Fondation De La Mission Des Capucins Au:

La fondation de la mission des Capucins au royaume du Congo (1648) Jean-François de Rome, 1964 La fondation de la mission des Capucins au Royaume du Congo (1648) Giovanni Francesco (da Roma,), 1964 Catastrophe and Creation K. Elkholtz Friedmann, 2014-03-18 First Published in 1992 This is a study of what happened to Kongo society and culture at the turn of the 20th century when the area was brutally violated and colonized by Europeans This book is the outcome of a project called Society and Culture in Crisis whereby the author found that evolution was a continuous more or less unbroken process only at the global system level whereas repeated rises and falls took place at the local level This study closely looks at the declining development process in the Lower Congo and calls to the effects of colonization on society and culture The African Burial Ground in New York City Andrea E. Frohne, 2015-10-09 In 1991 archaeologists in lower Manhattan unearthed a stunning discovery Buried for more than 200 years was a communal cemetery containing the remains of up to 20 000 people At roughly 6.6 acres the African Burial Ground is the largest and earliest known burial space of African descendants in North America In the years that followed its discovery citizens and activists fought tirelessly to demand respectful treatment of eighteenth century funerary remains and sacred ancestors After more than a decade of political battle on local and national levels and scientific research at Howard University the remains were eventually reburied on the site in 2003 Capturing the varied perspectives and the emotional tenor of the time Frohne narrates the story of the African Burial Ground and the controversies surrounding urban commemoration She analyzes both its colonial and contemporary representations drawing on colonial era maps prints and land surveys to illuminate the forgotten and hidden visual histories of a mostly enslaved population buried in the African Burial Ground Tracing the history and identity of the area from a forgotten site to a contested and negotiated space Frohne situates the burial ground within the context of late twentieth and early twenty first century race relations in New York City to reveal its enduring presence as a spiritual place The Age of Intoxication Benjamin Breen, 2019-12-20 Eating the flesh of an Egyptian mummy prevents the plague Distilled poppies reduce melancholy A Turkish drink called coffee increases alertness Tobacco cures cancer Such beliefs circulated in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries an era when the term drug encompassed everything from herbs and spices like nutmeg cinnamon and chamomile to such deadly poisons as lead mercury and arsenic In The Age of Intoxication Benjamin Breen offers a window into a time when drugs were not yet separated into categories illicit and licit recreational and medicinal modern and traditional and there was no barrier between the drug dealer and the pharmacist Focusing on the Portuguese colonies in Brazil and Angola and on the imperial capital of Lisbon Breen examines the process by which novel drugs were located commodified and consumed He then turns his attention to the British Empire arguing that it owed much of its success in this period to its usurpation of the Portuguese drug networks From the sickly sweet tobacco that helped finance the Atlantic slave trade to the cannabis that an East Indies merchant sold to the natural philosopher Robert Hooke in one of the earliest European coffeehouses Breen shows how drugs have been entangled with science and empire from the very beginning Featuring numerous illuminating anecdotes and a cast of characters that includes merchants slaves shamans prophets inquisitors and alchemists The Age of Intoxication rethinks a history of drugs and the early drug trade that has too often been framed as opposites between medicinal and recreational legal and illegal good and evil Breen argues that in order to guide drug policy toward a fairer and more informed course we first need to understand who and what set the global drug trade in motion

The Kongo Kingdom Koen Bostoen, Inge Brinkman, 2018-11-15 The Kongo kingdom which arose in the Atlantic Coast region of West Central Africa is a famous emblem of Africa's past yet little is still known of its origins and early history This book sheds new light on that all important period and goes on to explain the significance of its cosmopolitan culture in the wider world Bringing together different new strands of historical evidence as well as scholars from disciplines as diverse as anthropology archaeology art history history and linguistics it is the first book to approach the history of this famous Central African kingdom from a cross disciplinary perspective All chapters are written by distinguished and or upcoming experts of Kongo history with a focus on political space taking us through processes of centralisation and decentralisation the historical politics of extraversion and internal dynamics and the geographical distribution of aspects of material and immaterial Kongo culture

