Economic Development In Southeast Asia:

The Economic Development of South-East Asia C. D. Cowan, 2012 First published in 1964 The Economic Development of South East Asia Studies in economic history and political economy contains eight papers originally written for a study group at the School of Oriental and African Studies in London The papers edited by Professor C D Cowan are written against a background of economic underdevelopment in large parts of Asia Economic problems increasingly plagued the governments of Asia after the Second World War and while Western governments were willing to help foster economic development relations with Asian governments were somewhat hindered by the heritage of their colonial past Problems also related to the growth of traditional trading ports and export crops and to the importation of colonial regimes western funds and skills in the nineteenth century Such developments come under the loosely generalised concept of imperialism with its strongly emotional overtones whose use impedes the objective assessment and analysis of facts While we understand a good deal about conditions of economic growth in the West much of what has fostered or retarded growth in other parts of the world remains less clear The Economic Development of East and Southeast Asia Shinichi Ichimura, 1972 Development and Challenge Tai-Chee Wong, Mohan Singh, 1999 As Southeast Asia sheds its colonial vest its development and transformation into young nation states pick up momentum as globalization and technology become the backdrop of the new millennium Some of the most crucial issues confronting Southeast Asia today are addressed in this volume as ASEAN takes stock of its achievements after three decades and recaptures its vision for the new millennium The post colonial era in the region signaled a reconceptualization of geographical space as Southeast Asian countries established themselves territorially and harnessed their energies to work collectively in the new global equation This led to formation of organizations such as ASEAN AFTA and the economic growth triangles which represent a clear Southeast Asian voice internationally Paradoxically development in Southeast Asia brings new challenges as globalization and new economic trends lead to intensive intra regional population movements the rise of megacities the search to resolve Southeast Asia's Misunderstood Miracle Jomo K.S., 2019-06-04 The debate on the major factors contributing to Southeast Asian industrialization continues unabated As might be expected there is much at stake in this debate The debate is largely ideological in nature and partly centers on the role and contribution of state interventions and other institutions in market processes in the context of late industrialization At the risk of caricaturing the debate on the one hand one finds the dominant and more influential position held by those who blame the state for all that has gone wrong and credit the market for all that has turned out right on the other hand the minority statist extreme position basically credits most major economic achievements in East Asia to appropriate interventions by developmentalist states While very few people would actually fully identify with either of these caricatured extremes much of the discussion actually gravitates around either of these poles The Political Economy of Southeast Asia Toby Carroll, Shahar Hameiri, Lee Jones, 2020-03-03 This is not only the best collection of essays on the political economy of Southeast Asia but also as a singular achievement of the Murdoch School one of the rarest of books that demonstrates how knowledge production travels across generations institutions and time periods thereby continually enriching itself No course on Southeast Asia can afford to miss it as its core text Professor Amitav Acharya American University USA This book the fourth in a path breaking series demonstrates why a critical political economy approach is more crucial than ever for understanding Southeast Asia s transformation Across a wide range of topics the book explains how capitalist development and globalisation are reshaping the societies economies and politics of a diverse group of countries casting light on the deep sources of economic and social power in the region This is a book that every student of Southeast Asia needs to read Professor Edward Aspinall Australian National University Australia This book does what a work on political economy should do challenge existing paradigms in order to gain a deeper understanding of the processes of social transformation This volume is distinctive in three ways First it eschews methodological nationalism and focuses on how the interaction of national regional and global forces are shaping and reshaping systems of governance mass politics economies labor capital relations migration and gender relations across the region Second it is a bold effort to show how the Murdoch School which focuses on the dynamic synergy of internal class relations and global capitalism provides a better explanatory framework for understanding social change in Southeast Asia than the rival developmental state and historical institutionalist approaches Third alongside established luminaries in the field it showcases the younger generation of political economists doing pathbreaking work on different dimensions of the political economy of the region Walden Bello State University of New York at Binghamton USA and Former Member of the Philippines House of Representatives This very timely fourth edition explores Southeast Asia s political economy within the context of hyperglobalisation and China s pronounced social structural impacts on international politics finance and economics over the past decade and a half The volume successfully adopts a cross cutting thematic approach while also conveying the diversity and divergences among the Southeast Asian states and economies This will be an important resource for scholars of International Relations and Comparative Politics who need to take an interest in a dynamic and increasingly significant part of Asia Professor Evelyn Goh Australian National University Australia This ambitious collection takes a consistent theoretical approach and applies it to a thematic comparative analysis across Southeast Asia The yield is impressive the social political and economic forces constituting the current conjuncture are not simply invoked they are thoroughly identified and explained By posing the deceptively simple questions of what is happening and why the authors demonstrate the reciprocal relation between theory building and empirical inquiry providing a model of engaged scholarship with global resonance Bravo Professor Tania Li University of Toronto Canada Counteracting the spaceless and flattened geography of much literature on uneven development this book delivers a forensic examination of the unevenness of geographical development in Southeast Asia and the relations of force shaping capital state nature and civil society This is the most compelling theoretical and empirical political economy book available on Southeast Asia

