Eyes Of The Skin Architecture And The Senses:

The Eyes of the Skin Juhani Pallasmaa, 2012-04-17 THE EYES OF THE SKIN First published in 1996 The Eyes of the Skin has become a classic of architectural theory It asks the far reaching question why when there are five senses has one single sense sight become so predominant in architectural culture and design With the ascendancy of the digital and the all pervasive use of the image electronically it is a subject that has become all the more pressing and topical since the first edition s publication in the mid 1990s Juhani Pallasmaa argues that the suppression of the other four sensory realms has led to the overall impoverishment of our built environment often diminishing the emphasis on the spatial experience of a building and architecture s ability to inspire engage and be wholly life enhancing For every student studying Pallasmaa s classic text for the first time The Eyes of the Skin is a revelation It compellingly provides a totally fresh insight into architectural culture This third edition meets readers desire for a further understanding of the context of Pallasmaa s thinking by providing a new essay by architectural author and educator Peter MacKeith This text combines both a biographical portrait of Pallasmaa and an outline of his architectural thinking its origins and its relationship to the wider context of Nordic and European thought past and present The focus of the essay is on the fundamental humanity insight and sensitivity of Pallasmaa s approach to architecture bringing him closer to the reader This is illustrated by Pallasmaa s sketches and photographs of his own work The new edition also provides a foreword by the internationally renowned architect Steven Holl and a revised introduction by Pallasmaa himself

The Eyes of the Skin Juhani Pallasmaa, 2024-03-11 THE EYES OF THE SKIN Explore the relationship between architecture and the sensory experience with the fourth edition of this groundbreaking work First published in 1996 The Eyes of the Skin is a classic of architectural theory It asks the far reaching question why when there are five senses is one single sense sight so predominant in architectural culture and design With the ascendancy of the digital and the all pervasive use of the image electronically the subject is all the more pressing and topical since the first edition s publication Juhani Pallasmaa argues that the suppression of the other four sensory realms has led to the overall impoverishment of our built environment often diminishing the emphasis on the spatial experience of a building and architecture s ability to inspire engage and be wholly life enhancing For a student reading this text for the first time The Eyes of the Skin is a revelation It provides a fresh compelling insight into architectural culture which continues to inspire more than a quarter century after its initial publication The fourth edition of The Eyes of the Skin also features The author s latest views on the emphasis of place unfocused perception and existential experience Updates and clarifications throughout to reinforce how our sense of self in the world remains our most important sense with the greatest architectural impact An updated Foreword that touches on the current understanding of the seminal importance of the existential sense The Eyes of the Skin is a must read for all architecture students who will find its insights transformative

The Eyes of the Skin Juhani Pallasmaa, 2012-05-14 THE EYES OF THE SKIN First published in 1996 The Eyes of the Skin has become a classic of architectural theory It asks the far

reaching question why when there are five senses has one single sense sight become so predominant in architectural culture and design With the ascendancy of the digital and the all pervasive use of the image electronically it is a subject that has become all the more pressing and topical since the first edition s publication in the mid 1990s Juhani Pallasmaa argues that the suppression of the other four sensory realms has led to the overall impoverishment of our built environment often diminishing the emphasis on the spatial experience of a building and architecture s ability to inspire engage and be wholly life enhancing For every student studying Pallasmaa s classic text for the first time The Eyes of the Skin is a revelation It compellingly provides a totally fresh insight into architectural culture This third edition meets readers desire for a further understanding of the context of Pallasmaa s thinking by providing a new essay by architectural author and educator Peter MacKeith This text combines both a biographical portrait of Pallasmaa and an outline of his architectural thinking its origins and its relationship to the wider context of Nordic and European thought past and present The focus of the essay is on the fundamental humanity insight and sensitivity of Pallasmaa s approach to architecture bringing him closer to the reader This is illustrated by Pallasmaa s sketches and photographs of his own work The new edition also provides a foreword by the internationally renowned architect Steven Holl and a revised introduction by Pallasmaa himself Parables for the Virtual Brian Massumi, 2002-04-09 A major theoretical rethinking of intellectual models of embodiment movement and sensation

Synesthesia and the Arts Dani Cavallaro, 2013-10-16 This study explores the relationship between synesthesia the experience of a sensation in one perceptual domain triggering a sensation in another perceptual domain and the arts including painting photography music and literature Its aim is twofold to introduce readers as yet unfamiliar with synesthesia to this intriguing phenomenon by focusing on its impact on the creation and reception of art and to alert readers already conversant with synesthesia in its many manifestations to its potential to encourage fresh ways of approaching art of understanding the part played by our bodies in its production and receipt and by extension of reassessing our position in nature as humans

