The Economics of UN Peacekeeping Nadège Sheehan, 2011-07-25 Peacekeeping is a security concept that is very representative of the current interventionism multilateralism human rights and humanitarian ideas UN peacekeeping plays an important role in international security and includes various activities that go beyond the original roles assigned to UN armed forces e.g. humanitarian aid election supervision disarmament mine clearance civilian protection and peacebuilding The problem is to define the economic efficiency of these operations and to develop some recommendations in the context of an economic globalization process Although UN peacekeeping has shortcomings it must be considered essential for organizing and defending the world politico economic order UN peacekeeping is a political activity but its production strongly depends on nations economic considerations Governments make political decisions that also take into account the economic gains they expect to obtain from their contribution to any specific mission With low means and inadequate strategies to meet the challenges UN peacekeeping must pay particular attention to resolving the problems of free riding and of prisoner's dilemma in contributions that delay deployments and create significant financial problems Understanding how peacekeeping can be most cost effectively carried out while considering the importance of legitimacy in interventions is essential This book believes that regional organizations can ease the UN's financial responsibility by managing conflicts in their regions But to be most effective they must involve the UN in their interventions This book also emphasizes UN peacekeeping trust funds as the key to better financial effectiveness It strongly recommends that NATO be empowered by the UN with the role of global peace police and proposes the establishment of a UN high ranking team of international specialists in peacekeeping issues This research should be of interest to students and researchers looking at international and political economics as well as international relations defence security and peace studies International Journal of Peace Economics and Peace Science Vol.1, No.2

Obstacles to Peacebuilding Graciana del Castillo, 2017-03-16 Combining the insights of a seasoned practitioner with the academic rigor of a meticulous policy and risk analyst del Castillo discusses the major obstacles to peacebuilding that need to be removed before war torn countries can move towards peace stability and prosperity As Secretary General António Guterres assumes leadership in January 2017 a top priority must be to address the bleak peacebuilding record where over half of the countries under UN watch relapse back into conflict within a decade While policy debate and the academic literature have focused on the security political and social aspects of the war to peace transition this book focuses on the economic transition that is economic reconstruction or the political economy of peace which in the author's view is the much neglected aspect of peacebuilding The book argues that rebuilding war torn states effectively has acquired a new sense of urgency since extremist groups increasingly recruit people by providing jobs and services to those deprived of them due to government and economic failures Based on past lessons and best practices of the last quarter of a century the author makes recommendations to move forward and improve the record It will be of great use to students and scholars of peacebuilding as well as policymakers in national governments donor countries and international organizations involved in peacebuilding statebuilding and development International Journal of Peace Economics and Peace Science, Vol. 1, No. 1 Chen Bo, Manas Chatterji, 2016-08-17 This journal has been discontinued Any issues are available to purchase separately Heterodox Economics of Military Spending Adem Yavuz Elveren, 2025-04-22 Covering Institutional Post Keynesian Marxist and Feminist perspectives Heterodox Economics of Military Spending provides a comprehensive analysis of the effect of military expenditures on the economy The impact of military spending on economic growth has always been a crucial issue for policymakers and academics There exists an extensive body of literature on how military spending affects macroeconomic variables including but not limited to economic growth profit rates income inequality gender inequality and employment Different schools of economic thought have proposed various theoretical approaches to investigate the role of military production in a capitalist economy While some of these approaches are competitive others complement each other Heterodox Economics of Military Spending is the first book to analyze the effects of military spending on various macroeconomic perspectives by considering all major alternative economic schools This book also contributes to the literature by introducing new theoretical models and empirical evidence with a special focus on its impact on economic growth This book will be of great interest to readers in defense and peace economics the history of economic thought Marxist economic theory feminist economics and pluralist approaches to economics Conflict and Peace-building Tony Addison, 2005 Economics of Peace Werner Distler, Elena B. Stavrevska, Birte Vogel, 2020-06-09 Looking beyond and beneath the macro level this book examines the processes and outcomes of the interaction of economic reforms and socio economic peacebuilding programmes with and international interventions in people's lived realities in conflict affected societies The contributions argue that disregarding socio economic aspects of peace and how they relate to the everyday leaves a vacuum in the understanding of the formation of post conflict economies To address this gap the book outlines and deploys the concept of post conflict economy formation This is a multifaceted phenomenon including both formal and informal processes that occur in the post conflict period and contribute to the introduction adjustment or abolition of economic practices institutions and rules that inform the transformation of the socio economic fabric of the society The contributions engage with existing statebuilding and peacebuilding debates while bringing in critical political economy perspectives Specifically they analyse processes of post conflict economy formation and the navigation between livelihood needs local translations of the liberal hegemonic order and different sparse manifestations of welfare states The book concludes that a sustainable peace requires the formation of peace economies economies that work towards reducing structural inequalities and grievances of the pre conflict period as well as addressing the livelihood concerns of citizens This book was originally published as a special issue of Civil Wars
