Food Policy In Mexico:

Food Policy in Mexico James Austin, 2019-05-15 Food self sufficiency is high among the priorities of most Third World countries yet there are relatively few detailed studies dealing with their attempts to reach this goal A team of twenty experts academics policymakers advisers and managers here address key issues underlying self sufficiency strategies through an examination of the Sistema Alimentario Mexicano SAM Mexican Food System a program designed to coordinate food production with distribution and consumption , Case Studies in Food Policy for Developing Countries Per Pinstруп-Andersen, Fuzhi Cheng, 2018-07-05 The food problems now facing the world scarcity and starvation contamination and illness overabundance and obesity are both diverse and complex What are their causes How severe are they Why do they persist What are the solutions In three volumes that serve as valuable teaching tools and have been designed to complement the textbook Food Policy for Developing Countries by Per Pinstруп Andersen and Derrill D Watson II they call upon the wisdom of disciplines including economics nutrition sociology anthropology environmental science medicine and geography to create a holistic picture of the state of the world s food systems today Volume I of the Case Studies addresses policies related to health nutrition food consumption and poverty The Politics of Food in Mexico Jonathan Fox, 1993 Compares a range of Mexican food policy reforms focusing on the SAM Mexican Food System a program in place from 1980 82 designed to shift subsidies and privileged access from large private farmers and ranchers to peasants and small producers In this context Fox political science MIT examines the limits and possibilities of political reform and its history and future in the Mexican state Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Anthropology and Food Policy Della E. McMillan, Jeanne Harlow, 1991 Starting from a base of anthropological fieldwork in particular societies and communities in sub Saharan East Africa Mexico Ecuador Honduras Malawi and the Sudan the authors utilize case studies to examine the meaning of their findings for the understanding needed for specific policy interventions Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Politics of Food in Mexico Jonathan Fox, Compares a range of Mexican food policy reforms focusing on the SAM Mexican Food System a program in place from 1980 82 designed to shift subsidies and privileged access from large private farmers and ranchers to peasants and small producers In this context Fox political science MIT examines the limits and possibilities of political reform and its history and future in the Mexican state Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Agricultural and Fisheries Policies in Mexico Recent Achievements, Continuing the Reform Agenda OECD, 2006-12-01 This report analyses the effects of Mexico s ambitious reforms to agricultural and fisheries policies since 1990 and makes recommendations for further reforms Global food policy report 2024: Food systems for healthy diets and nutrition International Food Policy Research Institute, 2024-05-29 Food systems and diets underpin many critical challenges to public health and environmental sustainability including malnutrition noncommunicable diseases and climate change but sustainable healthy diets have the unique potential to reshape the future for both human and planetary well being The 2024 Global Food Policy Report draws on recent evidence to examine the role of food systems in driving nutrition outcomes and opportunities for transforming food systems to ensure healthy diets for all Chapters by IFPRI researchers and partners evaluate proven and innovative ways to sustainably improve diet quality and reduce malnutrition including ways to make healthy diets more affordable accessible and desirable how to improve food environments the role of both agricultural crops and animal source foods and governance for better diets and nutrition all with a major focus on the most vulnerable populations in low and middle income countries Regional sections explore the diverse challenges countries face and promising policy responses for transforming food systems for sustainable healthy diets

Feeding Mexico Enrique Ochoa, 2000 Winner of the 1998 Michael C Meyer Manuscript Prize p Feeding Mexico The Political Uses of Food since 1910 traces the Mexican government's intervention in the regulation production and distribution of food from the days of Cardenas to the recent privatization inspired by NAFTA Professor Ochoa argues that the real goals of the government's food subsidies were political driven by presidential desires to court urban labor Many of the agencies and policies were hastily set in place in response to short term political or economic crises Since the goals were not to alleviate poverty but to provide modest subsidies to urban consumers the policies did not eliminate destitution or malnutrition in the country Despite the minimal achievements of these interventionist policies the State Food Agency provided a symbol of the state's concern for the workers The elimination of the Agency in the 1990s prompted social protest and unrest p Feeding Mexico is the first study to examine the creation of networks to deliver food products the relationship of these channels of distribution to the food crisis and the role of the state in trying to ameliorate the problem Based on exhaustive research of new archival material and richly documented with statistical tables this book exposes the dynamics and outcome of social policy in twentieth century Mexico p School Food Politics in Mexico José Tenorio, 2023-10-26 Intertwining policy analysis and ethnography Jos Tenorio examines how and why now the promotion of healthy lifestyles has been positioned as an ideal solution to obesity and how this shapes the preparation sale and consumption of food in schools in Mexico This book situates obesity as a structural problem enabled by market driven policy change problematizing the focus on individual behavior change which underpins current obesity policy It argues that the idea of healthy lifestyles draws attention away from the economic and political roots of obesity shifting blame onto an uneducated population Deploying Foucault's concept of dispositif Tenorio argues that healthy lifestyles functions as an ensemble of mechanisms to deploy representations of reality spaces institutions and subjectivities aligned with market principles constructing individuals both as culprits for what they eat and the prime locus of policy intervention to change diets He demonstrates how this ensemble enmeshes within the local cultural and economic conditions surrounding the provisioning of food in Mexican schools and how it is contested in the practices around cooking Expanding the conversation on the politics of food in schools obesity policy and dominant perspectives on the relation between food and health this book is a must read for scholars of food and nutrition public health and education as well as those with an interest in development studies and policy enactment and outcomes

