Gender

Inequity and Poverty M.L. Narasaiah,2004 Around the world at least one woman in every three has been beaten coerced into sex or otherwise abused in her life time Most often the abuser is a member of her own family Increasingly gender based violence is recognised as a major public health concern and a violation of human rights Contents Sex and Gender Gender based Violence Do Men Matter New Horizons in Gender and Development One Battle after Another For a Fair Sharing of Time Safe Motherhood is a Human Rights Issue Action for Safe Motherhood What is Known About Reducing Maternal Mortality Women in Politics Fighting for Equality on All Fronts Equal Opportunities for Women in the Community Lightening the Load for Women Women and Poverty Women in Authority Promotion of Women Empowerment for Women Population Growth and Women s Role in India No Progress without a Secular Society On the Way to Commercial Microcredits

Measuring Population's Impact All Human Rights for All The Coming Water Crisis Using Economics to Advantage Law and Social Justice AIDS and the Responsibility of the Media Pollution for Export Human Rights The Road to Progress and Peace Energy Food for the Billions Food Production Taking Poverty to Heart Land Tenure Private or Socialistic Forestry? Matti Palo, Erkki Lehto, 2012-02-13 While deforestation continues at an alarming rate around the world discussions on the range of underlying causes continue The premise is that studying successful transitions from deforestation to sustainable forestry ex post in Finland can provide novel insights into how deforestation in the tropics might be reduced in the future Our fundamental question here is why Finland succeeded to stop deforestation for a century ago and why not the same is feasible in the contemporary tropical countries This book presents a novel integrated theory within which this case study on Finland and contemporary modeling of underlying causes of tropical deforestation are developed Finland remains the world's second largest net exporter of forest products while maintaining the highest forest cover in Europe A transition from deforestation to sustainable industrial forestry took place in Finland during the first part of the 20th century The underlying causes of this transition are compared via our theory with deforestation in 74 contemporary tropical countries Both appear similar and support our theory The interaction of public policies and market institutions has appeared to be critical during this transition The study's findings suggest that private forest ownership with a continuous increase in the real value of forests and alleviation of poverty under non corruptive conditions has been a necessary but not a sufficient condition for this transition In a parallel way public policies have also proved to be a necessary but not sufficient condition in this transition The conclusion is that socialistic forestry along with corruption is artificially maintaining too low values in the tropical forests The opportunity cost of sustainable forestry remains too high and deforestation by extensification of agriculture therefore continues The prevailing socialistic forestry with dominating public forest ownership is by purpose maintaining administratively set low stumpage prices leading to low value of forests wide corruption and continuous forest degradation and deforestation An effective remedy to raise the value of forests is found to be within forestry Bibliographie
