Samuel Beal Friedrich Max Müller, 1900 How to Live to 110 - Your Comprehensive Guide to a Healthy Life Brian Kirby, 2012-04-02 Wouldn t it be amazing to delay getting old To live past 100 and still be vigorous active and clear thinking To stay so healthy through your later years that you rarely have to visit your doctor This is not just wishful thinking There are people in their nineties and older who still work play sports and enjoy an active social life They have avoided the diseases which we wrongly think of as a natural part of growing old You too can ward off these diseases All it takes is some simple changes to what you eat drink and do How to Live to 110 is a scientifically grounded no nonsense guide to your best chances for a healthy long life It explains Key processes in your body and how modern living messes these up Straightforward ways to avoid heart disease cancer and the other big killers How to delay dementia keep free from infections and avoid accidents What foods to eat and to avoid so your body stays healthy and does not put on fat Ways to lose fat and keep it off What really makes the difference debunking some common myths Professor Brian Kirby has worked for more than 40 years in the NHS and has led health promotion organisations nationally and internationally and in 1997 received an OBE for his work His son Tim Kirby is a full time writer with a PhD in physiology Together they have created a clear and informative guide packed with diagrams and advice for everyone aged 9 to 109 What better present could you give yourself your family and your friends than the gift of great health and a long life A Story of the Soul's Journey in the Naa Hammadi Library Ulla Tervahauta, 2015-08-19 Authentikos Logos NHC VI 3 also known as Authoritative Teaching is a little studied story of a soul s descent and ascent in the Nag Hammadi library With her book Ulla Tervahauta fills a gap in the scholarship and provide the first monograph length study that has this writing its primary focus The aim is to find a place and context for Authentikos Logos within early Christianity but Tervahauta also adds new insight into the scholarship of the Nag Hammadi Library and study of early Christianity Contrary to the usual discussion of the Nag Hammadi writings from the viewpoint of Gnostic studies she argues that Authentikos Logos is best approached from the context of Christian traditions of late ancient Egypt between the third and the fifth centuries Tervahauta discusses the story of the soul's journey in light of various Christian and Platonic writings Also she analyses the relationship of Authentikos Logos with the Valentinian Wisdom myth and suggests that no firm evidence connects the writing closely with Valentinian traditions And although a Platonic mind set can be assumed the writing combines motifs in a unique manner For example the four epithets used in the writing the invisible soul the pneumatic soul the material soul and the rational soul are not found thus combined elsewhere Discussion of matter hyle is connected with Christian scriptural allusions and the focus is on ethics and the evilness of matter The body on the other hand is the soul s place of contest and progress The Pauline term pneumatic body 1 Cor 15 44 is used allusively and from a Platonic perspective With this book Ulla Tervahauta makes an important contribution to the study of early Christianity in late ancient Egypt by discussing a writing that shows knowledge and creative combination of literary traditions that circulated in late ancient Egypt The Sacred Books of the East ,1882 The Agency of Eating Emma-Jayne Abbots,2017-09-21 Deciding what to eat and how to eat it are two of the most basic acts of everyday life Yet every choice also implies a value judgement good foods versus bad proper and improper ways of eating and healthy and unhealthy bodies These food decisions are influenced by a range of social political and economic bioauthorities and mediated through the individual eating body This book is unique in the cultural politics of food in its exploration of a range of such bioauthorities and in its examination of the interplay between them and the individual eating body No matter whether they are accepted or resisted our eating practices and preferences are shaped by and shape these agencies Abbots places the body materiality and the non human at the heart of her analysis interrogating not only how the individual s embodied eating practices incorporate and reject the bioauthorities of food but also how such authorities are created by the individual act of eating Drawing on ethnographic case studies from across the globe The Agency of Eating provides an important analysis of the power dynamics at play in the contemporary food system and the ways in which agency is expressed and bounded This book will be of great benefit to any with an interest in food studies anthropology sociology and human geography Stories of Transformative Learning Michael Kroth, Patricia Cranton, 2014-11-04 Stories of Transformative Learning is intended to encourage people to explore the potential for transformative learning in their lives practices and communities This book illustrates the transformative learning process through ten stories of individuals from both inside and outside of the classroom Adult educators and adult learners will find the book to be personally insightful and professionally useful There have been many accounts of transformative learning experiences but it is not often that we have the opportunity to hear first hand personal stories of transformative learning. Here ten stories are told directly by the people who experienced them with additional commentary from the authors. These stories are intended to resonate with readers and to inspire people to create the conditions where transformative learning can occur in their lives and professional practice. Storytelling is one way in which both educators and learners can understand the process of transformative learning. Telling stories reading others stories and contemplating our own stories all help us to become aware of alternative perspectives a process that is at the heart of critical reflection and critical self reflection which is in turn central to transformative learning. We hope to increase readers sense of agency and more self directed self fulfilling lives. By demonstrating how others have examined and reconsidered otherwise hidden assumptions that constrained the quality and potential of their lives we show readers how they may do the same