The Architect's Brain Harry Francis Mallgrave, 2009-12-21 The Architect s Brain Neuroscience Creativity and Architecture is the first book to consider the relationship between the neurosciences and architecture offering a compelling and provocative study in the field of architectural theory Explores various moments of architectural thought over the last 500 years as a cognitive manifestation of philosophical psychological and physiological theory Looks at architectural thought through the lens of the remarkable insights of contemporary neuroscience particularly as they have advanced within the last decade Demonstrates the neurological justification for some very timeless architectural ideas from the multisensory nature of the architectural experience to the essential relationship of ambiguity and metaphor to creative thinking

Nonhuman Photography Joanna Zylińska, 2024-07-02 A new philosophy of photography that goes beyond humanist concepts to consider imaging practices from which the human is absent as both subject and agent Today in the age of CCTV drones medical body scans and satellite images photography is increasingly decoupled from human agency and human vision In Nonhuman Photography Joanna Zyliniska offers a new philosophy of photography going beyond the human centric view to consider imaging practices from which the human is absent Zyliniska argues further that even those images produced by humans whether artists or amateurs entail a nonhuman mechanical element that is they involve the execution of technical and cultural algorithms that shape our image making devices as well as our viewing practices At the same time she notes photography is increasingly mobilized to document the precariousness of the human habitat and tasked with helping us imagine a better tomorrow With its conjoined human nonhuman agency and vision Zyliniska claims photography functions as both a form of control and a life shaping force Zyliniska explores the potential of photography for developing new modes of seeing and imagining and presents images from her own photographic project Active Perceptual Systems She also examines the challenges posed by digitization to established notions of art culture and the media In connecting biological extinction and technical obsolescence and discussing the parallels between photography and fossilization she proposes to understand photography as a light induced process of fossilization across media and across time scales

Time and Space Maria do Rosário Monteiro, Mário S. Ming Kong, Maria João Pereira Neto, 2023-11-09 The texts presented in Proportion Harmonies and Identities PHI Time and Space were compiled to establish a multidisciplinary platform for presenting interacting and disseminating research It also aims to foster awareness and discussion on Time and Space focusing on different visions relevant to Architecture Arts and Humanities Design and Social Sciences and its importance and benefits for the sense of identity both individual and communal The idea of Time and Space has been a powerful motor for development since the Western Early Modern Age Its theoretical and practical foundations have become the working tools of scientists philosophers and artists who seek strategies and policies to accelerate the development process in different contexts

The senses in interior design John Potvin, Marie-Ève Marchand, Benoit Beaulieu, 2023-09-05 The senses in interior design examines how sight touch smell hearing and taste have been mobilised within various forms of interiors The chapters explore how the body navigates and negotiates the realities of designed interiors and challenge the traditional focus on star designers or ideal interiors that have left sensorial agency at the margins of design history From the sensually gendered role of the fireplace in late sixteenth century Italy to the synaesthetic d cors of Comte Robert de Montesquiou and the sensorial stimuli of Aesop stores each chapter brings a new perspective on the central role that the senses have played in the conception experiences and uses of interiors

Architectural Science and the Sun Dason Whitsett, Matt Fajkus, 2018-04-17 Architectural Science and the Sun synthesizes physics climate program and perception to provide a foundation in the principles of architectural science related to the sun solar geometry solar analysis and design techniques passive design principles and daylighting Part analytical handbook part inspiration source for schematic design the content comprises a critical component of effective sustainable design Beyond the purely technical aspects of these topics Architectural Science and the Sun begins with the premise that great architecture goes beyond energy performance and the visual aesthetic to engage all of the senses Given that the stimuli to which our senses respond are physical phenomena such as light heat and sound the designer must manipulate these parameters through the craft of building form and technology to create the desired qualitative experience This book is designed to help the reader develop that skill Making Sense of Contemporary British Muslim Novels

Claire Chambers,2019-04-23 This book is the sequel to Britain Through Muslim Eyes and examines contemporary novelistic representations of and by Muslims in Britain It builds on studies of the five senses and sensuous geographies of postcolonial Britain and charts the development since 1988 of a fascinating and important body of fiction by Muslim identified authors It is a selective literary history exploring case study novelistic representations of and by Muslims in Britain to allow in depth critical analysis through the lens of sensory criticism It argues that for authors of Muslim heritage in Britain writing the senses is often a double edged act of protest Some of the key authors excoriate a suppression or cover up of non heteronormativity and women s rights that sometimes occurs in Muslim communities Yet their protest is especially directed at secular culture s ocularcentrism and at successive British governments efforts to surveil control and suppress Muslim bodies The Routledge Handbook of the Senses in the Ancient Near East Kiersten Neumann,Allison Thomason,2021-09-30
