Fashion victim Amina Akhtar, 2019 Moulding the Female Body in Victorian Fairy Tales and Sensation Novels Laurence Talairach-Vielmas, 2016-04-15 Laurence Talairach Vielmas explores Victorian representations of femininity in narratives that depart from mainstream realism from fairy tales by George MacDonald Lewis Carroll Christina Rossetti Juliana Horatia Ewing and Jean Ingelow to sensation novels by Wilkie Collins Mary Elizabeth Braddon Rhoda Broughton and Charles Dickens Feminine representation Talairach Vielmas argues is actually presented in a hyper realistic way in such anti realistic genres as children s literature and sensation fiction In fact it is precisely the clash between fantasy and reality that enables the narratives to interrogate the real and re create a new type of realism that exposes the normative constraints imposed to contain the female body In her exploration of the female body and its representations Talairach Vielmas examines how Victorian fantasies and sensation novels deconstruct and reconstruct femininity she focuses in particular on the links between the female characters and consumerism and shows how these serve to illuminate the tensions underlying the representation of the Victorian ideal

The Global Soul Pico Iyer, 2011-08-31 Pico Iyer has for many years described with keen perception and exacting wit the shifting textures of faraway lands anchored on a spinning globe that mixes and matches East and West Now he casts a philosophical eye upon this curious state of floatingness In the transnational village that our world has become travel and technology fuel each other and us As Iyer points out everywhere is so made up of everywhere else and our very souls have been put into circulation Yet even global beings need a home Using his own multicultural upbringing Indian American British as a point of departure Iyer sets out on a quest both physical and psychological to find what remains constant in a world gone mobile He begins in Los Angeles International Airport where town life shops services sociability is available without a town and in Hong Kong where people actually live in self contained hotels He moves on to Toronto which has been given new life and a new literature by its immigrant population and to Atlanta where the Olympic Village inadvertently commemorates the corporate universalism that is the Olympics secret face And finally he returns to England where the effects of empire as global village are still being sorted out and to Japan where in the midst of alien surfaces Iyer unexpectedly finds a home As a guide to far flung places Pico Iyer can hardly be surpassed The New Yorker has written In The Global Soul he extends the meaning of far flung to places within and all around us
