The Power of Genre Adena Rosmarin,1985 The Power of Genre was first published in 1986 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions The Power of Genre is a radical and systematic rethinking of the relationship between literary genre and critical explanation Adene Rosmarin shows how traditional theories of genre whether called historical intrinsic or theoretical are necessarily undone by their attempts to define genre representationally Rather Rosmarin argues the opening premise of critical argument is always critical purpose or as E H Gombrich has said function and the genre or form follows the reform The goal is a relational model that works Rosemarin analyzes existing theories of genre those of Hirsch Crane Frye Todorov Jauss and Rader are given particular attention before proposing her own These analyses uncover the illogic that plagues even sophisticated attempts to treat genre as a preexistent entity Rosmarin shows how defining genre pragmatically as explicitly chosen or devised to serve explicitly critical purposes solves this problem a pragmatic theory of genre builds analysis of its metaphors and motives into its program thereby eliminating theory s traditional need to deny the invented and rhetorical nature of its schemes A pragmatic theory however must be tested not only by its internal cohesion but also by its power to enable practice and Rosmarin chooses the dramatic monologue an infamously problematic genre and its recent relative the mask lyric as testing grounds Both genres variously exemplified by poems of Browning Thennyson Eliot and Pound are ex post facto critical constructs that when defined as such make closely reasoned sense not only of particular poems but also of their perplexed interpretive histories Moreover both genres dwell on the historicity textuality and redemptive imperfection of the speaking self This generic obsession ties the poems to their reception and finally to the openended processes of hermeneutic question and answer stressed in Rosmarin s framing theory