Case Studies in Food Policy for Developing Countries: Institutions and international trade policies Per Pinstруп-Andersen, 2009 The food problems now facing the world scarcity and starvation contamination and illness overabundance and obesity are both diverse and complex What are their causes How severe are they Why do they persist What are the solutions The authors of the more than sixty international case studies contained in these books approach the food system with a multidisciplinary perspective In three volumes that serve as valuable teaching tools they call upon the wisdom of disciplines including economics nutrition sociology anthropology environmental science medicine and geography to create a holistic picture of the state of the world s food systems today The authors focus in on specific cases from all corners of the globe to cover topics including drought and soil conservation land allocation and cooperative marketing efforts and food safety measures and advertising policies In documenting past successes and failures these case studies provide a valuable foundation for future research and efforts to create truly successful and sustainable food policy Pub desc 2019

Edition of Nutrition Education Linking Research Theory and Practice provides a simple straightforward model for designing effective nutrition education programs that address the personal and environmental influences that affect individuals food choices and assist them in adopting healthy behaviors throughout their lifetime Using a six step process this Third Edition integrates research theory and practice and provides advice and direction on designing implementing and evaluating theory based nutrition education Distortions to Agricultural Incentives in Latin America Kym Anderson,Alberto

Valdes,2008-10-02 The vast majority of the world s poorest households depend on farming for their livelihood During the 1960s and 1970s most developing countries imposed pro urban and anti agricultural policies while many high income countries restricted agricultural imports and subsidized their farmers Both sets of policies inhibited economic growth and poverty alleviation in developing countries Although progress has been made over the past two decades to reduce those policy biases many trade and welfare reducing price distortions remain between agriculture and other sectors as well as within the agricultural sector of both rich and poor countries Comprehensive empirical studies of the disarray in world agricultural markets first appeared approximately 20 years ago Since then the OECD has provided estimates each year of market distortions in high income countries but there has been no comparable estimates for the world s developing countries This volume is the second in a series other volumes cover Africa Asia and Europe s transition economies that not only fills that void for recent years but extends the estimates in a consistent and comparable way back in time and provides analytical narratives for scores of countries that shed light on the evolving nature and extent of policy interventions over the past half century Distortions to Agricultural Incentives in Latin America provides an overview of the evolution of distortions to agricultural incentives caused by price and trade policies in the economies of South America plus the Dominican Republic Nicaragua and Mexico Together these countries constitute about 80 percent of the region s population agricultural output and overall GDP Sectoral trade and exchange rate policies in the region have changed greatly since the 1950s and there have been substantial reforms especially in the 1980s Nonetheless numerous price distortions in this region remain others have been added and there have even been some policy reversals in recent years The new empirical indicators in these country studies provide a strong evidence based foundation for assessing the successes and failures of the past and for evaluating policy options for the years ahead Global Environment Outlook - GEO-6: Healthy Planet, Healthy People UN

Environment,2019-06-06 Published to coincide with the Fourth United Nations Environmental Assembly UN Environment s sixth Global Environment Outlook calls on decision makers to take bold and urgent action to address pressing environmental issues in order to protect the planet and human health By bringing together hundreds of scientists peer reviewers and collaborating institutions and partners the GEO reports build on sound scientific knowledge to provide governments local authorities businesses and individual citizens with the information needed to guide societies to a truly sustainable world by 2050 GEO 6 outlines the current state of the environment illustrates possible future environmental trends and analyses the effectiveness of policies This flagship report shows how governments can put us on the path to a truly sustainable future emphasising that urgent and inclusive action is needed to achieve a healthy planet with healthy people This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Implementing school food and nutrition policies ,2021-09-14 Schools play an important role in promoting healthy diets and good nutrition and can create an enabling environment for children However the school food environment is often not conducive to a healthy diet To address this challenge and to support Member States in implementing policy measures as recommended by the Framework for Action from the 2014 Second International Conference on Nutrition the World Health Organization WHO is in the process of developing evidence informed policy guidelines on the food environment including school food and nutrition interventions and policies with a focus on five interventions and policies that influence the school food environment These five include nutrition standards or rules direct food provision marketing restrictions nudging interventions and pricing policies This review on contextual factors to be considered in the implementation of school food and nutrition policies was prepared as part of the required process for WHO guideline development

Strengthening Food Labeling Policies in Brazil Rosires Deliza,Camila Corvalan,Fabio Gomes,Simon Barquera,2023-10-11 Data from Brazil shows an increase in obesity and non communicable diseases which is related to the expansion of the participation of ultra processed food products in diets and in the food environment displacing fresh and minimally processed foods and meals prepared with them One of the solutions to improve food environments requires the implementation of effective and adequate food labeling regulations including front of package labeling This policy tool has the potential to inform the consumers about the nutrients ingredients or any other component of public health concern contained in the products and facilitate healthier food choices
