groups and movements within Islam most of which trace their origins to this period Moreover contemporary movements from Salafists to modernists continue to point to Islam's origins to justify their positions This Handbook provides a definitive overview of early Islam and how this period was understood and deployed by later Muslims It is split into four main parts the first of which explores the debates and positions on the critical texts and figures of early Islam The second part turns to the communities that identified their origins with the Qur'an and Muhammad In addition to the development of Muslim identities and politics of particular focus is the relationship with groups outside or movements inside of the umma the collective community of Muslims The third part looks beyond what happened from the 7th to the 9th centuries CE and explores what that period the events figures and texts have meant for Muslims in the past and what they mean for Muslims today Not all Muslims or scholars are willing to merely reinterpret early Islam and its sources though some are willing to jettison parts or even all of the edifice that has been constructed over almost a millennium and a half The Handbook therefore concludes with discussions of reimaginings and revisions of early Islam and its sources Almost every major debate in the study of Islam and among Muslims looks to the formative period of Islam The wide range of contributions from many of the leading academic experts on the subject therefore means that this book will be a valuable resource for all students and scholars of Islamic studies as well as for anyone with an interest in early Islam

Bauman,Richard R. Bohannon,Kevin J. O'Brien,2011-08-04 Religion and ecology has arrived What was once a niche interest for a few academics concerned with environmental issues and a few environmentalists interested in religion has become an established academic field with classic texts graduate programs regular meetings at academic conferences and growing interest from other academics and the mass media Theologians ethicists sociologists and other scholars are engaged in a broad dialogue about the ways religious studies can help understand and address environmental problems including the sorts of methodological terminological and substantive debates that characterize any academic discourse This book recognizes the field that has taken shape reflects on the ways it is changing and anticipates its development in the future The essays offer analyses and reflections from emerging scholars of religion and ecology each addressing her or his own specialty in light of two questions 1 What have we inherited from the work that has come before us and 2 What inquiries concerns and conversation partners should be central to the next generation of scholarship The aim of this volume is not to lay out a single and clear path forward for the field Rather the authors critically reflect on the field from within outline some of the major issues we face in the academy and offer perspectives that will nurture continued dialogue Islam , Islam and Christianity John Renard,2011-03-08 John Renard presents a judicious overview of Muslim and Christian ways of being in the world This work eloquently refutes common Western stereotypes regarding Muslims and Islam and adds to the growing call for Muslim Christian understanding on a global scale It is an elegantly crafted book David L Johnston author of Earth Empire and Sacred Text Muslims and Christians as Trustees of Creation John Renard offers a lucid portrayal of the major aspects of Christianity and Islam identifying numerous points of congruence without denying significant dissimilarities The call he makes for Christians and Muslims to show greater mutual awareness and respect is persuasive and hard to ignore David Thomas Professor of Christianity and Islam University of Birmingham The Muslim Speaks Khurram Hussain, 2020-10-29

The Muslim Speaks reimagines Islam as a strategy for investigating the modern condition Rather than imagining it as an issue external to a discrete West Khurram Hussain constructs Islam as internal to the elaboration and expansion of the West In doing so he reveals three discursive traps that of freedom reason and culture that inhibit the availability of Islam as a feasible critical interlocutor in Western deliberations about moral intellectual and political concerns Through close examination of this inhibition Hussain posits that while Islamophobia is clearly a moral wrong depoliticization more accurately describes the problems associated with the lived experience of Muslims in the West and elsewhere Weaving together his conclusions in the hope of a common world Khurram Hussain boldly and quite radically deems that what Islam needs is not depoliticization but infact repoliticization Piety, Politics, and Power David D. Grafton, 2009-03-16

From the time of Martin Luther s writing of On War Against the Turk in 1529 to American Lutheran military chaplains serving in the U S led invasion of Iraq in 2003 Lutheranism has had a symbiotic relationship with Islam in the Middle East framed across cultural and religious borders There have been those who have crossed these borders to engage in mission and dialogue In Piety Politics and Power David Grafton examines the origins of the American Lutheran missionary movement in the Middle East with a focus on its encounter with Muslims and the varied Lutheran theological responses toward Islam The narrative is placed within historical contexts to provide an overarching background of Middle Eastern history and Christian Muslim Relations The survey covers Lutheran missionary communities in Persia Iraq Egypt Lebanon and Jerusalem and the West Bank including the work of the Lutherans working for the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missionaries the Anglican Church Missionary Society the Lutheran Orient Mission the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod and the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America Whether enthusiastic Pietists seeking the conversion of Muslims and Jews cautious theologians in dialogue with Islam Judaism or Oriental Orthodoxy or social activists working on behalf of refugees in Egypt and the West Bank Grafton argues that these Christian missionaries were all enmeshed in the politics of the communities in which they lived and either contributed to or suffered from the realities of Middle Eastern and international politics Given the current reality of Pax Americana in the Middle East the author asks the driving question about the role of American Lutheran missions and Lutheran Middle Eastern Muslim dialogue in the age of American power in the Middle East