Enslaving Spirits José C. Curto, 2003-12-01 Long recognized as having played many important roles in the slave export trade of western Africa foreign alcohol and its various functions within this context have nevertheless escaped systematic analysis This volume focuses on the topic at Luanda and its Hinterland where the connections between foreign alcohol and the slave export trade reached their zenith Here following the mid 1500s an extremely close relationship developed between imported intoxicants and slaves exported by the thousands in any given year into the Atlantic World first fortified Portuguese wine and following 1650 Brazilian rum emerged as crucial trade goods for the acquisition of slaves But the significance of Luso Brazilian intoxicants goes far beyond this singular fact they also served a number of other functions some of which were directly tied to slave trading and others indirectly underpinned the business The volume addresses the problem of alcohol in African history historicizes indigenous alcoholic beverages in West Central Africa at the time of contact analyzes the introduction and increasing use of foreign intoxicants for the acquisition of exportable slaves ponders the profits that such transactions generated within the Atlantic world reconstructs the other uses of imported alcohol in directly and indirectly underpinning the export slave trade of Luanda and assesses the impact of foreign alcohol upon West Central African consumers

History of the Church: The church in the age of absolutism and enlightenment Hubert Jedin, John Patrick Dolan, 1981 Christianity and Missions, 1450-1800 J. S.

Cummins, 2016-12-05 The theme of this volume is the transformation of European Christianity into a world wide religion The spirit of crusade against Islam was one impulse driving the early expansion these essays show how new ideologies of mission were developed and how perceptions have continued to evolve notably in the light of Vatican II They reveal the differing attitudes and roles of missionaries in such radically different environments as America and China and the equally varied ways in which this activity was received with the many problems of accommodation and syncretism. Topics covered include the development of new institutions to control missionary activity notably the Roman Propaganda Fidei tensions around race and the role of women and the stimulus given for instance to linguistic studies by the need to communicate. Finally they examine the belated awakening of the Protestant churches to the need to compete with Rome in the evangelization of the world.

Textiles: Production, Trade and Demand Maureen Fennell Mazzaoui, 2016-12-05 This volume examines the role of textiles within the expanding global economy in the Age of European Exploration. Major themes include the opening of new markets and responses to competition in the cloth trade, evolving techniques and modes of production and changes in the patterns of consumption of local and imported cloth in a comparative cross-cultural context. Civilization and Capitalism, 15th-18th Century, Vol. I Fernand Braudel, 1992 This social and economic history of Europe from the Middle Ages to the Industrial Revolution organizes a multitude of details to paint a rich picture of everyday life. The Cambridge History of Africa J. D. Fage, Roland Anthony Oliver, 1975-09-18 This volume looks at developments in Africa during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Missions d'évangélisation et circulation des savoirs Charlotte de Castelnau-L'Estoile, 2011 Quels furent les savoirs utilisés, diffusés et produits par les missionnaires catholiques partir du milieu du XVI^e siècle aussi bien en Europe qu'en Amérique, en Asie et en Afrique? Dans quelle mesure l'entreprise d'évangélisation des missions par les missionnaires comme païennes, hérétiques ou simplement indifférentes a-t-elle participé à l'aventure moderne de la circulation des savoirs? Ces questions intéressent aussi bien l'histoire sociale et culturelle des missions que l'histoire des empires et des sociétés coloniales ou l'histoire intellectuelle. Elles conduisent à réfléchir sur la manière dont l'Europe à l'époque moderne est entrée en relation avec d'autres espaces, la croisée des croyances et des connaissances. Les missions d'évangélisation ont suscité de profonds changements dans l'architecture des savoirs et ont paradoxalement participé à la sécularisation de la conception du monde. Measures and Men Witold Kula, 2014-07-14 Measures and Men considers times and societies in which weighing and measuring were meaningful parts of everyday life and weapons in class struggles. Originally published in 1986, The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print-on-demand technology to again make available previously out-of-print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions. The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905. Central Africa to 1870 David Birmingham, 1981 The complete Cambridge History of Africa aims to present the most comprehensive and up-to-date synthesis of historical development on the African continent and will be valuable to both students and teachers of African history. The Art of Conversion Cécile Fromont, 2014 Art of Conversion Christian Visual Culture in the Kingdom of Kongo. Relation historique de l'Ethiopie occidentale contenant la
