For Her Here:

For Her Here Joe Peacock, 2001-08-27 This is my collection of poems so far They don't follow any particular format or style since I haven't really found one I prefer but I wanted to try some out I like to think I've been influenced by Psalms and Song of Songs I've also taken to John Keats' rigid form and painful topics as much as I have to Jewel Kilcher's free forms and almost random subjects In reality it's probably just my own peculiar brain and life experiences that I've been writing about and it would be amazing if anyone at all could relate I tend to put the titles at the bottom so there won't be any bias in the reading And I used to just use the names of the people I wrote the poems about or for but that made it much too personal for a publication like this I'm not trying to embarrass everybody I know The Future That Brought Her Here Deborah DeNicola, 2009-04-01 A dynamic blend of history science psychology dreams and visions Deborah DeNicola's memoir is a compelling account of self-discovery that is provocative and humble A poet dream analyst and college professor DeNicola writes about her struggle to live in the ordinary world of academia while honoring the competing call of the creative and the spiritual DeNicola's memoir shows her range of intellectual pursuits and spiritual experiences as she battles an inner war between depressive cynicism and faith and shares her lifelong search to heal the trauma of her father's tragic death when she was a teenager Struggles between cynicism and faith depression and hope independence and attachment creativity and financial security in the midst of spiritual searching motherhood teaching and writing are inextricably woven into the fabric of her story Sharing the process of her awakening and how dreams and visions guide her DeNicola stirs readers to listen courageously to their own inner voices Her visionary quest takes her to the American West Israel and Southern France Along the way she weaves together references from the Bible and the Gnostic Gospels the story of Mary Magdalene medieval history the Templar Knights the Black Madonnas String Theory and quantum physics to find the repeated linkage between divinity and humanity Her Here Amanda Dennis, 2021-03-09 An atmospheric debut novel about one lost young woman's search for another Spellbinding Wholly engrossing Washington Post Elena struggling with memory loss due to a trauma that has unmoored her sense of self deserts graduate school and a long-term relationship to accept a bizarre proposition from an estranged family friend in Paris she will search for a young woman Ella who went missing six years earlier in Thailand by rewriting her journals As she delves deeper into Ella's story Elena begins to lose sight of her own identity and drift dangerously toward self-annihilation Her Here is an existential detective story with a shocking denouement that plumbs the creative and destructive powers of narrative itself An Iowa Writers Workshop graduate and Cambridge Gates Scholar Amanda Dennis teaches at the American University of Paris Her Here is her first novel Waiting for Here Jon R. W. Thomas, 2017-11-23 Sally Mathis A Fashion Designer experiences cognitive and memory issues of unknown origins and when she discovers the cause she embarks on an unanticipated other-world adventure Tried for Her Life Emma Dorothy Eliza Nevitte Southworth, 2019-12-04 In Tried for Her Life Emma Dorothy Eliza Nevitte Southworth weaves an intricate narrative