Southeast Asia beyond Crises and Traps Boo Teik Khoo, Keiichi Tsunekawa, Motoko Kawano, 2017-09-18 This book examines five countries in South East Asia that are instructive case studies of how the region has had to negotiate pathways of development beyond crises and traps At two ends of just one decade 1997 2007 Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Thailand and Vietnam all had to weather the shocks of an East Asian financial crisis and a global financial crisis Some economies might have buckled completely under those shocks and been condemned to long term stagnation Yet these five economies part of the larger Asian region emerged with continued if slower economic growth An important theme of this book is that their resilience has been partly derived from the pursuit of growth and competitiveness along less known or recommended pathways The chapters of this book take a novel approach to South East Asia's search for growth and improvement They do not begin by evaluating how far macro level performances would take a particular country towards high income status Instead they provide original insights into actual cases of intermediate ways of achieving growth upgrading and income improvement in non privileged sectors Such cases may hold more relevant lessons for the majority of developing countries than the experiences of highly developed economies The Southeast Asian Economic Miracle Young Kim, 2018-04-17 There is widespread agreement that the world's most successful developing countries in the 1980s were those in Southeast Asia Following in the footsteps of postwar Japan and more recently Korea the populations of Thailand Malaysia Indonesia Singapore Hong Kong and the Philippines have made enormous strides in income industrial and agricultural production exports education health nutrition consumption and other development indicators This book brings together political scientists economists officials of Asian governments the United States and representatives of the multilateral banks to analyze and explain Southeast Asia's extraordinary growth Chapters and contributors to The Southeast Asian Economic Miracle include Recent Developments and Future Prospects of Indonesia by Anwar Nasution The Economic Experience and Prospects of Thailand by Sukhumbhand Paribatra The Development of the Former Indochina States by Frederick Brown Trade and Investment in Southeast Asian Development by Stephen Parker and Managing Renewable Resources in Southeast Asia The Problem of Deforestation by Gareth Porter Among the critical questions that the contributors address are Is the success of the 1980s and early 1990s a permanent part of the world's economic landscape How will this region react to the growth of China's vast productive capacity and to the faltering of Japan's economy What will be the effect of U S military disengagement caused by domestic budgetary concerns and the end of the cold war The Southeast Asian Economic Miracle is an important study of the shifting winds of the political economy of growth in our time

Economic Development in Southeast Asia Chong-Yah Lim,1981 Collection of articles originally presented to various conferences meetings etc State Structure, Policy Formation, and Economic Development in Southeast Asia Antoinette R. Raquiza,2013-06-17 Why do some small developing countries industrialize and others don t What factors account for different economic performance among states that are vulnerable to external shocks crony capitalism and political instability This book argues that the answer lies in the structuring of state power specifically the way different sets of governing elites political leaders and economic technocrats are embedded in political organisations and state institutions and the way these elites relate to each other in the economic development policy process Conducting a comparative historical analysis of Thailand and the Philippines the book argues that the institutional settings of governing elites influence economic outcomes In Thailand political power traditionally connects to state institutions in ways that has limited the impact of political turnovers and global downturns conducive to long term industrial activities In contrast Philippine state power derives from family networks that merge social and political power suited to fast moving short term commercial interests In focusing on this political and institutional story the author analyses the current development dilemmas of countries weighed down by historical legacies of unstable regimes dependency and social conflict and how they are likely to develop in the future
