from future interviews It is notable that there is minimal to no instruction or training currently offered to those individuals most often tasked with interviewing an eyewitness about a crime as part of criminal investigations Despite the lack of training and certification we allow interviewers to conduct questioning in the face of well established research as to the malleability of human memory The assumption is that officials trained in the rules of evidence will innately ask the right questions and in the proper manner without the proper understanding of the fragility of human memory or the proper training That assumption is false and the reality is quite the opposite In fact we learn of cases commonplace in the media that frequently involve questionable interview tactics misidentifications and wrongful convictions of innocent people The Mindful Interview Method uses cognitive research to inform the methods and principles for a mindful approach to gathering only the information the subject remembers This is the best way to use evidence based lines of questioning to perform interviews that elicit the most reliable accounts and information for investigative purposes Considering current reforms on best practices throughout the criminal justice system the book provides a path forward for professional interviewers to adopt interview methodologies that guide the practitioner to question anyone in a mindful manner

Threads of Time Mugo Theuri, 2023-05-29 Mugo Theuri was plucked from his reporting job at the lawcourts in Nakuru after barely three months in post and driven to Nairobi for what would turn out to be 49 days of torture in the infamous Nyayo House Jailed for four years he joined the Liberation University the study group in prison and emerged a much more thoughtful and reflective man He uses personal memoir to thread his personal experiences into the historical events in the country and the world His experience with the courts and his attempt to get justice for his wrongful imprisonment enable him to reflect on the justice system just as his average scholarship give him clarity of how the country's systems and policies discriminate against the poor and frustrate the right to justice and education The candour with which Threads of Time is rendered allows the reader into the writer's personal crisis in struggling to reconcile his father's public role as headman during the Mau Mau war of independence in a context where most of his family were guerrillas in the forest as well as his relationship with religion eighteenth century to the present recasts the ocean as social space with particular reference to visual representations Part I focuses on mappings and crossings showing how the ocean may function as a liminal space between places and cultures but also connects and imbricates them Part II considers ships as microcosmic societies shaped for example by the purpose of the voyage the mores of shipboard life and cross cultural encounters Part III analyses narratives accreted to wrecks and rafts what has sunk or floats perilously and discusses attempts to recuperate plastic flotsam Part IV plumbs ocean depths to consider how underwater creatures have been depicted in relation to emergent disciplines of natural history and museology how mermaids have been reimagined as a metaphor of feminist transformation and how the symbolism of coral is deployed by contemporary artists This engaging and erudite volume will interest a range of scholars in humanities and social sciences including art and cultural historians cultural geographers and historians of empire travel and tourism National
