Food Security And Food Inventories In Developing Countries:

Food Security and Food Inventories in Developing Countries Peter Berck, David Bigman, 1993 Food Security and Food Inventories in Developing Countries Peter Berck, David Bigman, 1993 Reviews the food problem in developing countries and evaluates policy alternatives both at the macro and micro levels The issues involved include definitions of food security mapping policy alternatives over food vis a vis other national objectives modeling food security policies quantifying the effects of policy on the various sectors of the economy methods of on farm storage and factors leading to their adoption the health consequences of transitional malnutrition methods of controlling quality of stored grain etc Also reviews practical issues involved in the design of a successful strategy to cope with food insecurity Of interest to economists those concerned with stored products and nutritional policy and others involved in feeding the populations of less developed countries

Foodgrain price stabilization in developing countries Nurul Islam, Saji Thomas, 1996 A brief summary of the analytics of price stabilization Some operational aspects of food price stabilization policies Alternatives to price stabilization crop insurance and futures markets Price stabilization policy rationale and objectives Design and implementation of stabilization policy Impact of stabilization policy on price variability over time and across countries Some quantitative estimates of the benefits of stabilization Rethinking price stabilization policy The WTO Agreement on Agriculture and Food Security Christopher Stevens, 2000 This report deals with an area of overlap between two large areas of study on livelihoods and food security and on international trade and policy Whilst it concentrates on one small element of each of these broad areas and so ignores many questions it does so for a good reason This is to avoid the danger that the WTO agricultural negotiations fail to contribute as strongly as they might to the promotion of food security precisely because the two areas of work and study overlap only at the margins Science, Agriculture, and Food Security Joseph H. Hulse, National Research Council Canada, 1995 This book examines the differing concepts of food security and the practicalities policies and resources that shape issues of food security It begins with discussion of the nature of food security its components and related concepts such as self sufficiency and global carrying capacity It then reviews food consumption patterns in developed nations and developing regions and discusses the complexities of determining what constitutes an adequate diet taking into account recommended dietary allowances variability in food composition dietary balance and imbalance diet and disease nutrient deficiencies intolerances and food allergies The book also reviews divergent concepts of sustainable agriculture examining resources and policies that influence economically efficient and ecologically conservative food production and distribution Soil and water management genetic diversity atmosphere and climate energy in agriculture government policies and production systems are discussed as they relate to food security Finally the book reviews agricultural research notably that conducted by members of the Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research research on agricultural pests and diseases the need to improve post production systems including markets and transportation food science research and future
